

Ford nominates Rockefeller for vice president, 'teammate'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today nominated Nelson A. Rockefeller to be vice president, saying the former New York governor will "make a great teammate."

The choice is subject to congressional approval, a virtual certainty.

Rockefeller said he was deeply honored at the call to serve Ford and "through him all the people of this great country."

Ford said he was confident Rockefeller will be approved by the required majorities in the House and Senate. "I wouldn't have picked someone who wouldn't be," the President said.

Ford presented Rockefeller in a nationally televised, Oval Office ceremony. Then he took his chosen partner to the White House press room, where Rockefeller, answering questions, said he assumes Ford will be a candidate for election to the presidency in 1976.

Rockefeller, 66, said he had not discussed the political future with Ford. Asked who he thought would be on the ticket with Ford in 1976, Rockefeller replied, "You're way down the road ahead of me."

Formally announcing the nomination, Ford said Rockefeller will be "a good partner for me and I think a good partner for our country and the world."

Then, in the press room, he added, "I think he'll make a great teammate. I think he will be good for the country. I think he'll be good for the world and I'm looking forward to working with him."

At his brief news conference, Rockefeller, a member of one of the nation's wealthiest families, fended off questions about his personal finances, but said he will make whatever disclosures are required in the congressional confirmation process.

He refused to divulge his net worth at the news conference, bluntly telling questioners "You're not the committee of Congress."

"I will do two things," he said. "I will conform totally with whatever the law requires and I will answer any questions members of Congress feel appropriate."

As for his vast holdings, he said he assumed they would be placed in trust.

Ford said the selection was "a tough call." Rockefeller said the President first contacted him directly Saturday — the day the White House dismissed published allegations that Rockefeller money had financed efforts to disrupt the 1972 Democratic national convention.

Rockefeller said Ford told him Monday night that he was the choice for vice president.

From the time Richard M. Nixon resigned on Aug. 9, Rockefeller had been rated a prime prospect in vice presidential speculation.

His name and that of Republican National Chairman George Bush dominated the 11-day guessing game. Ford managed to keep his secret until the formal announcement.

Bush said the choice of Rockefeller was outstanding, that one couldn't find a man of more stature and who possesses more administrative ability.

As they left the White House after the announcement, congressional leaders of both parties indicated they anticipate Rockefeller's confirmation.

House Speaker Carl Albert hailed Rockefeller as "one of the most experienced and capable men in the country" and said, "I think that Gov. Rockefeller will be confirmed."

Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, a member of the Senate Rules Committee which will consider the nomination, said, "I think he'll be confirmed without any delay."

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said he hoped Rockefeller could be confirmed in 35 to 40 days rather than the 55 days it took for Ford's confirmation.

Following the question and answer session with reporters, Rockefeller was to fly to Maine to continue his vacation, going first to Bar Harbor and then to Seal Harbor.

Rockefeller at Ford's side in the Oval Office of the President said he came to the job in "very serious times," requiring the closest cooperation between Congress and the White House.

They also require the dedication of every American to our common national interest, Rockefeller said. He said Ford's dedication and openness already have reawakened faith and hope in America.

Rockefeller said Americans have the will, determination and ability to overcome the hard realities of our times.

"I'm optimistic about the long term future," Rockefeller said.

With that, congressional leaders and the Cabinet assembled for the nationally televised announcement applauded the new vice president designate.

Ford said he made the choice "after a great deal of soul searching" after considering the advice of members of

Ford offers leniency to war draft evaders

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's surprise offer of leniency to Vietnam era war evaders has muted congressional critics of any form of amnesty and opened a new debate on the degree of forgiveness the nation should extend.

Many congressional leaders agree with Ford that blanket immunity is not an appropriate remedy.

But many said that some form of conditional amnesty, probably alternative civilian service, is needed to end the voluntary exile of thousands of young men.

In a major shift in policy from the past two administrations, Ford told the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago on Monday that his administration proposes a policy of "earned re-entry."

"So I am throwing the weight of my presidency into the scales of justice on the side of leniency," Ford said. "I reject amnesty, and I reject revenge."

"In my judgment, these young Americans should have a second chance to contribute their fair share to the rebuilding of peace among ourselves."

Ford said he had ordered Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger to begin a case-by-case review of 50,000 men convicted, charged or sought for draft evasion or desertion.

A Justice Department spokesman said the department is "seeking a meeting as early as possible with Department of Defense and Selective Service officials" to examine ways to accomplish the objective Ford announced.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who has favored complete amnesty for those who opposed the war as a matter of conscience, called Ford's initiative "a fresh breeze from the White House."

"He's opening the door," said assistant Senate Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

"I think it's a courageous and appropriate move, reflecting the earnest desire of this President to bring the country together and heal the wounds."

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said an approach to conditional amnesty is one of the measures he has urged on the White House as a "means of loosening up the tensions in the country."

Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said, "I think it was a very right thing to do. It was both humane and practical and a perfectly sound approach."

Spokesman for resisters takes dim view of offer

TORONTO, Ont. (AP) — Representatives of American draft evaders and deserters living in Canada have responded coolly to President Ford's offer of earned re-entry for the exiles.

The President's offer was "no way to establish a reconciliation," said Gerry Condon, 27, a deserter from the Green Berets and managing editor of the war resisters' magazine Amex Canada.

Many people want to go back very badly, including myself, but we don't want to go back under conditions like this," he said.

Ford told the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago on Monday that he would "throw the weight of my presidency into the scales of justice on the side of leniency."

In a major policy shift from the Nixon administration, Ford proposed a program of earned re-entry presumably some form of public service in lieu of prosecution for the estimated 50,000 exiles.

But the president stressed that he rejected blanket amnesty.

"I reject amnesty and I reject revenge," he said.

Condon said the president had taken "a very tough stand." It's just asking for another pound of flesh from people who resisted a war they felt was illegal and immoral.

He estimated 25,000 Vietnam exiles are living in Canada.

D. E. Charles Knight, 28, a member of the U.S. National Council for Universal and Unconditional Amnesty, said Ford's position was "what we refused in January, 1972."

It's a far more sophisticated position than that held by Richard Nixon, but it is no less conservative and it won't be of interest to many war resisters in Canada. Knight said.

Warrants issued in envoy slaying

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warrants were issued in Nicosia today for the arrest of three persons in connection with the slaying of the U.S. ambassador to Cyprus, Roger P. Davies.

Davies was killed during an anti-American riot at the embassy in Nicosia on Monday, and Greek, Turkish and Cypriot leaders expressed shock and abhorrence over the slaying.

The names of the three suspects and further details of the police investigation into the riot were not disclosed in an official Greek Cypriot government statement, announcing the issue of the warrants.

U.S. sources in Nicosia said the embassy might be closed temporarily, and an official said unessential files were being burned "to make the job quicker if we decide to go."

But there was no indication from the State Department in Washington of any such action. Lindsay Grant, the embassy's second in command, was flown from a vacation in Scotland to replace Davies.

There were these other developments:

in the Cyprus situation

—The British government in London announced it began a new initiative toward resuming Cyprus peace talks by sounding out the possibilities for compromise with Cyprus President Glafcos Clerides. It said similar diplomatic contacts were planned with Foreign Ministers George Mavros of Greece and Turan Guner of Turkey and Rauf Denktaş, the Turkish Cypriot vice president of Cyprus.

—A Greek air force source in Athens said France has flown 44 Mirage jets to Greece for the Greek air force in addition to military equipment already shipped to Greece in the past month. But a spokesman for the French Embassy in Athens denied the planes were shipped.

—The civilian government in Greece increased its authority over the military by firing the commander in chief of the armed forces and his eight top officers and replacing them with foes of the ousted military junta.

—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Turkey had expressed will

Rocky optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a text of the statement made by former New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller after President Ford announced his nomination as vice president today.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and leaders of the Congress, Mr. Secretary of State and members of the Cabinet and friends: Mr. President, your nomination of me to be vice president of the United States under the 25th Amendment of the Constitution makes me very humble.

If I am confirmed it will be my great honor to serve you and through you to serve all the people of this great country. As you pointed out in your moving message to the Congress, these are very serious times. They are times as you pointed out that require the closest cooperation between the Congress of the United States and the executive branch of government. They also require the dedication of every American to our common national interest.

You, Mr. President, through your dedication and your openness, have already reawakened faith and hope, and under your leadership we the people and we as a nation have the will and the determination and the capability to overcome the hard realities of our time. I'm optimistic about the long term future. Thank you.

Approval for economic monitoring agency goes to conference committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both the House and Senate have passed a bill embodying President Ford's first big legislative request — authority to set up an agency to monitor price and wage hikes.

The House on Monday cleared the measure, 379 to 23, and the Senate followed suit a few hours later, 83 to 3.

The two houses now must hold a conference to reconcile the relatively minor differences.

Sen. John F. Sparkman, D-Ala., Senate manager of the bill, said he was sure a compromise version would be sent to the President before Congress leaves on a late summer recess at the end of the week.

The legislation contains no powers to re-invoke price and wage controls.

Some Democrats said they doubted strongly whether the bill would do anything effective about controlling inflation.

But Sparkman argued that Congress should honor Ford's request and at least let him give the monitoring agency a try.

In the Senate, several Democrats tried to beat up the measure with an amendment giving the President powers to delay price or wage increases for up to 90 days. This proposal was defeated 50 to 34.

The agency would be called a Council on Wage and Price Stability under the Senate measure while the House version would name it the Cost of Living Task Force.

It would be set up in the White House.

with eight members and four advisers all named by Ford.

The agency would conduct public hearings on inflationary problems, receive reports on prices, wages, profits, costs and sales, focus attention on the need to increase productivity, seek to improve collective bargaining, and encourage price restraint and analyze demand and supply in various sectors of the economy.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., tried to add to the Senate bill a rider directing Ford to make cuts of up to $10 billion in the current fiscal year's $805 billion budget submitted by former President Richard M. Nixon.

He conceded it would be hard to do this but declared the "raging inflation" demanded nothing less.

However, several senators strongly opposed the proposal, declaring it would encourage presidential impoundments and let Ford set spending priorities.

The amendment was beaten 58 to 28. Ford spoke out on the inflation issue in a speech to the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago on Monday, declaring, "I will not hesitate to use the veto to control inflationary excesses."

He referred in the speech to a bill in increasing veterans' educational benefits 23 per cent, saying he approved education for veterans but then adding, "Your government is constrained by another consideration: we are all soldiers in a war against brutal inflation."

U.S. waiting British initiative in Cyprus crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is trying to smooth its relations with Greece while awaiting an undisclosed British initiative for setting up new Cyprus peace talks.

Britain, a guarantor of the 1960 treaty establishing the island's independence, is expected to sound out the Greek and Turkish Cypriots before enlisting U.S. aid and reviving the Geneva conference.

Knowledgeable U.S. officials believe Britain is likely to try to work out some preference agreements so that when the parties, including Greece and Turkey, return to the negotiating table there are reasonable prospects of success. A breakdown in Geneva preceded the onslaught by Turkish forces that led to their control of about 40 per cent of Cyprus.

In a gesture to Athens, which strongly suspects Washington of having tilted toward Turkey, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told a news conference on Monday that "upon calmer reflection the responsible Greek leaders will recognize that the United States has shown deep sympathy for the Greek government."

Kissinger added "we welcome the present democratic government in Greece" and any negotiated settlement must be "consistent with the dignity and honor of all of the parties."

He said the first imperative at this point is to "get the parties to the conference table."

Kissinger spoke of a British initiative in this regard, but other officials here said the details of the British approach were not yet clear.

"It has been the subject of confidential discussions over the weekend," the secretary said.

Kissinger said he has received assurances from Premier Bulent Ecevit that Turkey is willing to negotiate a pull back from positions it holds on Cyprus and that it would reduce its forces.

"We believe it will be necessary for Turkey, as the stronger power on the ground, to display flexibility and a concern for Greek sensibilities," Kissinger said.

Chairman Benjamin S. Rosenthal of the House Europe subcommittee said he will move to suspend all $242 million in U.S. aid to Turkey despite her pledge to negotiate.

"I just want to keep the pressure on. We've been through this before," the New York Democrat said.

Rosenthal announced his intention of trying to cut off the aid during a subcommittee hearing at which the American policy on Cyprus came under heavy fire.

"I think American policy was severely tilted in favor of Turkey," said Rep. Paul S. Sarbanes, D-Md.

Testifying at the hearing, Asst. Secretary of State Arthur A. Hartman blamed the Cyprus flareup on "stupidities" of the Greek military junta for upsetting Cyprus' stability last month.

He contended the ensuing Turkish military invasion could not have been stopped with anything short of U.S. armed force.

Return of wise men to the White House

WASHINGTON — Dr. Arthur Burns, relied on for economic advice by President Ford during his first week in office, in three confidential Oval Office hats has painted a bleakly realistic picture not faintly resembling the soothing fantasies of administration hollyannas. Burns, independent of the administration as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, has minced no words with the new President. He warned that this country is moving toward financial collapse. Ford can prevent calamity, he said, but may have no more than 60 days in which to act. Such Hunt talk breaks what one administration policymaker derisively calls "the good news syndrome" — high government officials disguising a worsening economic malaise with deceptively rosy statements to both the public and the President. Even with Richard M. Nixon gone, the syndrome persists with budget director Roy Ash and, to a lesser extent, Treasury Secretary William Simon talking about sunlight around the corner, some five or six months ahead.

With his Cassandra prophecies un- welcome to a Watergate-obsessed President, Burns got nowhere near the Oval Office during Nixon's last year. It is, then, highly significant and reassuring that Ford has given so much time in these crowded transition days to Burns's bad news. "The most positive thing to come out of Washington during the first week was the relationship between Ford and Burns," one astute Wall Street observer told us.

Burns has long preached reduced federal spending and fervently supports Ford's promise of a balanced budget as the essential anti-inflationary weapon. But he privately conceded last week the difficulty in achieving the immediate $10 billion cut he has proposed. Thus, Burns realizes that budget-cutting is not enough and is pushing new economic proposals — many of them contradicting dogmatic administration officials.

Proposals Burns would like Ford to embrace include business tax incentives to increase industrial capacity, fighting inflation by increasing supply and satisfying demand. Those economic analysts who view Burns as an economic stand-patter with a bias against capital investment are simply unfamiliar with his current thinking.

Beyond budget-cutting and tax incentives, Burns inclines toward schemes sure to be opposed by free enterprise stalwarts inside the administration. One is government rationing of credit. Another is a revived Cost of Living Council with the power to subpoena evidence and actually defer price and wage increases.

The Burns package, in sum, is a sharp departure from what had been the Nixon administration's intention to practice the "old-time religion" — keeping hands off the economy and cutting the budget while playing pollyanna. Moreover, besides drawing fire from the free enterprise dogmatists, it will be attacked by liberals and organized labor because of tax advantages for corporate business. Indeed, Ford would have no chance to sell such tax incentives to the heavily Democratic Congress were it not for expected help from a figure who was the hair-shirt for the previous two Presidents: Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. Though his power and prestige have declined a bit, Mills remains the single most formidable ally or antagonist a president could have in Congress.

Burns and Mills have slowly and quietly built a personal alliance, with late afternoon meetings in Mills's private retreat on the second floor of the Capitol. They are in essential agreement on what must be done. Thus, if the President accepts Burns's proposals, he has a running start at getting Mills's help.

What's more, Ford can become the first President since John F. Kennedy to establish a close working relationship with Mills. When Mills last winter wanted to discreetly advise Nixon to file amended personal tax returns, he sought out the administration official he trusted most: His old House colleague, Vice President Ford.

Police & fire beat

Thomas Mauthe, 21, 919 W. Spring St., was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of head cuts and bruises sustained in a single-car accident in the 300 block of E. Washington Street about 2:10 p.m. Sunday.

He was riding in the car driven by Steven E. Heckert, 21, 708 N. Meade St., which police said was making a turn from Drew Street onto Washington when the rear spring flew out from the vehicle. The car went out of control, left the pavement and struck a telephone pole.

The new President and Mills have not yet conferred personally, and their only telephone conversation was concerned solely with health insurance legislation. But they will meet soon and under unusual circumstances which will demonstrate that Ford puts Mills in a very special category and will go out of his way to enlist him as an ally.

The renewed eminence of wise men Burns and Mills is a sign of the sudden change in Washington. Barred from the Oval Office by the Haldeman-Ehrlichman coup in the spring of 1969, Burns was still being ignored as of Aug. 8. Mills was not only ignored but until the end was the target of clandestine smears from the Nixon White House. That their wisdom and talent are being sought by President Ford is reason for hope despite the grim economic prognosis.

Police & fire beat

Two Black Creek area youths were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital after sustaining injuries in a single-car crash on County Trunk PP in the Town of Black Creek about 1:15 a.m. Sunday.

The driver, Clifford W. Wichman, 18, route 2, was treated for shoulder and leg injuries and released, while Kevin J. Pasch, 15, 1010 N. Main St., was treated for a concussion, neck strain and leg cut. He was listed in fair condition.

Police said Wichman was southbound on PP when he reached down for a radio, lost control of the vehicle and entered a ditch. The car hit a private driveway and traveled almost 350 feet before coming to a stop.

SHIOCTON — Michael J. Young, 18, route 2, Bear Creek, was taken to New London Community Hospital after he complained of arm pains from a single-car accident at County Trunk M and State 76 about 12:15 a.m. Sunday.

Police said he apparently fell asleep and awoke just as the car approached the T intersection. He braked the car into a skid across the intersection and into a ditch embankment.

KAUKAUNA — An Appleton man escaped serious injury, but his car was gutted by fire, after the vehicle left County Trunk ZZ east of the city about 10:15 p.m. Sunday.

Michael F. Pleshek, 25, 1209 N. Clark St., was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital for examination after he complained of chest pains.

Police said Pleshek's auto left the roadway on a curve, traveled nearly 280 feet in a ditch and struck a wooden fence. The car then burst into flames.

A car was extensively damaged by fire at the intersection of Alice and Union streets about 11:45 a.m. Sunday.

Firemen said the blaze apparently spread from engine wiring through a fire wall up into the dash panel. Some paint was burned from the hood of the car, owned by James Utpahal, route 2, Menasha.

Incontinency, aging not inevitable pairing

Dear Dr. Thosteson I am going on 64, and while my health is good and I try to preserve it, I am worrying about the fact that old people lose control of their kidneys and bowels.

Is this inevitable? Are there things I can begin doing now to delay or prevent this?

It happened to my mother when she was about 77 and is one of the most distressful things I know about old age. — Mrs. A. T.

You are in error — I'm happy to tell you. Such incontinency is not a "fact of old age."

You had the experience with your mother, I can hardly deny that it has been a distressing problem in nursing homes and elsewhere, but it is most decidedly not an inevitable event that comes with age. I could cite any number of people in their 80s and 90s to prove the point.

When the problem arises, it is usually associated with some other disorder — a stroke, certain neurologic diseases, prostate problems, a "fallen bladder" which might better have been repaired surgically in earlier years.

In some instances there may be nothing you can do now to forestall such troubles, but there are more situations in which something can be done. For men, attention to prostate trouble if it begins to evidence itself, for women, surgical repair of cystocele and rectocele if they are present, for either sex, control of high blood pressure which can cause strokes. Even today too many people aren't aware that their blood pressure is above normal because they haven't had it checked.

Dear Dr. Thosteson Will you please tell me in plain English what pyelonephritis is? — S. A. M.

Sure. It means infection in the kidneys and the pelvis of the kidneys (the pelvis being a sort of collecting chamber). It's usually a stubborn sort of infection and not to be trifled with. When you think you have the infection under control, that's when you should not get overconfident. Keep on with treatment after you think you have it whipped, otherwise it has an ornery capability of flaring up again.

That's the plainest language I can think of. Meantime, if you want more detail on the kidneys and how to treat them, I suggest my booklet, "Your Kidneys Facts You Need to Know." Send me, in care of The Post-Crescent, 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy of the booklet.

Lest I sound unduly flippant, I want to emphasize it. Kidney infection is a stubborn ailment, and not to be taken lightly.

Dear Dr. Thosteson Is there anything beneficial from using a rocking chair other than the relaxation derived? I recall President Kennedy used one, and I wondered if for a special reason. — T. Y.

I don't know that the President had any special reason except that he liked it.

Physically, there's probably some small benefit. You usually keep rocking and the gentle muscular action would benefit circulation a bit. But the main thing you gain is the relaxation. That's not to be sneezed at, as any doctor will tell you after he's spent years seeing patients who were nervously tense.

Dear Dr. Thosteson Are water beds safe to sleep on? I have heard that some people get arthritis from sleeping on the water. — Mrs. W. M.

That's another of the silly rumors about water beds. No, they don't cause arthritis.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Thosteson in care of The Post-Crescent for his booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents. Allow four to six weeks for delivery.

Quiz yourself to business success

If you go into business for yourself in this nightmare year of 1974, you'll be up against a murderous combination of economic minuses, a deliberately tight, rough squeeze on credit, historically high interest rates, roaring inflation, widespread business sluggishness, deeply depressed stock and bond prices, spreading consumer queasiness, unprecedented political upheaval and overall unease. Even now, the odds have risen to nearly 6 out of 10 that your business won't survive five years and the odds are still climbing. To phrase it with what I trust you will approve as commendable restraint, you're choosing a helluva time to gamble your nestegg.

Yet, if you really know your business and want to be on your own, if you know the proper steps to take in advance to avoid the obvious pitfalls and if you take them, you have an excellent chance of success. The following common-sense quiz which I have put together from various sources—including the Small Business Administration, the American Management Assn., several trade associations—will guide you to the rules. Answer the questions honestly and, by this alone, you'll be taking giant steps toward discovering whether or not you are ready to go ahead.

Q. Do you know precisely how much money you will need to borrow to get your business started properly and have you figured out to the penny how to put it?

Q. In this tight money pinch, are you fully aware of your credit position from every angle? Have you checked whether and how much credit you can get from financial and other institutions with which you have formed relationships?

Q. Have you surveyed the people you will be buying from to find out whether and how much credit you can get from them at the start? Have you checked your own estimates about how much it costs to start up your business with these hard-headed businessmen?

Advertising and promotion

Q. Have you budgeted ample sums for start-up advertising and promotion costs, for purchasing inventories, for extending credit to your own customers? Is your credit setup honestly ample to carry you through the first, most vulnerable years?

Q. How thoroughly do you know the business you're planning? Have you guarded yourself against overestimating yourself? Have you well-rounded experience in selling, purchasing, producing or whatever is necessary—or are you sure you can obtain the personnel to fill in your gaps at prices you can afford to pay?

Q. Are you prepared to work long hours, perhaps seven days a week at the beginning, without even knowing whether you'll end up with a profit, and if a profit, how much? Will your family cooperate or be a drawback? Have you made an intelligent, well-based decision on whether you should go it alone, take in a partner or incorporate your venture?

Q. Can you live on less than the net income you have authoritatively estimated you can expect from this venture each year, so you can plow back some of the money into expansion?

Q. Do you know how businesses like yours are faring in the area you have chosen and in general? Do the sort of customers you need live in the area and have you checked whether they could or would patronize you?

Lawyer, accountant

Q. Have you a competent lawyer, a competent accountant and a sympathetic banker? Have you investigated with each of them all the legal and financial aspects of your plans—including local zoning and licensing rules covering the type and size of your business?

Q. If you are buying an existing business, have you studied the "Business Opportunities" section of your local newspaper to compare the prices asked for businesses in the field that interests you with the price you're being asked you with the price you're being asked know the real reason the owner is selling?

Q. Have you made plans—in advance—for timing any introduction of new products or services?

Q. Finally, do you understand fully the tough implications of that "murderous combination" of minuses at the start of this column? And what the odds "6 out of 10 against you" mean to you?

Every answer to these questions should be a yes. And even if you are a good risk, write for the Small Business Administration's pamphlet, "Checklist for Going into Business," free, from

Police & fire beat

Michael H. Bos, 5513 N. Lynndale Drive, told police someone took more than $190 and six tapes from his car while it was parked late Saturday in the 1600 block of N. Richmond Street.

Damage and losses were estimated at more than $100 after a weekend break-in at the Diana Kalista residence, 834 W. Lawrence St.

Police said someone took a diamond ring and a high school class ring, ransacked a hope chest, chopped a table tennis board with an ax and sprayed a chemical on the clothes washer and dryer.

Sally Deeg, 1500 E. Longview Drive, told police someone stole her 1961 Buick from a lot at 700 W. College Ave. late Sunday or early Monday.

Two sought in robbery attempt

Calumet County authorities are continuing the investigation of a reported attempted armed robbery late Monday morning at the home of Harold Dutcher, route 4, Appleton.

An unidentified member of the family reportedly fired a .22 caliber pistol at the getaway car, then telephoned police. Police would not release the name of the person.

The county police alerted other law enforcement agencies to be on the lookout for two subjects driving in a black-and-red Chevrolet with California license plates. They were reported to be heading toward Appleton immediately after the incident.

Sought are two young subjects in connection with the complaint. They were said to be wearing nylon stockings over their heads at the time of the 11 a.m. incident.

Stringent building code set for day care centers

Post-Crescent Madison bureau

MADISON — Building standards for child day care centers in Wisconsin will apply only to facilities seeking their first licenses and not to day care centers already in operation or seeking re-licensing, a spokesman for the Department of Health and Social Services said Monday.

Commissioners of the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations (DILHR) have approved a set of standards that are generally more stringent than rules now being followed by day care facilities.

But Jenny Lind of the Health and Social Services Division of Family Services said centers applying for re-licensing will have to meet only standards applied to them at the time of their original licensing.

"Of course, we hope that all day care centers will take a very close look at the facility they are using," Lind said. "We think that many will want to improve their fire and safety provisions."

The standards adopted by the commissioners vary from the proposed rules that became the topic of public hearings held around the state earlier this year, one such hearing being held at Green Bay.

For example, DILHR officials relaxed their demands that the day care centers have fire alarm systems connected to the interior wiring. The approved standards allow centers to meet federal guidelines and have external or portable systems.

The new rules are also relaxed to let centers occupy church basements. The only restriction offered by the rules is that children under 2½ remain on the first floor or on ground floors with two exits at grade level.

With the adoption of the new standards, expected to take effect with their publication in October, presently operating day care centers will be allowed to put infants on any floor while the new centers will be restricted to the first floor or, possibly the basement.

In the past, day care centers have been required to meet either the state's apartment building code, or school building code, depending upon the location of the facility.

Meeting on mobile home problems slated

Kaukauna elementary classes start Aug. 27

KAUKAUNA — Public elementary school classes are scheduled to begin the morning of Aug. 27, with hot lunch being offered for the opening day, according to director of elementary education Henry J. Drechsler.

Hot lunch prices for students from first through eighth grade this year will be 50 cents per day or $2.25 per week.

Parents of kindergarten children will be notified this week to what section of classes their children have been assigned, and also on time of classes and school site.

Students who have moved into the school district or who will be transferring are requested to register with the school as soon as possible this week.

3 new faculty members named at Freedom High

FREEDOM — The names of three new faculty members at the senior high school have been announced by Principal John Schwaller.

Cora Kessler is the new vocal music teacher. Miss Kessler is a University of Wisconsin-Madison graduate and taught at Loves Park, Ill., before coming to Freedom.

Michael Schoemaker, a graduate of University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse and formerly on the staff at Medford, will teach social studies and coach wrestling.

Jane Verkuylen is the new girls physical education instructor. She is a May graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh, and a native of Kimberly.

Students who have moved into the district during the summer should register now by calling the junior-senior high school office to arrange for an appointment. Classes begin Aug. 28 and bus schedules will be similar to previous years. New students will be contacted by the bus operators.

A hot lunch program will be available from the first day of school at a cost of 40 cents per lunch. Hot lunch tickets will be sold on a weekly basis only after the first week classes.

Processors given OK to hire youths

MADISON — A decision by the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations Monday will allow corn and bean processors to employ 16 and 17 year old high school students during the crucial weeks of September and parts of August and October.
The commissioners approved emergency orders allowing processors to employ high school students until 1 a.m. for 15 nonconsecutive days between Aug. 22 and Oct. 6. In essence it means that the students may work the second shift the day before going to school.
Because of the late season for both beans and corn the processors appealed to the commissioners for the emergency rules so that they could take advantage of the student labor market. Similar emergency rules were put into effect last year and were endorsed by the state Department of Public Instruction.
Present law requires that 16 and 17 year old employees have a nine-hour rest before going to school but since most classes begin at 8 a.m. the students would not be able to work the 4 p.m. to 1 a.m. shift. The emergency rules relax the rest period to seven hours, provided the students do not work more than 15 days and do not work on consecutive days.
The decision to adopt the rules did not come easily. Commissioner John Zinos expressed concern about the state's troubled labor market, stating that he was fearful that processors were asking for the rules in order to avoid hiring other workers.
The rules stipulate that any company violating the provisions of the emergency rules will have rights cancelled. Any students working under the provisions of the rules must have parental and school consent.
The request for the rules was made by the Wisconsin Cannery and Freezers Association and endorsed by many state processors.

Pesticide board reviews herbicide

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Pesticide Review Board decided Monday it needed more information about the environmental impact of the controversial herbicide 2,4,5-T.
The subject was referred back to the board's technical advisory council for further study. The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) had asked that the chemical be placed on the restricted use list.
The advisory council earlier had rejected any restriction on the herbicide by a 6-1 vote.
Gov. Martin Schreiber was among those appearing before the three-man pesticide review board to urge that use of the herbicide be restricted in both DNR and agriculture regulations.
At present under DNR authority anyone wishing to use the herbicide must inform the DNR of his intentions.
Lester Voigt, DNR secretary, suggested the board sponsor a symposium to bring experts in to testify on 2,4,5-T because there is a scarcity of information about it.
Some scientists believe the herbicide can harm wildlife, livestock and humans.

Boy, 11, shoots sister during target practice

LADYSMITH, Wis. (AP) — Julia Kohl, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holtz, was accidentally shot to death by her 11 year old brother near their Hawkins home, Rusk County Deputy Coroner Jerry Siverling said.
Siverling said the brother and a friend were target practicing with a 22 caliber semiautomatic weapon. The girl was shot in the chest and was dead on arrival at Ladysmith Memorial Hospital.

Hitchcock at 75: Still in total control

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I never realized I would be working so hard at this age," commented a bemused Alfred Hitchcock as he turned 75.

The roly-poly master of movie suspense recently marked three-quarters of a century. By all the rules he should be slowing down his work pace. He isn't.

Before entering a birthday interview, he engaged in a long script session with Ernest Lehman, who wrote one of the director's biggest hits, "North by Northwest."

"I've been working on this script since the first of the year," Hitchcock explained. "It's a very difficult script, because it involves two parallel stories which eventually come together."

The new project is based on a novel — "but as usual I don't follow the novel's plot" — and is as yet untitled. He delighted in reciting the ironies of the plot, which concerns a dying dowager who seeks an illegitimate son she bore in her youth.

The son is elusive, the audience discovers, because he happens to be a kidnaper.

"This is not a mystery, because I don't make mysteries," Hitchcock commented. "I tell the audience everything, and then I make them sweat over how it will all come out."

Many directors do their creating on the movie stages. With Hitchcock the major work is done in his elegantly appointed office at Universal Studio.

"My films are made on paper," he remarked. "I plan every camera angle, every cut before the cameras turn."

"By the time I've finished the script, I wish I didn't have to make the picture."

"I don't even have to go on the set until we start shooting. I've already shown the cameraman what I want."

"I've spoken to the actors in their dressing rooms. All that is left is to put it on film."

"The only problem I encounter is with actors who don't want to work my way, particularly method actors who want to change things."

"I tell them, 'Do whatever you want, but always remember this: the cutting room.'"

At 75, Alfred Hitchcock appears in total control of his creative forces. He reported happily that his last film, "Frenzy," cost $2 million and earned $16 million. It also reassured critics, who had feared that the master's touch was slipping after a series of so-so films.

Hitchcock has paid little heed to critics, even during the times they were proclaiming his genius. He is not the kind of fellow who takes advice, even when it comes from his longtime friend and star, Cary Grant.

They met recently at Hollywood Race Track, and Grant, who retired from films eight years ago, warned the director, "You're making a prisoner of yourself."

Hitchcock, who entered films in his native England 54 years ago, comments: "I don't feel like a prisoner, nor do I feel as if I have painted myself into a corner. I am doing what I like to do."

He has also ignored warnings that being overweight was injurious to his health. Not that he doesn't diet.

He calculates that he has lost between 500 and 600 pounds in his lifetime and since December has dropped 35 to his present 223.

"In my case, I believe the overweight to be hereditary," he observed. "My mother, who lived to be 78, had what she called in England 'a cottage-loaf figure'."

"I think also that I gain weight because of my placid temperament. I simply never have a row."

"Once Ingrid Bergman got very upset with me over something in a movie, and I simply crept out of the office and went home. That's the trouble with him — he won't fight," she complained.

The methodical Hitchcock guards his health by visiting his doctor every Tuesday morning at 9:30. He has a routine checkup weekly and monthly undergoes a full blood test.

"I am a great believer in preventive medicine," he said.

Purse snatching, kidnapping

7-7:30 — Channel 5 — "Adam 12" has Malloy (Martin Muller) proud of his brand new car, which needs repairs after he and Reed (Kent McCord) capture a purse snatcher. There's the usual assortment of police cases, as well. (R)

7:30-8:30 — Channels 2-7 — "Hawaii Five-O" has a clever plot which starts out as a kidnapping but turns into an assassination and involves look-alike girls. A good one to watch even if McGarrett (Jack Lord) seems to pull clues out of thin air. (R)

7:30-9 — Channels 9-11 — "Tuesday Movie Of The Week," "Scream, Pretty Peggy," has its moments although too long and predictable. Bette Davis is the mother of sculptor Ted Bessell. Stan Barbara Allen, a college student sculptor, comes to their mansion as a housekeeper and gets mixed up in something very scary. (R)

7:30-9 — Channel 5 — The Snoop Sisters in action on "Mystery Movie" in a well-cast tale. Cyril Ritchard is very funny as the proprietor of an occult shop, rock star Alice Cooper is a witch and Joan Blondell a medium. Helen Hayes and Mildred Natwick get involved with this unlikely group when Ernesta (Miss Hayes) finds an amulet in her luggage after a trip on which a traveling companion is murdered. (R)

9-10 — Channels 9-11 — "Marcus Welby, M.D." begins a story which will conclude next Saturday on Owen Marshall, Counselor at Law. Steve (James Brolin) is enmeshed in legal problems because a girl (Kim Darby) has an illness induced fantasy. She believes Steve is her child's father. (R)

9-10 — Channel 5 — "Police Story" always has the ring of authenticity to it. Kurt Russell is the star, playing a nice young man from the country who is a rookie at the Police Academy.

Today in history

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 20, the 232nd day of 1974. There are 133 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history

On this day in 1791, a Danish navigator, Vitus Bering, discovered Alaska.

On this date
In 1776, George Washington eluded the British in Brooklyn, N.Y., and moved his army across the East River to Manhattan in dense fog.

In 1833, the 23rd American president, Benjamin Harrison, was born in North Bend, Ohio.

In 1914, during World War I, German forces occupied Brussels, Belgium.

In 1941, in World War II, the Russians blew up their Dnieper Dam as German troops swept across the Ukraine.

In 1955, hundreds were killed in anti-French riots in Morocco and Algeria.

In 1961, the East Germans were busy building a wall along most of the 25-mile border between East and West Berlin.

Ten years ago, President Lyndon Johnson signed an antipoverty bill as a first step in a legislative program aimed at creating what he termed "the Great Society."

Five years ago, the death toll from Hurricane Camille climbed to 283 in disaster areas of Mississippi.

One year ago, in an address before the Veterans of Foreign Wars, President Nixon said his order for the secret bombing of Cambodia in 1969 had been "absolutely necessary" to save American lives.

Today's birthday: Former baseball manager Al Lopez is 66.

PSC hearing on phone rate hike continues today

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Attorneys for the cities of Milwaukee, Madison and Green Bay testified Monday in opposition to a requested rate increase that reportedly would earn an additional $9.5 million to $10 million for Wisconsin Telephone Co. this year.

Attorney Marvin E. Klitsner, representing Wisconsin Telephone, told the state Public Service Commission (PSC) the firm was seeking a 3.5 per cent revenue increase. A spokesman said the company wants to boost rates to achieve the 11 per cent return on its equity capital authorized by the PSC in 1972.

The hearing, scheduled to resume today, obtained no information to indicate how the proposed increase would affect bills of private and business customers.

The firm also seeks to charge customers 20 cents for each directory assistance call after the first three each month.

Klitsner said the phone company has tried to cut expenses and obtain sufficient revenue through current rates, but added higher operating costs and general inflation have made an increase necessary.

Charles F. Weiler, a business consultant and former Wisconsin Telephone employee, testified the firm would earn $289,408,000 this year without an increase.

Private citizens and spokesmen for organizations, particularly those representing the elderly, also argued against a rate hike.

people were expected to attend the square dance convention which consisted of square and round dancing, panel discussions, workshops and the style show.

Separation aids individual growth

BY JANE TYBRING
University of Wisconsin-Extension

"I promise to respect your individuality and your autonomy." Young people are writing these words into their marriage services a lot these days.

They see themselves as committed to each other's freedom-to-be. It sounds great. It's so all-American to be in favor of freedom. It's also American to believe in romantic togetherness, the more the better.

A total sharing between two people is impossible and not desirable. Togetherness has to be balanced by opportunities for aloneness.

Scratch the surface of a bland, always together, "we're so completely happy" couple. You may find a wife who has bullied her husband into tragic passivity by "looking after poor Fred."

Both claim how much they love each other. They may hold hands a lot. But she is disappointed in him as a man or a provider.

He resents — down inside — his lack of freedom or her lack of support. Yet neither could admit this to the world or their children.

They fear to upset the balance. They need each other too much. Total sharing and total involvement are stifling individuality and growth as persons.

Let's suppose that everything is going along reasonably well for you. Your self feels lovable and capable. Your world is manageable. Then, you lose your job, or you are promoted to more responsibility: a child is born, a parent dies.

You are scared. Each new situation forces you to take stock, to measure your ability to respond against what's needed in the new situation.

You need to struggle. Part of the searching will have to be by yourself, in solitude, for self-knowledge is the goal of your aloneness.

This kind of separateness is a regrouping of your forces. "Who I am" is discovered by going into one's background and knowing one's self. In separation, you gain a sense of purpose.

There is another kind of separate behavior, though, that isn't needing to be alone in order to know one's self. It's wanting to be away from a partner to avoid conflict and discomfort.

Psychiatrist Don Jackson, in his book "The Mirages of Marriage," talks about this. He asks, "When is behavior truly autonomous (acting alone to know one's self) and when is it relationship behavior that says, 'I don't like you and therefore wish to be independent of you?'"

It's not easy for one spouse to indicate he or she wants to be alone without making the other feel resentful or abandoned. A large part of discord in marriage is a reaction to a partner's doing a lot of things on his or her own. This is especially true when the "apart" activities haven't been talked about and agreed on.

Without sharing, your partner may not understand your periodic need to be alone. With each partner needing to be alone sometimes, with each misunderstanding the other's needs, it's easy to drift apart or into late love affairs.

The poet Rilke writes, "A complete sharing between two people is an impossibility, and whenever it seems, nevertheless, to exist, it is a narrowing, a mutual agreement which robs either one member or both of fullest freedom and development. But, once the realization is accepted, that even between the closest human beings, infinite distances continue to exist, a wonderful living side by side can grow up — if they succeed in loving the distance between them which makes it possible to see the other whole and against a wide sky."

The marriage relationship is the hardest to maintain if we want it to be the "closest." It doesn't have to keep its original pattern, though. To prevent it from becoming routine and stagnant, the partners can respect each other's need for privacy, separateness and acting on their own.

Then changing, growing selves can come together again in sharing.

Science fiction readers plan book trade

Science fiction readers are invited to the Science Fiction and Paperback Book Trade at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at Ieluliah Park.

This is a new group of science fiction readers who banded together to trade science fiction books, preferably paperbacks. Charging of dues will begin soon, according to Mrs. Robert Staron, who, with her husband, organized the group.

The Starons have a collection of 3,000 science fiction books, of which 99 percent are paperback.

At the trade people are asked to bring books, for none will be sold. Authors for trade include Isaac Asimov, Ted Sturgeon and Robert Heinlein.

Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Staron, 521 N. Wood St.

Potluck picnic scheduled for retired teachers

A 5:30 p.m. potluck picnic supper will highlight the first annual picnic of the Outagamie County Retired Teachers Association at Linwood Park Thursday.

It will be a family affair open to visitors and friends of members. The committee will furnish coffee, but no dinnerware will be available. Murna Weller, president, is in charge and information is available from her.

The first regular fall meeting will be a 12:15 p.m. Sept. 26 luncheon at the Chandelier Club, north of Hortonville. At that time delegates to the Oct. 9 and 10 state convention will be named by the executive committee.

'Rights Collide' series planned

The 'Where Rights Collide' Series, 7 p.m. Sept. 10 and Sept. 17 in room 1 at the Outagamie County Courthouse. Has been scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30.

Total emphasis of the two public discussions will focus on the rights and responsibilities of youth as individuals, family members and as part of the community.

Speakers for the series include Dennis Kral, child consultant for Winnebago State Hospital, R. Thomas Cane, Outagamie County judge, Ellen Goolsbey, home economics coordinator with Appleton Public Schools, Robert Geller, director of Family Service Assn., and a youth representative.

Some issues to be considered are: What are the roles of youth, parents, teachers, peers and the community as sources of individual development? What is the psychological thinking of today's youth? Parents as teachers. How can we more positively contribute to an individual's self concept? Why do we feel we have to rebel in order to confront an issue? Understanding the cause and effect of rebellion. Is there a psychological tie-in between appearance and rebellion? Do parents exploit youth? Do youth exploit parents? and How and why do communications break down?

50 YEARS

Time to recall

Reunions are usually spent talking about more frivolous times when young lives were launched Saturday was no exception as members of Appleton High School class of 1924 celebrated their 50th reunion at the Columbus Club. Friendships were renewed and the nostalgic past was recalled in year books and aging high school photos. Above, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lewis, Woodruff, and Mr. and Mrs. George Klein found a quiet table where they could exchange memories. At left, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gurnee, Glen Dale, Calif., and Mrs. Roman Wenzel, Oshkosh, gathered around the bulletin board to read messages sent from fellow classmates. (Post-Crescent photos)

Ann Landers

Her mom's really great

Dear Ann Landers: You get a whole bunch of letters from people who complain a lot, so I thought you might enjoy something different for a change. I am 12 years old and I want to tell you about my mother because she is one heck of a person.

We are financially poor, but Mom doesn't pay any attention to that. She says we have everything we need, which is love and good health and most of all, each other. The rest of the stuff she says we can live without until we can afford to buy it, and nobody is in a hurry.

Whenever I read letters in your column from kids who hate their moms and say they wish they could leave home, I could just sit down and cry for the whole family because they are missing out on the most important things in life.

I sure wish you would print this letter, Ann Landers. It might wake up some of those people. — Lucky in Freeport.

Dear Lucky: Here's your letter, and if it doesn't wake 'em up, they're dead. You're a real philosopher at the age of 12 and I loved every word you wrote. And now I'd like to receive a letter from your mother telling us how she produced a child like you.

Dear Ann Landers: I couldn't believe my eyes when you said $40 for removing a plantar wart wasn't excessive. A removal of this type of wart takes less than five minutes. At that rate the doc would be getting $500 an hour.

There will be great rejoicing the day the government steps in and regulates medical fees. Contrary to public opinion, we'll still have the dedicated physicians of old, but we won't have those money-hungry doctors who take out everything a person can live without just to collect a surgical fee.

In my opinion, doctors and lawyers are in the same category — 91 per cent money grabbers. — Blod White.

Dear Mr. White: The young man who wrote to complain about the $40 fee said he had a plantar wart removed, plus a couple of other things. I don't know what those other things were, and neither do you. One of them may have been a pre-malignant mole or a suspicious-looking cyst.

Your statement that a plantar wart takes less than five minutes to remove is sheer speculation. Perhaps some plantar warts can be removed in five minutes, but much depends on its location and depth. A plantar wart growing over a tendon or one that is deeply imbedded in the foot can be very difficult and removing it requires great skill.

The day the government sets medical and legal fees will be the day private enterprise and personal initiative go down the tube. Mediocrity and substandard performance will become the order of the day and excellence will be a thing of the past. I hope I'm not around to see it.

Dear Ann Landers: You have repeatedly stated in your column that marriages between homosexuals are not legal, yet I read in the press about several couples who have been married by ministers right inside the churches. In fact, a friend of mine attended such a wedding in San Francisco two weeks ago and an ordained clergyman performed the ceremony. Apparently you are smart enough to write in papers, but you don't read them. — Gotcha.

Dear G: Marriages between members of the same sex are not legal anywhere, including California. A religious ceremony in itself does not constitute a legal marriage.

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers, booklet "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Fickledom" could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long-stamped self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 3346, Chicago, Ill. 60654. (Copyright 1974).

Take out penalty double with unusual distribution

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Many bridge players have the mistaken idea that partner's penalty double is something like a Supreme Court decision. This might be true if your partner could see your cards as well as his own. Since he cannot, you must use your own judgment when your hand is quite unusual.

Double Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead — ♣ K

Nobody can blame West for doubling two hearts. From his point of view, the enemy had been delivered into his hand, and he was going to smite them hip and thigh.

West opened the king of clubs, continued with the ace and then led a third club to make South ruff.

READS ENTIRE HAND

South could now read the entire hand. Obviously, West was void of diamonds. He surely had five cards in each of the major suits, accounting for his opening bid in spades and his penalty double of two hearts. The spade suit was surely headed by K-Q, since otherwise West would not have a reasonable opening bid.

South led a trump to dummy's queen, driving East's only trump. Back came the jack of spades to give West a spade trick.

For lack of anything better, West led a low spade and South finessed with dummy's ten. Declarer then cashed the ace of spades, discarding a diamond and ruffed a spade.

Now South led a diamond. West could discard his last spade, but he had to trump the next trick and lead a trump to South's A-K-10. This gave South his doubled contract for game and rubber.

East should have bid three clubs in stead of passing his partner's penalty double. Even if he didn't get to game in clubs, he would surely make a respectable plus score at that suit.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold: S-K-Q-9-8-3, H-J-9-8-7-4, D-None, C-K-Q-7. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade — if your partner is a reasonable soul. It pays to open borderline hands of this kind when you have length in both majors.

Grant wants win over Miami

By ANDY LIPPMAN
AP Sports Writer

The veterans are in—and many rookies feel they're on the way out—as both the Miami Dolphins and the Minnesota Vikings plan to make extensive use of their established stars during tonight's rematch of last January's Super Bowl participants.

"We're going after this game to win it, more than running people in to look at them," said Coach Bud Grant, whose Vikings were beaten by the Dolphins in the National Football League title game 24-7.

Miami Coach Don Shula said he also will go basically with his veterans during the remainder of his team's preseason schedule.

But while the veterans, who came back to both camps Wednesday in the "cooling off" agreement that halted the NFL Players Association strike, were back in their familiar roles, both teams were still loaded with rookies. Minnesota dressed 72 players and the Dolphins carried 75.

Ken Polke, who went from No. 1 quarterback for Miami at the start of the strike to No. 4 with Bob Griese, Earl Morrall and Don Strock in camp, said, "I'm stagnating right now."

"Sure I expected it to happen. But it's a real shocker to have busted your butt for a month and a half, playing most of the time and then—in a space of a few hours—be on the fourth team."

In NFL action Sunday, there were still plenty of empty seats despite the return of familiar faces as Denver beat San Francisco 10-3, St. Louis bombed San Diego 48-14, Buffalo edged Washington 16-15 and New England beat New Orleans 7-3.

There were only 5,184 in Seattle for the Cardinal-Chargers game, while 17,000 tickets were refunded in San Francisco for the game between the Broncos and the 49ers.

The Los Angeles Rams bombed the Kansas City Chiefs 58-16 Saturday, the New York Giants beat the New York Jets 21-13; Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia in overtime, 33-30; Baltimore trounced Cleveland 37-3; Cincinnati trimmed Atlanta 13-7 in overtime; Green Bay defeated Chicago 20-10 and Dallas upended Houston 19-13.

Oakland buried Detroit 41-10 Friday night.

The sparse crowd in Seattle, where the game had been moved from Memphis, watched as the Cardinals exploded for four second-quarter touchdowns Sunday including two by hometown hero Terry Metcalf.

Randy Gradishar, Denver's star line-backer, intercepted a pass and ran 83 yards for a touchdown with four minutes remaining to provide the margin of victory for the Broncos.

The Denver defense closed off a final

San Francisco scoring threat at the Denver 10-yard line when safety John Pitts intercepted a pass by Tom Owen with 1:30 left in the game.

The crowd of 29,908 was the smallest for the 49ers since their move to Candlestick Park three years ago.

Sunday night, Buffalo slipped by Washington 16-15 on John Leybold's 52-yard field goal with five seconds left in the game.

Saturday, Kansas City was helpless before the onslaught of Los Angeles veterans led by Jim Bertelsen, Lawrence McCutcheon and new offensive star Cullen Bryant, a former defensive back, who rushed for 117 yards and a touchdown.

Rookie running back Doug Kotar ran 69 yards with a screen pass for one Giants' touchdown and ran 13 yards for another as 35,431 fans gathered to in the Yale Bowl—about half as much as last year—to watch the Giants beat the Jets.

Roger Staubach scored from the two-yard line during a sudden death period to climax a come-from-behind victory for Dallas. The Heisman Trophy winner put the Cowboys into a tie when he connected on a 23-yard touchdown pass to Ron Howard with 20 seconds left in regulation.

The Bengals also had to go into overtime to capture their third straight victory. Wayne Clark connected with John McDaniel on a 60-yard touchdown pass for the winning margin.

Joe Gilliam brought the Steelers downfield to set up a Roy Gerela field goal which gave Pittsburgh an overtime victory.

Marty Domres threw for one score and passed for another and the Colts also took advantage of two interceptions and two fumbles.

The Packers came back against Chicago as quarterback Jerry Tagge threw touchdown passes to Eric Torkelson and Brent Longwell to surmount a 10-0 second-quarter Chicago lead.

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Dave Stockton gave back his $40,000 first prize, had a little chat with the President and then set his sights on Augusta, Ga., and next year's Masters tournament.

Dave Stockton

Stockton was on his way to the clubhouse after his easy victory in the Sammy Davis Jr.-Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament Sunday when he was summoned back to the press tent to receive telephone congratulations from President Gerald Ford.

"He said he hadn't watched on television," Stockton said. "He'd been out playing golf at Burning Tree. Said he's made five pars."

Stockton and the President—then the Vice President—played together as partners in the proam event preceding the Pleasant Valley Classic in Sutton, Mass., two weeks ago.

"He could be a 10 handicapper real easy," Stockton said.

Stockton, the leader all the way, had a final round 69—two under par—was never threatened and won by a comfortable four strokes.

He accepted the $40,000 first prize-and immediately made arrangements to give it all back. He donated $5,000 to the sponsoring Hartford Jaycees and pledged $1,000 annually for the next 35 years.

"Bob Murphy gave back a portion of his purse when he won here few years ago," Stockton aid. "I think it's a good idea. The old tournaments on the tour, the ones that really make the tour, are sponsored by service groups like the Jaycees."

"I think we ought to do something for them."

Stockton, now a three-time winner this season and enjoying his best year ever, had a threestroke advantage when the day's play started. He expanded it to four with a 10-foot putt for a oirdie on the first hole, and led by five most of the way.

When PGA champion Lee Trevino three-putted the fourth hole, Stockton was home safe. It was a fight for second from then on.

Ray Floyd came on with a 66 to take that position—the third time he's been a runner-up this year—with a 272 total. That's 12 under par on the 6,598-yard Wethersfield Country Club course but four back of Stockton's 268 total.

Bob Wynn holed a shot from a sand trap on the 17th hole for a birdie that got him third at 70—203. Trevino, the only man with a chance to catch Stockton, stumbled to a 72 and fourth at 274.

Murphy overcomes doubts in role of Brewer 'saver'

ANAHEIM (AP) — Tom Murphy threw his head back and laughed when somebody asked him how he enjoyed his new career as a relief pitcher for the Milwaukee Brewers.

"Heck," the former Angel starter said smiling. "I'm just happy to be here."

Murphy had doubts about his future when the Brewers grabbed him from the St. Louis Cardinals during the off-season. Anyone sent to the minors after five seasons in the big leagues always has doubts, he admitted.

Milwaukee Manager Del Crandall decided just before the end of spring training to make a relief pitcher out of Murphy. Now both Crandall and Murphy are applauding the decision.

"I wasn't against the idea," Murphy recalled Sunday after registering his 14th save in a 52 triumph over California. "I only wanted to be used in key situations—not to mop up in one-sided games."

Murphy has become the "saver" in the Milwaukee bullpen.

His record is 5-4 but his earned-run average is a splendid 1.54 and his 14 saves—are five more than the entire Angel staff.

"How can I complain hen I keep getting them out," Murphy said. "I'm enjoying this fine."

Murphy's 2-2-3 innings Sunday saved Jim Slaton's ninth victory. He entered the game with one out and one on in the seventh and immediately induced Rudy Meoli to ground into a double play.

In his last 10 appearances spanning 32 innings, Murphy has compiled a 3-0 record with six saves and has surrendered only two earned runs.

JoAnne Carner cops 4th LPGA crown of 1974

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — JoAnne Carner of Lake Worth, Fla., is playing the best golf of her professional career and she credits a new style to her success on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour in 1974.

JoAnne Carner

"I pretty well know what was wrong with my swing," said Mrs. Carner after capturing the $5,000 winners purse Sunday at the $35,000 St. Paul Ladies Open. "I've learned to smooth it out a little."

"I had to change my attitude," Mrs. Carner continued. "I have to concentrate on slowing down. I used to always be in such a hurry on the course."

Mrs. Carner rebuffed a brief charge by 19-year-old Californian Laura Baugh and finished the 54-hole tournament with a seven-under-par 212.

Miss Baugh, the 1973 LPGA Rookie of the Year who has played in 22 tournaments this year in quest of her first professional victory, faded fast after she moved within three strokes of the lead.

"After JoAnne went out of bounds I knew there was a chance," said Miss Baugh, who finished with a three-under-par 216. "There's still a lot of difference in the money between second and third and I wasn't going to give away any strokes."

After pulling to within three shots following the 12th hole, Miss Baugh bogeyed 13 and 14.

The victory was the fourth of the year for Mrs. Carner, who has won $68,469 this year and is within $15,000 of becoming the leading single season money winner in the history of the women's tour. Kathy Whitworth won a high of $82,000 in 1973.

Sandra Post, who started the final round five strokes behind Mrs. Carner, slipped to a 75 and finished third with a 218 over the 6,402 yard, par 73 Keller Golf Course.

Pam Higgins of Palm Springs, Calif., finished fourth with a par 219.

Injured Ramirez wins

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One injured player won and another lost in the singles of the $50,000 Buckeye tennis Sunday.

Mexican Raul Ramirez, recovering from a thumb injury on his racquet hand, polished off Venezuela's Humphrey Hose 6-3, 6-2.

Meanwhile, an old back injury decked second-seeded Tom Gorman. The Seattle veteran was forced to quit in the midst of his second set with No. 3 Roscoe Tanner.

"I felt a shooting pain through my back. I couldn't bend over. I was surprised I did as well as I did," Gorman said of his injury in the seventh game of the first set.

Tanner, 22-year-old blond from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., took the first set 7-5 and was leading 1-0 in the second when Gorman retired.

"I knew he was hurt. He pulled up short and grabbed his back," said Tanner. "It's too bad."

Ramirez asked for two days off before this 32-man tournament began Tuesday.

"I had a bad wrist. I thought it was tendonitis," explained the tournament's fourth seed. "The wrist hurt so bad last week I couldn't hit a ball hard when I warmed up."

Their semifinal victories match two old West Coast college rivals in the finals tonight at Buckeye Boys Ranch. The winner will pick up $9,000.

Alcoa stops making foil

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thirty three years after it started making household aluminum foil, the Aluminum Co. of America has announced it will stop production of the shiny wrap by Dec. 31.

Other major household foil manufacturers said they would continue production. It was too early to tell what effect Alcoa's action would have on the price of foil. According to some industry spokesmen, a more important factor is the steadily rising price of aluminum ingots.

A spokesman for Reynolds Metal Co., the major producer of aluminum foil, said the basic price of an aluminum ingot has risen from 25 cents a pound last December to 36 cents a pound at the beginning of August.

Part of the reason is higher taxes imposed by the governments of countries like Jamaica that produce bauxite.

There is about one-fourth of a pound — or nine cents worth — of aluminum in a 25-square-foot roll of regular Reynolds wrap, a spokesman said. The rest of the price, which varies from area to area, but generally is less than 70 cents, covers things like labor packaging production costs, advertising and markup.

Alcoa said it was stopping production of Alcoa Wrap, Wear ever Foil and private label brands for supermarkets and other retail stores because of a short age of aluminum.

Company spokesmen denied that they were simply trying to divert the available aluminum into more profitable items. "It was profitable," a spokesman said, referring to the household wrap. "We were not losing money. It was a matter of priorities."

About 125 employees at Alcoa plants in Tennessee and Pittsburgh will be affected by the action.

Alcoa, which currently produces about 20 per cent of the household foil sold in America, said it will continue to make heavy duty foil for use by institutions and restaurants.

Reynolds, which sells household foil under the names Reynolds Wrap and Diamond Foil, and Kaiser, which markets aluminum foil for private label brands, said they would continue production.

"The demand exceeds supply in all aluminum products," said a spokesman for Kaiser, explaining that there was plenty of bauxite — the ore from which aluminum is extracted — but there was "a shortage of productive capacity."

Alcoa started manufacturing foil in 1914 and produced household foil — the kind you use to wrap everything from cakes to steaks — in 1931.

Reynolds also introduced its household foil in the early 1930s and a spokesman said it was continuing "full steam ahead."

The Aluminum Association, a trade organization based in New York, said 219 million pounds of aluminum foil — both household and institutional — were produced in the United States in 1972.

Industry sources said about three fourths or about 164 million pounds went for household foil. They estimated the 1973 total — not yet officially available — was about 300 million pounds of all kinds of foil or 225 million pounds for household use. That's the equivalent of 900 million 25 foot rolls.

Congress okays standard time

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to take the nation off year round Daylight Saving Time has been approved by the House and sent to the Senate.

The measure approved Monday provides that clocks be set back one hour on the last Sunday in October and then set forward again on the last Sunday in February.

Unless Congress passes other legislation this four month change will revert next year to the traditional formula of six months of standard and six months of daylight time.

Year round Daylight Saving Time was adopted last year as a fuel conservation step during the energy crisis. The Federal Energy Administration estimates the energy saving under the new bill will be close to the one per cent figure achieved nationally last winter.

Rebozo's use of campaign funds under investigation by grand jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury is investigating whether political campaign contributions were used for the personal benefit of former President Nixon and his friend Charles G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski disclosed the inquiry Monday in a legal paper filed in U.S. District Court. The document was submitted to oppose efforts by Rebozo's attorneys to dismiss several prosecution subpoenas for their records.

The grand jury's probe is an extension of an investigation of Rebozo's financial transactions by the Senate Watergate Committee. In its final report last month the committee said that nearly $5,000 in left over 1968 campaign funds was laundered through Rebozo's Key Biscayne, Fla., bank and used to buy a pair of diamond earrings that Nixon gave his wife for her 60th birthday.

In addition, the panel traced more than $45,000 from Rebozo's personal bank account to payment for a swimming pool and other luxuries at Nixon's Key Biscayne house.

Jaworski, claiming the transactions were routed through trust accounts held by Rebozo's lawyers, said the special prosecutor submits that this information indicates that Mr. Rebozo used his attorneys' accounts to launder political campaign funds in order to conceal their character.

Rebozo's lawyers have cited the attorney-client privilege in seeking to quash the summons for their records.

Assistant special prosecutor Paul R. Michel said in an affidavit that he had information that at least seven different bank accounts were used by Rebozo's attorney Thomas Wakefield and other lawyers in his firm to pay for goods and services provided to or for the personal use of Mr. Rebozo and others.

Michel said records indicate Rebozo gave Wakefield more than $36,000 in $100 bills to deposit and that about the same amount then was spent "mostly for improvement to homes occupied by Mr. Rebozo and former President Nixon at the former presidential compound at Key Biscayne, Fla."

Michel said Rebozo apparently didn't have sufficient cash "from any known source" to make the deposits other than the $150,000 campaign contributions received from Howard R. Hughes and A. D. Davis from 1970 through April 1972.

Mrs. McGovern writes book on '72 campaign

NEW YORK (AP) — The wife of Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., says he reversed his "1,000 per cent" support of his 1972 vice presidential running mate, Sen. Thomas Eagleton only after "long, confidential hours on the telephone with doctors and psychiatrists."

Eleanor McGovern says that the medical men were "cautious but deeply troubled" in their private discussions of disclosures that Eagleton had been hospitalized several times for depression.

She said they were concerned "about the possibility that history might one day thrust a person with recurrent manic depressive tendencies into the presidency."

"Some said the illness had a built-in periodicity," she added.

Mrs. McGovern describes the "Greek tragedy" of the Eagleton affair and her husband's doomed campaign for the presidency in "Uphill: A Personal Story," written with the aid of her former press secretary, Mary Finch Hoyt. Excerpts from the book, to be published by Houghton Mifflin, appear in the September issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

Mrs. McGovern recalls a breakfast meeting in their vacation cabin in the Black Hills of South Dakota during which she said both Eagleton and his wife conceded it had been a mistake "to keep the mental health matter quiet" when McGovern chose the Missouri senator as his running mate.

She also recalls sitting behind Eagleton as he told his story to the press, and noting that "he was perspiring through his jacket and trembling so hard that I feared he could not continue."

"I literally sat ready to break his fall," she adds.

Mansion on wheels

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The thick pile carpeting makes walking a silent experience. The deep red velvet settee is framed by elegant side tables with gilt edges. Each of the four bedrooms has a separate bath attached.

Sound like a mansion? It is, but it's on wheels and the rail car — valued at a half million dollars — will soon be available for posh vacation trips.

"Victoria" is her name and since she was built at a cost of $100,000 in 1927 the grand old lady of the Pullman Co. has brought up the rear of hundreds of coast-to-coast trains, carrying opera stars, political dignitaries and presidents.

Heads of state visiting the United States were given the car for their travels. Franklin D. Roosevelt used the car in 1935 for his second presidential campaign.

The opulent, 83-foot car was purchased by the Burlington Railroad in 1944 and renamed the "Blackhawk". In 1966, the car changed hands again.

It was purchased by two San Diego distributing company executives, S. Steve Sourpas and John Cuchna. They renamed the car the "Victoria."

Now they are turning over the plush pullman to the Pacific Southwest Railway Museum Association of San Diego, which plans to prepare it for future travels.

"This is a real rarity," said Jack Stodella, director of the museum. "It has a diesel stove, two rear staterooms, a solarium lounge that seats 12 and it can sleep eight. We'll have it on display to the public for a while, but when we get the money we'd like to get her ready to get back in service."

He said the museum needs $8,000 to put new couplings on the car to conform to modern equipment and then "she'll be ready for charter."

How much will it cost to rent the car?

"In the neighborhood of about $200 a day plus rail costs, which run about a dollar a mile," he said. "Of course that's not bad if you're taking 20 people."

Unified board aims to identify needs

OSHKOSH — With little hope that it will be able to increase its spending level very much in 1975, the unified health board plans to zero in on identifying the needs it must fill and draft a program to do the job.

This year the board will be spending about $2.1 million and according to preliminary indications from the state, an increase of $200,000 can be expected for 1975 to attack problems in the three areas which are mental health, alcoholism and drug abuse and developmental disabilities.

The board learned Monday that it is facing an operating deficit of about $78,000 for 1974, with the bulk of arising because the state funding fell short of anticipated levels.

Another $500,000 shortage is expected because the state is catching up on its billing to local counties for patients being treated at Winnebago Mental Health Institute.

In previous years, the state has been at least a year behind in its billing procedures, but under the unified board concept is attempting to catch up this year. That means the county is going to have to fund the $500,000 deficit.

Mrs. Delores Niles, working with the board as a consultant during its first year of organization, explained that "it's a hard pill to swallow, but the state precipitated the changes." Originally the intent was to fund the cost of in-patient services through means other than the unified board, but this is one of the many changes which has come during the first year.

Board Chairman, Supv. Ted Neely, Menasha, charged that the state had reneged on its commitment and he added that he planned to appeal the decisions to the highest level, including the governor if necessary.

The only real deficit in the 1974 operating budget is the $78,000, most of which will have to come out of the purchase of service agreements the board has signed with private agencies.

Niles suggested that the agencies be urged "to hold down their spending levels. If we have to we can drop out of the contracts and renegotiate." However, her recommendation was to wait until October when the budgets and funding levels were more certain and if necessary, ask the county board to make up the difference.

Supv. Eunice Englund, using the case of a cerebral palsy victim who has no place to go after release from Mrcy Medical Center, suggested that it was time for the board to take an in-depth look at the types of services that are needed in Winnebago County.

The person has been in a nursing home in Southern Wisconsin where the parents discovered him in a state of malnutrition. "What are we going to do about the Jimmys of the future?" she asked, suggesting that board look closely and see what types of programs and facilities the county really needs.

Neely suggested that with two of three coordinators hired (Howard Eggleston for alcoholism and drug abuse and Mrs. Mary Ann Grundy, a registered nurse, for developmental disabilities) "we should be able to address problems like these."

Englund also pointed out that a survey of nursing homes in Oshkosh had been completed and discovered that "there's no place for the severely handicapped."

These and other similar problems will fall within the jurisdiction of the coordinators who will be reporting to the program director, a spot which will be filled by the recently hired psychiatrist.

Cases up, welfare review asked

OSHKOSH — Faced with increasing numbers and costs, a member of the social services committee has asked that the department begin an in-depth review of its caseload.

Supv. George Christoph, Neenah, Monday expressed concern that the average grant per family for Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) has increased. He also said there were nearly 200 more on the rolls in July, 1974, than a year ago.

The monthly report, filed by Norman Whitford, social services director, showed that 1,095 families were receiving AFDC payments totaling some $306,791. This compared to 898 receiving $210,229 a year ago.

The average grant per family in 1974 is $280, compared to $234 a year earlier. However, Whitford pointed out that the 1974 payments included special needs payments (for items such as bedding or clothes), whereas the 1973 figures did not reflect those payments.

Christoph expressed concern that the numbers were increasing, and noted that 430 new cases were opened during July for all income maintenance programs while only 345 were closed.

"There must be some going off," Christoph said, adding that "I'd like to see a careful review of the people who have been on the rolls for a long time. I don't believe we do enough."

He suggested that "some might get off if we give them a little nudge."

He also asked why "so many are applying?" Whitford explained that the "major reason is divorce, when the wife finds there isn't enough money to keep going while two households are being maintained."

The income maintenance unit handles grants in AFDC, for children in foster homes; children in institutions; general relief, food stamps and medical assistance.

A total of $417,944 was paid out; $306,791 in AFDC; $18,278 for foster home children; $9,040 for institutions; $10,034 for relief, and $73,800 worth of food stamps. Medical assistance for the 2,446 persons is paid by the state.

While the income maintenance unit deals specifically with grants and payments according to guidelines established by the state and federal governments, the other part of the department — social services — also extended its function and reached nearly 200 more

Appleton firm bids $202,166 on overpass

MADISON — Bids on a Winnebago County Trunk PP railroad overpass were opened this morning by the Department of Transportation's Division of Highways, and an Appleton firm is the apparent low at $209,166.

The bids ranged from the low, submitted by Wunderlich-Hoffman Construction Co., to a high of $265,570. The overpass will connect to the interchange now under construction to tie-in the traffic from the Little Lake Butte des Morts Bridge to U.S. 41.

It will be a 36-foot wide, three span concrete structure to replace the existing overpass which now gives northbound traffic access to U.S. 41. The new structure will be located a few feet south and will connect to the network of frontage roads which are being built with the relocation of the expressway.

Gasoline prices headed down

NEENAH-MENASHA — Although it won't be anything like the good old gas wars we used to have around here, consumers can expect a reduction of some sort in gas prices in the near future, according to a spot survey taken Monday.

Twin Cities dealers questioned in the survey agreed that although the price of gasoline may never again get as low as some of us like to remember, the price may drop to somewhere around 45 cents per gallon eventually.

"There isn't really that much of a shortage right now," said Harold Johnson, owner of Johnson's Arco Service Station. "Basically, we can get as much gas as we need."

Another dealer, who preferred to remain anonymous, said that although no price reduction of any consequence has come through for dealers from the large oil companies, he expected one to come through soon. "I'm only buying enough gas to keep me going at a time," he said. "I don't want to get caught with full tanks, and then have the price dropped four or five cents. I couldn't remain competitive."

Dave Coonen, of Coonen's U.S. service station, said that he had received a price cut, but said that he didn't foresee any substantial future drops in price. "We got a 1/2 cent decrease last week, but I don't think it means that much," Coonen said.

Almost all of the dealers agreed that there is less gasoline being purchased this year than last year. According to the dealers, people are doing as much or maybe more local driving than before, but few are taking long trips. "There is very definitely less gas being pumped," Coonen said.

Twin Cities residents have been paying lower prices than most areas all along, as anyone who made a trip to Milwaukee this summer can attest. According to a recent Wisconsin AAA fuel report, the average gas price in the state for regular is about 55.5 cents per gallon, while prices in Neenah-Menasha are averaging around 51 to 52 cents. Wisconsin prices are the lowest in the six-state Great Lakes region, according to the report, and the Fox Valley is one of the lowest priced areas in the state. Minnesota and Indiana drivers are paying an average of 56 cents a gallon for regular. Ohio is averaging 57 cents; Michigan, 58; and Illinois, 59. Texas is the lowest in the nation with an average price of 52 cents per gallon.

Robert Malchow, an Appleton service station owner who recently attended a national convention of service station operators, said that the major oil companies are "pretty well sticking together."

"They aren't about to cut their prices too much, not when they have to reinvest so much money for drilling and refinery expansion," he said. "They're making more money than ever, but it isn't showing, because it's all being reinvested."

Dave Kelpinski, manager of Dave's Clark Station in Menasha, said that another factor in the major companies' stand may be the government freeze on oil company profits which is in effect until January of 1975.

City panel won't act on bridge barrier proposal

An alderman's proposal to build barriers to prevent youngsters from climbing under the College Avenue and Memorial Drive bridges ran into a barrier of its own Monday.

The City Council Street and Sanitation Committee refused to act on the proposal by Ald. William Errington (15th).

Ald. Robert Safford (7th) was skeptical that any barrier would work, due to the nature of youngsters. "If you build a fence, it's something to climb over," he said.

Public works director Robert Miller showed snapshots of existing barriers which he said fail to stop young acrobats. Despite the apparent formidability of the barriers, young people still manage to climb past them, he said.

Errington's proposal was prompted by recent incidents in which rescuers have had to take young climbers from bridge under-structures, high above the ground.

He proposed using city funds to build barriers after the Wisconsin Division of Highways announced there are no state funds to be spent for the purpose.

The committee declined to act in part because Errington was not present to argue for his resolution. "He's not here anyway. If he wants something done, let him come before the committee," said Ald. Edward Maloney (9th).

Wall tips, man is pinned, injured

A Kaukauna man complained of severe pelvic pains and numbness to one leg after he was hurt in a construction accident in the western section of Outagamie County Monday morning.

Injured was a county highway worker, Vernon Patten, 507 Desnoyer St. Police said Patten was working on a bridge construction site on County Trunk WW, about one-half mile west of State 76. He was removing forms from a concrete retaining wall when the wall tipped toward him.

The concrete structure, about 25 feet long and 10 inches thick, pinned him against the embankment. Other workmen removed the wall by using a crane, pulling Patten up onto the ground.

Police & fire beat

Five persons were injured but only one remained hospitalized after a tractor accident on U.S. 45 near State 76, Town of Greenville, at 9:15 a.m. Monday.

All those injured were in the car, driven by Josephine A. Buchman, 57, Maywood, Ill. She remained in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital today after treatment for a broken wrist, possible internal injuries and multiple bumps and bruises.

Treated and released were her husband Frederick, 59; Anna F. Buchman, 82, 144 E. Main St., Hortonville; JoAnn Schwartz, 45, 106 Harris Way, Hortonville; and Helen D. Lammers, 50, route 2, Shiocton.

Police said the car was southbound on 45 and attempted to overtake the tractor, which was slowing for a turn into a driveway from the southbound lane. No collision resulted, but the car went out of control, spun around and entered a ditch.

The tractor was driven by David R. Eecker, 22, Greenville.

Rockefeller not pick of Froehlich

WASHINGTON — Former Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York was not Rep. Harold Froehlich's choice for vice president, but the Appleton Republican urged "an open mind" today in considering the nomination.

Froehlich, seeking election to his 8th District seat in the House, issued a statement following President Ford's announcement this morning of his choice of Rockefeller as his Vice President.

Froehlich pointed out that as a member of the House Judiciary Committee, he will be directly involved in the confirmation hearings on Rockefeller. The congressman promised "to weigh Gov. Rockefeller's nomination with fairness and objectivity and make my decision on his qualifications, his record and his testimony to the Congress."

He also invited citizens to suggest possible areas of inquiry in the hearings.

Froehlich revealed that he had submitted a list of names for Ford to consider in selecting a vice president, but added that Rockefeller "was not one of the candidates I suggested." The President had invited such suggestions from Congress and others.

But Froehlich described Rockefeller as "a man with vast experience, significant accomplishments and immense leadership ability. He has been a good Republican party worker with broad public appeal."

The confirmation hearings required under the 25th Amendment to the Constitution — the same procedures under which Ford was earlier confirmed as Vice President — will bring "an unparalleled disclosure of the Rockefeller financial empire," nationally and internationally and reveal positions and views held by the former governor, Froehlich said.

Rockefeller has long been regarded as a leader of the so-called liberal wing of the Republican Party. Froehlich is among the more conservative elements of the House GOP.

No public person can serve his state and nation for as long as Gov. Rockefeller has without creating some intense opposition. But I hope all Americans will approach his nomination with an open mind, said Froehlich's statement.

Europe that might be left up to Woehler to decide. This is where the apparent power play comes in. DeLaHunt felt that since Woehler took the extraordinary step to grant Maloney his present position, he should be the one to pass judgment on the merits of the trip. The committee as a whole seems somewhat unclear as to their statutory authority on this matter.

A full job description of Maloney's duties and his range of responsibilities remains unclear.

Police and fire beat

KAUKAUNA — Elizabeth Vandenberg, 1606 Florence St., reported to police this week that someone broke a side vent window to get into her locked car while it was parked in a lot in the 500 block of W. Wisconsin Avenue and stole a wallet with $26 in bills and assorted change. The wallet was hidden under the front seat. The incident occurred early Saturday morning.

Chilton barn burns

A fast burning fire early Monday evening destroyed a 176 by 40 foot barn and its contents of hay and straw at the Robert Schwobe and Sons farm, route 3. Schwobe was able to save his herd of dairy cattle, but lost a new chopper attachment in the barn. Firemen from Chilton, Stockbridge and Calumetville answered the call, and neighboring farmers hauled water from their wells in an effort to keep flames from reaching the nearby home. Schwobe said that when he returned to the barn after supper to continue blowing in grain, the south end of the structure was engulfed in flames. He gave no estimate of damage. (Connors photo)

Hospital traffic...

the people left there. Let some of the trucks come out on Meade Street.

Change traffic patterns so they're off our backs, another angry resident told Letzkus and the committee. We've borne the brunt of the problem long enough. We're grateful that it's being considered, but you have to take action.

Nobody's going to shove anything past us anymore, an irate woman told Errington.

The possibility of a truck route from Ballard Road to the north, formerly considered by the city, was repeated brought to the committee's attention by the group.

A young mother with three children under six spoke up against the opening of only Viola Street and was joined in her opposition by others who stated that Viola should be opened only if Meade became a truck route. Citizens also questioned if trucks could be restricted on their streets.

Errington and the other members of the committee, aldermen Donald Div, Fred A. Rehfeldt, William R. Div, Jr. and Bruce Stutzman requested a show of hands in support of the four proposals presented by the engineer before closing the debate.

All concurred with the fact that a signal was not needed on Meade Street and that parking should be prohibited on the north side of Grant. Two opposed the opening of Viola Street regardless of restrictions and others supported the idea if the street was open only to visitors and employees cars banning trucks. All favored the opening of a truck access on Meade Street before Viola was opened to other traffic.

In other action the committee referred for study to the city traffic engineer resolutions on one-way signs on College Avenue, alleys from Superior to Division on streets and Division to Walnut streets, no trucking signs at Bennett Street and Wisconsin Avenue and Bennett and Washington streets, a four-way stop sign at Forest and Matthias streets, a four-way stop sign at Fremont Street and Telulah Avenue, yield signs at Harrison Street at the intersection of Jefferson and Harrison streets and a study in regards to stop signs at McArthur and Drew streets.

The committee also held action on the report of the Appleton Bicycle Study Committee until the return of Police Chief Earl O. Wolff.

Three bids were received for fuel oil storage tanks and needed pumps for installation in the new city garage, but no action was taken pending tabulation of bids by Street Department Foreman Donald Schaefer.

Natrop was instructed to contact neighboring communities to determine how they handled rental or purchase of large garbage containers suitable for use at apartment buildings.

The owner of an apartment complex indicated use of a large container could eliminate 32 private garbage cans at some of his apartments and noted similar containers worked out well in Appleton and neighboring communities.

Since no money is included in the budget for purchase of the large containers which cost $275 each or the $750 unit to be mounted on the truck to handle the large containers, aldermen decided to try to determine the number of business places and apartment owners interested in use of larger containers and whether they preferred to purchase the unit or use them on a rental basis.

plan. The committee asked for an updated comparison of the costs of both alternatives. One element in increasing the long range costs of extending the one-way system to Wisconsin is the need for a second set of traffic lights there on Appleton Street just one block from Oneida.

Miller also noted that a school crossing guard would no doubt be necessary at St. Therese School at Appleton Street and Wisconsin Avenue.

The committee held an informal hearing on the project earlier this month and heard some of the same comments that were aired Monday.

Representatives of the Appleton Golden Age Club and of businesses in the area were present again Monday. The club members sought and were given assurances that access to the clubhouse on Appleton just south of Pacific would remain unimpeded.

The businessmen urged caution and questioned the design of the traffic channels on the Pacific Street link. Left turns onto Pacific from Oneida would be prevented by a traffic island, raising some objections. Miller said allowing turns would create excessive risks of accidents.

The project requires purchase of land at the northwest corner of Pacific and Oneida and the southeast corner of Appleton and Pacific to permit widening and construction of the island.

Ald. Robert Safford (7th) called the cost of the project high and said he had to ask himself whether it was justified.

Besides the $230,000 estimated construction cost for the seven block project, the cost of the land at the Pacific Street corners is estimated by the assessor's office at $60,000. But committee members said they considered the appraisals very conservative.

The project is eligible for federal aid, but Miller assured the committee he would recommend the same plan if aid were unavailable.

Services held today for Kathryn Donermeyer, bishop's housekeeper

BEAR CREEK — Funeral services both here and at Stevens Point were to be conducted today for Kathryn Donermeyer, 64, who had been housekeeper-receptionist for the Most Rev. John B. Grellinger, auxiliary bishop of Green Bay since 1957.

Miss Donermeyer died Saturday at Oshkosh after a short illness.

She was born April 6, 1910 at Stevens Point. She worked as a registered nurse for 25 years prior to becoming housekeeper-receptionist for Grellinger, who was to preside at both this morning's funeral mass here and this afternoon's service at Stevens Point. Burial was to be in St. Joseph Cemetery, Stevens Point.

Phone firm razing begins Wednesday

The first phase of a three phase multimillion dollar construction and expansion program of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. will begin Wednesday when the two-story building on the corner of Superior and Washington streets will be demolished to make room for a six-story structure.

The new building will contain modern computerized switching and call handling equipment.

New equipment will include provisions for touch tone dialing, speed dialing, the ability for residential customers to transfer calls by dialing a code and a tone signal to announce that a call is waiting when someone is already talking.

Handling the first phase of the project, which includes the demolition and foundation work, is the Theo. Utschig & Sons Inc., 3044 W. Wisconsin Ave., Appleton.

The second phase involves the construction of the six-story building on top of the foundation. The third phase involves another addition to the rear of the new building.

Completion of the first phase is slated for January, according to a spokesman for the contractors. The entire project is scheduled to be completed in 1978.

Contracts for the second and third phases have not yet been issued.

According to Mrs. Irene Witter, manager of the Appleton office of the telephone company, new developments in the communications field could be added by the time the entire project is finished.

Operator services have already expanded to include Door County and by 1975 the service would be extended to handle Berlin, Green Lake, Princeton and Redgranite.

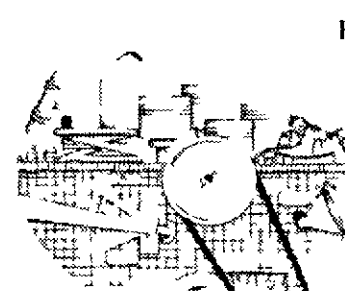

The construction and expansion project have necessitated the temporary relocation of the business and employment offices to 114 E. College Ave. That move affected 30 of the 510 employees of the company in Appleton.

The new electronic switching equipment that will be installed in the structure will replace the present crossbar system. The computerized setup operates in millionths of a second and is more efficient than the present apparatus.

Remember party details in party record book

BY CAPPY DICK

This fall and winter you will attend a number of parties and probably have several of your own. Consequently, it will be fun to start a party record book. Any notebook will be satisfactory. On the cover (Figure 1) print the words, "Record of Parties I Attended in 1974-75." Figure 2 shows the open book and Figure 3 shows how to make the entries. At the top of the page print the date of the party being recorded. Also print the name of the person who gave the party and the number of guests who attended. At "A" in Figure 3 list the games that were played. At "B" tell about the prizes that were awarded. List the refreshments that were served at "C" and at "D" give the names of all the guests you can remember. State whether someone special interested you. At "E" give the name of your escort or the person whom you escorted and list any new friends you made. The final thing to enter is your comment about the party--the kind of time you had. Chances are you can use this notebook for such entries for several years before it is filled. In this case, add the number of each additional year to the front cover.

SEND FOR THIS CAPPY DICK PARTY BOOKLET!

Mothers' fathers' grand parents! If you are planning a party for the children and need new ideas to entertain them, you'll find 45 good ones in Cappy Dick's "Birthday Party Stunts" booklet. ## Heat, humidity to continue Summer continued what could be its last hot, humid sweep of the year through Wisconsin today as temperatures and humidity soared. Air conditioners and fans went back on in Appleton when the mercury got almost to 80 Monday, with more of the same in the near future.

The U.S. Weather Service at Green Bay predicts partly cloudy skies and hot and humid temperatures tonight and Wednesday, with a chance of a few periods of showers and thunderstorms. Lows tonight will be in the low 70s, giving way to Wednesday highs near 90. Winds will be from the south at 10-18 miles per hour tonight, gusting between 15-25 m.p.h. Wednesday.

Possibility of measurable precipitation is 40 per cent tonight and Wednesday.

Thursday's outlook calls for cooler temperatures with a chance of showers and lows in the upper 50s and highs in the mid-70s. Friday and Saturday are also expected to be rainy and cooler.

Daytime lows in the mid-70s to low 80s are expected.

For the 24 hour period ending at 8 a.m. today, the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. recorded a high temperature of 89 and a low of 65. The barometer was at 30.16 and steady, winds were from the south-southwest at 12 m.p.h., humidity was 74 per cent, dew point was at 65 degrees and no measurable precipitation had been recorded.

Sunset today at 7:51 p.m. Sunrise tomorrow at 6:03 a.m. Moonset tonight at 9:02 p.m. First Quarter on Aug. 24.

Prominent Stars: Arcturus in the west at moonset. Altair high in south at 10:44 p.m.

Visible Planets: Jupiter rises at 8:41 p.m. Saturn rises at 2:42 a.m. Venus rises at 4:32 a.m.

Lake improvement plan draws interest

MADISON — Eager lake shore property owners in half a dozen Wisconsin localities have indicated their readiness to file applications for state participation in the rehabilitation of local lakes even before the state administrative machinery for the new program has been completed.

John Keener, who has been the chief of the game management division of the state Department of Natural Resources, has been transferred to the new program to build a staff that will collaborate with local sponsors in lake improvement projects using a variety of techniques thus far tested by biologists and engineers.

The law permits the formation of a new taxation district for the express purpose of providing funds for lake improvement work, with some state financing provided as incentive. The local financing would be through the levy of a special tax by the newly authorized lake improvement districts.

The tenor of discussions in the legislature indicated that the lawmakers intended to test the feasibility of such restoration work, and to review the effort later to determine the value of a broadened program.

Keener said inquiries and applications for advisory and financial assistance have come from several of the major tourist and recreational districts of the state, including northeastern Wisconsin.

The Department of Natural Resources is currently distributing a book-size report on experiments and demonstrations in this country and abroad on various methods of restoring lake water quality and fish productivity.

Introducing new group health-care coverage for small businesses

You no longer have to be big to give your employees the best benefit package.

If you employ two to twenty-four people, you can now get group health-care coverage through Blue Cross and Surgical Care Blue Shield. And because we've devised a way to consolidate many small firms into a few large groups, you receive a special group rate.

As the owner of a small business, you know how rising costs can make it difficult just to break even. And one of the biggest costs is that of keeping good, qualified people in your company. Our affordable "Two-Twenty Four Program" helps you cope with this problem — by means of a benefit package that won't be eroded by inflation.

Blue Cross and Surgical Care Blue Shield have covered most of Wisconsin's largest corporations for years. Now we'd like to offer the same kind of excellent coverage to you.

In addition to health-care protection, we offer optional benefit packages — including life and accidental death and dismemberment, disability income and Medicare supplementary programs.

Find out more about the new "Two-Twenty Four Program" for your business. From outside metropolitan Milwaukee, call 1 (800) 242-0490. Within metropolitan Milwaukee, call 445-0700. Or simply clip and mail this coupon.

Champion and Murphy combine to blank A's

OAKLAND (AP) — "It was a game of great pitching," Manager Alvin Dark summed up Monday night after his Oakland A's had lost 1-0 to the Milwaukee Brewers.

"Our pitcher was very good and theirs were even better," he added. Billy Champion and Tom Murphy combined to pitch a six-hit shutout, with the victory going to Champion.

Losing pitcher Vida Blue gave up only four hits in going all the way, but one of them was a second inning homer by George Scott.

The loss cut Oakland's lead to five games over the Kansas City Royals in the American League West.

"I can't explain my wildness," said Blue, who walked eight batters and struck out four. "I couldn't get the ball over."

Scott felt fortunate to hit a homer off Blue. "He's one of the best pitchers in the league. For every hit I've had against him, I've gone 0-for-four," Scott said.

The A's had only one serious threat in the game. A walk to Sal Bando and a single by Reggie Jackson put two runners in scoring position in the sixth inning. But Champion got Joe Rudi on a long fly to right field, and Jesus Alou grounded out to end the inning.

Murphy picked up his 15th save of the year by blanking the A's on one hit over the last two innings.

Jackson was the center of an unfortunate incident in the ninth inning when he accidentally threw his bat into the stands after popping up. The bat struck two youngsters, but they were unhurt.

Owner Charles O. Finley of the A's invited the two youngsters into the clubhouse where Jackson apologized for the incident. The boys were each given a bat, an autographed ball and an Oakland A's hat.

The A's meet the Brewers again tonight with Catfish Hunter, 17-10, pitching against Eduardo Rodriguez, 6-2, of Milwaukee.

Foxes' miscues boost Danville

DANVILLE, Ill. — Danville received a gift from the Appleton Foxes Monday and the Warriors took away a 2-1 win in 10 innings.

The gifts were in the form of a pair of unearned runs as the Appleton inner defense sprung leaks at inopportune times.

Danville was quite gracious itself leaving 15 runners stranded and having runners as far as second in eight of 10 innings.

Paul Sands, with a 5-9 record despite a glistening ERA of nearly 10 a game, was again the hard-luck hurler. Gil Stafford reached first on an error to open the 10th. Sands then wild pitched Stafford to second. Sands got the next two batters to foul out and strike out.

Dick Davis, hitless in his previous 14 times up, tomahawked a chin high fast ball and the ball eluded everyone in going into centerfield. Clyde Jeter's throw home arrived at the same time Stafford did and the winning run scored.

The Warriors scored a run in the second off starter Bobby Combs. Neil Rasmussen started the inning by reaching on an error. Roger Danson walked, but Stafford's sacrifice attempt was turned into a force out at third. Vic Marichal lined a run-scoring single to left. After Danville loaded the bases, Combs retired Sal Rosario to end the inning.

Ken St. Pierre jolted his second homer of the season in the ninth to tie the score. Pierre, who recently joined the Foxes, caught a Sam Hinds change up and belted it about 360 feet to left.

Mike Wolf followed St. Pierre's homer with a double which bounced off third base. Gary Conn relieved Hinds

Dan won't name starters

BY CLIFF CHRISTL
Post-Crescent news service

GREEN BAY — Head Coach Dan Devine said after Monday's practice that everyone, with the possible exception of running back Les Goodman, will play Saturday night against Denver.

He added, however, "I don't know who will be starting. But the men who did not suit up last Saturday night will all see some action."

Devine said Ron Widby may do some punting, and he declared that quarter backs Jim Del Gaizo and Jack Concannon will definitely play.

Center Ken Bowman, who has been in Washington, D.C. negotiations, indicated he will report to camp this week. Devine, however, said he was in the dark about it.

"I haven't heard a word from Ken," he said. "About two months ago I had a meeting with Ken on whether he was going to retire or play. That was on a Monday and he was going to call the following Monday with his decision."

"He didn't call Monday, so I called him on Tuesday and he asked for one more day and that's the last time we talked to him."

Asked if Bowman would be welcome back, Devine answered rather ambiguously. "Our policy hasn't changed any."

Commenting on the squad's attitude in practice, Devine said, "We seem to have a great attitude. The players seem to know there is a lot of work to be done and they haven't had to be reminded about it. They seem to recognize it and have gone to work on it."

Gamble pays off, LA halts streak

BY BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Baseball's premier short man went very, very long. And one of baseball's little men came on very, very big.

Mike Marshall, who usually spends an inning or two mopping up victories for Los Angeles, stayed around for six on Monday and single-handedly mopped up the Chicago Cubs as a pitcher, a hitter and, finally, a gambling base runner to give the Dodgers a 12-inning, 8-7 victory.

Joe Morgan mopped up Philadelphia, period. He crashed two home runs, a three-run blast in the second inning and a grand-slam in the third, as the Reds mangled the Phillies 15-2.

In Monday's other National League games, the San Francisco Giants beat Pittsburgh 5-3, the Atlanta Braves belted St. Louis 11-6, the Houston Astros edged New York 2-1 in 11 innings and the Montreal Expos defeated San Diego 7-4.

Marshall's play was crucial in helping the Dodgers snap their six-game losing streak and remain 2½ games ahead of the Reds in the West Division.

He led off the 12th inning with a single and moved to second on a bunt. Then Rick Auerbach hit a slow roller down the first base line. Catcher Steve Swisher and pitcher Oscar Zamora both went for the ball. While Swisher made the play at first, Marshall kept coming around from third base to cross the unguarded plate.

Reds 15, Phillies 2

Morgan's first homer gave Cincinnati a 5-0 lead, then he unloaded his first career grand slammer in nine-run third.

"Actually I hit my first grand-slam in old Crosley Field here in Cincinnati as a rookie with the Houston Astros, but Frank Robinson crawled up a fence and robbed me," the 5-foot-7 Morgan grinned.

Giants 5, Pirates 3

Dave Kingman hit a tiebreaking double in the ninth inning—a liner down the third base line which Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh insisted was foul—then scored on Ron Bryant's single in the Giants' victory over the Pirates.

Braves 11, Cardinals 6.

Two-run homers by Hank Aaron and Darrell Evans and a pair of two-run doubles by Marty Perez powered the Braves past St. Louis, wrecking Claude Osteen's debut with the Cardinals.

Aaron's 730th career homer and 17th of the year came off Osteen in the third inning. Osteen has given up 14 of Aaron's homers, more than any other active pitcher.

Astros 2, Mets 1

Milt May drove in Houston's tying run with a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning, then singled home the winner in the 11th to beat Tom Seaver and the Mets.

Expos 7, Padres 4

Montreal's Barry Foote drove in two runs, one with a tiebreaking homer that triggered a three-run seventh inning and beat the Padres.

East Germans set world marks

VIENNA (AP) — The East Germans, expected to be the dominant force in the European Swimming Championships which run through Sunday, unveiled a new weapon in Monday's races at the Stadionbad Pool.

Carla Linke, a 14-year-old blonde who is a relative newcomer to world class swimming, broke the world record for the women's 200-meter breaststroke in morning qualifying heats, then lowered it once more in capturing the finals.

The tall, slender Miss Linke broke the mark of 2 minutes, 37.89 second by taking her qualifier in 2:37.44, then smashed her own record by a whopping 2.45 seconds, winning the evening finals in 2:34.99.

Miss Linke showed little emotion after her remarkable performance.

"It was a good swim," she said, with barely a trace of a smile. "Everything went well, everything was perfect."

Not to be outdone, Kornelia Ender, East Germany's best known star, lowered her own world record in 100-meter freestyle by winning the final in 56.96 seconds. Her previous mark was 57.51.

Xavier frosh to report

Xavier High School freshman football team candidates are to report to the school at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday for equipment.

Players are to turn in their physical examination cards at that time.

Two-year probation for Illinois basketball team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — "Any time you can't participate in a post-season game, it's disappointing," said Coach Bene Bartow after learning the University of Illinois basketball team had been placed on two years probation by the NCAA.

"On the other hand," Bartow, Illinois' new basketball coach, said Monday night, "Illinois has qualified for only one playoff in the last 20 years. It's too early to evaluate how this will affect our program."

Athletic Director Cecil Coleman said, "I'm under wraps on the matter," after hearing of the announcement.

"We'll go over the whole thing Tuesday."

Under the probation, Illinois will be unable to participate in postseason basketball competition for one year and will not be able to appear on television during that time.

The NCAA also said the university would be allowed to grant only three new basketball scholarships for the 1975-76 and 1976-77 academic years.

During the probationary period, recruiting of basketball prospects will be limited to staff members of the University of Illinois.

The NCAA said that "several instances of violations of the NCAA constitution and by-laws were uncovered during the investigation, mostly connected to representatives of the institution and former employees of the institution."

Bartow, a successful coach at Memphis State, replaced Harv Schmidt at the end of the last basketball campaign.

George H. Young, chairman of the NCAA committee on infractions, said the penalties are imposed for one year only but the institution is on two years probation and limited in offering financial aid for that time.

"The penalty also covers those individuals directly responsible as well as the institution itself for not maintaining proper control over representatives of its athletic interests," said Young.

The probation is effective as of Aug. 14.

The NCAA said the violations included meals in private homes for athletes, the use of personal automobiles, providing dental service without charge to an athlete and allowing basketball players to gain free admission to movie theaters in the university area.

Gary Golden, an assistant football coach, was reprimanded for his involvement in the violations and was prohibited from recruiting for one year.

The NCAA said Golden loaned cash to an athlete to obtain his release from an athlete and provided cash to several athletes for other purposes.

Sonics obtain Archie Clark

SEATTLE (AP) — The Seattle Super-Sonics, with forwards to spare and a severe lack of experience at guard, dealt forward Dick Gibbs to the Washington Bullets for Archie Clark in a National Basketball Association trade Monday.

The Sonics, after earlier trading guard Dick Snyder to the Cleveland Cavaliers for the right to draft center Tom Burleson, had been left with only Fred Brown as an experienced guard likely to see much action.

The team's other starting guard, Don Watts, was a rookie last season.

A Sonics spokesman called Clark, an eight-year veteran from Minnesota, "one of the league's outstanding play-makers and scorers. If we were going to have a problem at guard this season we think we've solved it."

Ramirez wins Buckeye title

By The Associated Press

The bids of Mexican Raul Ramirez and Australian Colin Dibley for U.S. tennis tournament titles are over—Ramirez winning a $9,000 first-place check and Dibley being upset on the opening day of a tourney he was trying to win for the second straight year.

Ramirez, 21, won the men's singles crown at the $50,000 Buckeye Tennis Championships at Columbus, Ohio, Monday night by beating Roscoe Tanner, 3-6, 7-6, 6-4. The two are former collegiate rivals, Ramirez having played for Southern California and Tanner for Stanford.

Meanwhile Dibley, seeking to defend his singles title at the $50,000 Eastern Lawn Tennis Open at South Orange, N.J., was beaten, 6-3, 6-3 Monday afternoon by Brian Gottfried, a U.S. pro who said he has "been playing pretty well lately."

Third-seeded Tom Gorman withdrew from the Eastern because of a back injury. The tournament's two top seeds, Wimbledon champion Jimmy Connors and Russian Alex Metreveli, were scheduled to begin play today.

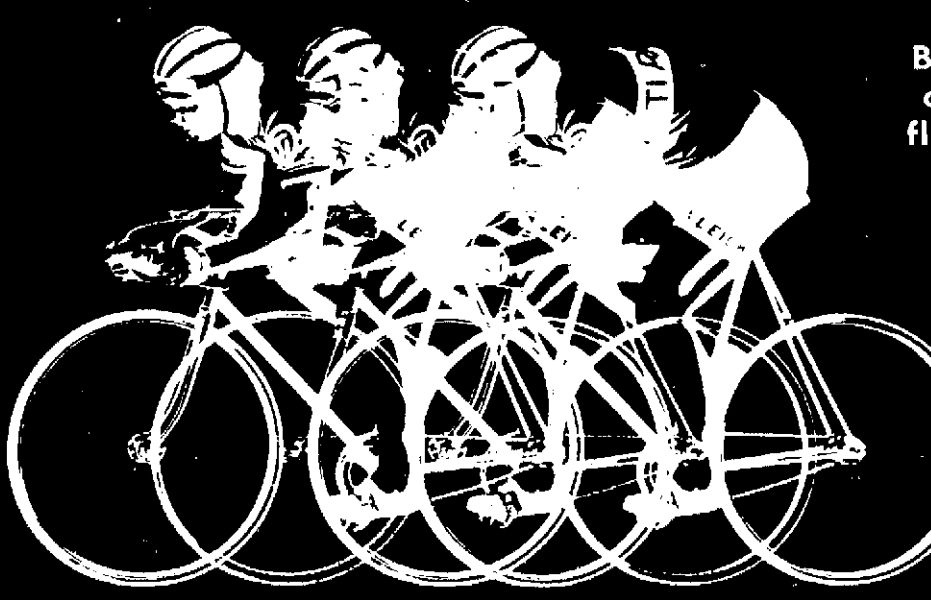

Connors' fiancée, Chris Evert, also a Wimbledon champion, was set to open play today against Kristy Pigeon in the $30,000 Women's Grass Court Championships at Newport, R.I. Second-seeded Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union also was to begin play today, against Australian Cynthia Doerner.

Monday fourth-seeded Julie Heldman eliminated unranked Carrie Meyer of Indianapolis, 6-3, 6-3 and sixth-seeded Gail Chafreanu of France beat Californian Laurie Tenney, 6-4, 6-2. But fifth-seeded Martina Navratilova of Czechoslovakia was upset by Briton Jackie Fayer, 6-2, 6-1.

In the 47th U.S. Professional Tennis Championships at Brookline, Mass., Monday, No. 5 seed Arthur Ashe had a scare and 14th-seeded John Alexander was upset.

Ashe beat Joachim LoyoMayo of Mexico, 3-6, 6-3, 7-6, winning the final-set tiebreaker game, 8-6. Patrick Cornejo of Chile ousted galexander, 7-5, 6-2.

Hendricks makes big impression

Post-Crescent news service

GREEN BAY—Ever since the Green Bay Packers consummated the trade for Ted Hendricks, Bill Tobin has been effervescing with joy.

Tobin, the Packers' Director of Pro Scouting, and Coach Dan Devine have received their share of criticism since acquiring Hendricks and a second round draft choice for Tom MacLeod and an eighth round pick. Even some of the Packer players disagreed with the swap.

But since he reported to camp last week, Hendricks, a 6-foot-7, 200-pound linebacker, has been erasing the skepticism.

Conversing with Hank Kuhlmann, special teams assistant, Tobin said, "You know how you keep building a guy up and building a guy up, and then when you get to see him he disappoints you a little. Well, this guy is even better than I thought he was."

In an interview Monday between practices, Tobin added, "It's unbelievable how a guy that tall can have that much agility and that much movement, and still be that strong."

Cornerback Willie Buchanan will play behind Hendricks on the left side and he admits to having been initially stunned by the trade.

"I didn't know until I found out what I was getting—and it's all pro. You can't shine on that," said Buchanan. "He's going to make me all-pro."

"Oh God, I'm not going to have any problems this year. I should be getting a lot of tips and interceptions."

Defensive captain and middle linebacker Jim Carter, who will play alongside Hendricks, has been similarly impressed. "He's got great range," he said. "He gets out underneath and he'll help the backs out a lot."

Hendricks, a three-time participant in the Pro Bowl at the age of 26, is just as happy to be in Green Bay.

Referring to his defensive teammates, he said, "They've accepted me very warmly. They've tried to help me as much as they can."

"They've sure got a great team attitude. I'd be very disappointed if we don't make the playoffs."

Hendricks declined to comment on his feelings about leaving Baltimore. However, it is no secret that he and Colt General Manager Joe Thomas were not very fond of each other.

The Packers have Hendricks rated the best outside linebacker in the game. Yet Thomas told a Baltimore writer that his performance had fallen off considerably the last two years.

Asked for his reaction to the comment, Hendricks replied, "I don't think Joe Thomas knows that much about football for him to make a statement like that. True, my third year was my outstanding year, but we also had an outstanding team that year."

In 1971, Hendricks' third in the league, the Colts finished 10-4, before losing to Miami in the American Football Conference championship game. The past two seasons, Baltimore has had a 9-19 cumulative record.

The trade for Hendricks brought on criticism primarily because he has signed with Jacksonville of the World Football League for 1975.

The tall, slender University of Miami product repeated again Monday that he plans to fulfill his commitment with the WFL, but he insists that won't affect his play during the upcoming campaign.

"I know I'm going to be in Jacksonville next year," he said. "So far I haven't given any thought to it yet. I'll probably think about it next May. Just like I look at every game on the schedule, I never look ahead."

At the time the trade was announced, Devine said the Packers were hopeful of having Hendricks' services beyond this year. All along, though, he has declared he will definitely play with the Sharks in '75.

Monday, when he was asked whether or not he would definitely be with them in '76, he replied, "I don't know. We'll have to see what happens."

He refused, however, to discuss the terms or length of his contract.

Dolphins top Vikings

MIAMI (AP) — The uniforms were the same and so was the result, but the Super Bowl it wasn't as the Miami Dolphins defeated the Minnesota Vikings 21-9 in a National Football League exhibition game.

Both coaches admitted their clubs weren't playing Super Bowl-quality ball in Monday night's game.

"They didn't do all the things tonight they did in the Super Bowl," said Miami Coach Don Shula, whose team won last January's title confrontation 24-7. "Our team didn't, either."

Minnesota boss Bud Grant didn't get his veterans into camp until the players' strike moratorium began last Wednesday, while 34 of 48 Miami veterans reported early.

"The Dolphins were sharp," said Grant. He added his veterans tired in their first-half workout and made a lot of execution errors.

"Those two reverses they ran were excellent," said Grant of a 58-yard scamper by Mel Baker and six-yard touchdown run by Nat Moore for the final Miami score of the game. "We haven't even given reverses to our players yet."

Both coaches went to their benches in the second half after fullback Larry Csonka had put the Dolphins ahead 14-0 on touchdown runs of one and three yards.

Minnesota, which didn't get past midfield in the first half, responded with a 27-yard field goal by Fred Cox and one-yard touchdown run by Dave Osborn behind the second-half play of rookie quarterback Mike Wells.

Wells, who completed seven of eight passes for 56 yards and ran five times for 37 more yards, left the game midway through the final quarter with a sprained right knee. Grant said the seriousness of the injury wouldn't be known until tests are taken back in Minnesota.

The bright spot for the Dolphins was the performance of running backs Csonka and Jim Kiick, who will play in the World Football League next year and hadn't entered camp until Wednesday.

Fullback Csonka ran 16 times for 61 yards. Kiick added 25 yards in eight carries and caught a 20-yard pass from quarterback Bob Griese and ran it another 24 yards.

Neither appeared bothered by some booing from the Orange Bowl crowd of 58,144 when they were introduced before the game.

"I heard some of the booing, but if they boo Joe Namath, I guess I'm good enough to be booed."

"I expected worse than that," said Csonka. "I don't think they were booing me as much as they were booing everything."

The Dolphins had to refund money to 4,500 ticket holders unhappy about the players' strike and the game turnstile count was only 58,144 in the 80,000-seat Orange Bowl.

Hofa Park wins in 11 innings

Hofa Park edged Bonduel, 8-7, in 11 innings Sunday in Dairyland Baseball League playoff action.

Hofa Park will play host to Navarino this Sunday in the playoff finals.

Losing pitcher Jim Kamke allowed a lead-off double to Mike Much, walked Del Dorn and lost the game when Dick Dorn singled.

Roger and Dick Dorn teamed for 14 strikeouts in pitching Hofa Park to the win. Roger hurled the last seven and 1/3 innings. Don Stoltenow and Larry Hiegel hit home runs for Bonduel.

Big Falls edges Leopolis, 6-5

A walk, stolen base and single by Eugene Krohn in the ninth inning gave Big Falls a 6-5 playoff win over Leopolis Sunday in Badger Amateur Baseball.

Bill Radies was the winning pitcher and Pete Kristof the loser.

Tom Kristof homered for the losers, while Jim Paiser had a two-run double in the eighth. Marlin Bailey homered and Jerry and Bill Radies doubled for Big Falls.

Tourney begins in Kimberly

KIMBERLY — Hofkens Building will meet Little Chute Pop Bottling Co. in the first game of the Kimberly Recreation Association 16-inch softball tournament, which gets under way at 6 p.m. tonight at Sunset Park.

In other action scheduled for tonight, Ray's Bowl vs. Valley Liquor at 7 p.m., Appleton Papers meets Kimberly Bank at 8 p.m., the Bottom Half encounters Bower Bros. at 9 p.m. and Jack's Rose Hill takes on Pat's Bar at 10 p.m.

The tournament will run through Aug. 30.

Salvino takes lead into finals

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — For the second straight week, Carmen Salvino of Chicago has proved his superiority over the field in a professional bowling tournament, at least over the 42-game route.

Monday night, the 40-year-old right-hander put aside all threats to his lead and as a result, leads a five-man advance into Tuesday's championship flight of a $50,000 Professional Bowlers Association tournament. When the final game had been tossed, Salvino, who won last week in Edison, N.J., giving him a dozen PBA titles, held a margin of 36 pins over Jay Robinson, Los Angeles.

Salvino, the top seed who will await the outcome of three other matches before swinging into action, wound up with 12 triumphs in 24 match games, only three of those coming in the final session. However, the 6-1 190-pound Hall of Famer spilled almost 200 more pins than Robinson and in the end that spelled the difference. With 30 bonus pins added in for each victory, the leader showed a gross pinfall of 9694 and an average of 222 for three days of play.

Robinson, whose only crown came early in 1963, was one of nine bowlers in the semifinals lineup to turn in a better win-loss mark than Salvino. The runnerup, who held a lead of 115 sticks over third-place Dave Soutar, Kansas City, Mo., lost only seven times, while Soutar was 16-8.

Rosewall, Goolagong star

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ken Rosewall and Evonne Goolagong led the Pittsburgh Triangles to a 31-10 rout of the Detroit Loves Monday night in the first match of their World Team Tennis quarter-final playoff series.

The one-sided match, Detroit's worst loss of the WTT season, gives Pittsburgh a whopping 21-game lead going into tonight's second and final match of the quarter-final playoff. The winner will be determined on a total-score basis.

Miss Goolagong whipped Rosie Casals by a surprising 6-1 score in women's singles to start Pittsburgh off, while player-coach Rosewall dumped Detroit's Phil Dent and substitute Butch Seewagen by the same score in men's singles. Pittsburgh went on to take all three doubles matches as well.

In other playoff action, the Philadelphia Freedoms overcame player-coach Billie Jean King's 6-1 loss to Nancy Richey Gunter in women's singles and scored a 26-22 victory over the Cleveland Nets by winning all three doubles matches.

John Newcombe routed Bob Hewitt 6-1 in men's singles to lead the Houston EZ Riders to a 28-19 triumph over the Minnesota Bucksins. Houston won four of the five matches, dropping only the men's doubles to Hewitt and Owen Davidson.

Francoise Durr started Denver off with a 6-1 victory over Barbara Downs

Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner gave the Boston Red Sox his best 1-2 punch right off the bat Monday night but Bill Lee and Diego Segui saw to it that not much punch at all came off the White Sox' bats.

Remembering back to May 31, when he had sluggers Dick Allen and Bill Melton batting in the 1-2 spots and they delivered consecutive third-inning homers off Lee for all the runs in a 3-2 Chicago triumph, Tanner tried it again.

This time, they managed only a single apiece and Allen ended Chicago's only real threat with a double-play grounder in the eighth inning as the Red Sox rolled to a 6-1 victory and stretched their lead in the American League's East Division to five games over idle Cleveland.

Elsewhere, the Milwaukee Brewers nipped the Oakland A's 1-0, the Minnesota Twins whipped the New York Yankees 6-2 and the California Angels blanked the Detroit Tigers 1-0. Baltimore, Kansas City and Texas also were idle.

Lee and Segui combined on a five-hitter. Lee blanked the White Sox on three hits until the eighth when his arm stiffened and he needed help from Segui after Chicago scored its only run on a walk and singles by Pete Varney and Bucky Dent.

Toughest issues face
NFL owners, players

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League Players Association strike entered its 51st day today and the toughest negotiating appears to lie ahead for the players and owners.

John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, bargaining arm of the clubs, said Monday that the owners and the Players Association still have substantial differences.

"I wish I could say I was optimistic," said Thompson, looking somewhat worn after the latest round of negotiations which ended Saturday with a new offer from the players which was immediately rejected by the owners.

Thompson said there are about 10 issues still separating the two sides but described them as the "toughest, gut issues," in the conflict.

One of the major areas of disagreement remains the length of the contract. The players' last offer was for a short pact running only for the duration of the 1974 season and expiring Jan. 31. The owners, obviously, would prefer a longer term.

"We seek a long-term contract so that we can settle the game and return normalcy to it," said Thompson. "Frankly, we think the game can't stand another year like we've been going through. It has had a substantial impact on the economics of the game."

Thompson said the strike had cost the owners approximately $500,000 in pre-season income.

"Before negotiations began," said Thompson, "our individual player contracts were up an average of 35 per cent because of the emergence of the World Football League. That is an estimated $17 million more than one year ago for regular season payrolls. That money, going directly from the clubs to the players, makes it difficult to meet the union's collective demands. The strike itself has reduced income and increased the money gap."

In another area, the players claimed to have dropped demands on the controversial Rozelle Rule, which permits Commissioner Pete Rozelle to set compensation for a club losing a player who plays out his option and moves to another team.

"We do not consider their proposal a compromise or a concession," said Thompson. "They could come back at us Feb. 1 or as soon as the contract ends. The players still do not accept our system and that is an integral part of our system. They say they will continue to seek total elimination of that rule in the courts."

What makes the bargaining so difficult, said Thompson, is a mutual distrust by both sides for each other. "It's unfortunate, but real," he said. "We have to share in that guilt."

Part of the reason for that distrust, according to Thompson, was pro football's last labor dispute in 1970. "Settlement was reached on Aug. 3, 1970 and both sides shook hands," said Thompson. "But the contract wasn't signed until June, 1971 because of disagreement between attorneys for both sides over the terms."

"We had a great run," Coach John Jardine said. "Everyone was able to finish the prescribed number of laps in 12 minutes. Last year several guys were struggling and stopped. The big thing was this year nobody quit, nobody stopped."

Even sophomore defensive tackle John Rasmussen, who weighed in at 297 pounds, ran 1 1/2 miles in 12 minutes, Rasmussen, a highly regarded MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Backup quarterback Rick Christian became the first casualty Monday as 102 players, including 31 lettermen, reported for the University of Wisconsin's first football practice of the season.

Christian, sophomore from Danville, Ill., will be sidelined indefinitely after splitting and dislocating his right index finger while taking a center snap.

An exhaustive two mile, 12 minute run opened practice at 6 a.m. Defensive back Bill Drummond, Racine, ran 2 1/4 miles, best distance on the squad for the 12 minutes.

Tech refuses to rent to WFL

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia Tech refused Monday a request that it permit its football stadium, Grant Field, to become the home base of the Orlando Blazers of the World Football League.

The decision apparently killed any immediate move to Atlanta by the Orlando team because Grant Field was the only suitable stadium available.

A Tech spokesman said the decision was made unanimously by the board of trustees of the Georgia Tech Athletic Association.

The spokesman said the board felt permitting a professional football team former all-stater from Milwaukee Plus, had off-season knee surgery and ballooned to well over 300 pounds.

"With the maturity we have, there's a great possibility we'll surprise a lot of people," Jardine said. "If enough people who were injured last season look as healthy as they do right now, we'll be a lot stronger."

Flanker Randy Rose, missed the first practice after fluid was drained from his right knee. The ailment was not considered serious.

TRY POST-CRESCENT to use the field would interfere with Tech's athletic program and bring the distraction of large crowds onto the campus.

Orlando General Manager Rommie Loudd and Atlanta businessmen David and Jack Pendley had sought permission to rent Grant Field for the Blazers.

Loudd said a group of Atlanta businessmen had offered $2 million to move the team to Georgia. But he said he would prefer to keep the club in Orlando.

Ford pledges to help veterans, names VA chief

By FRANCIS LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — President Ford today named his "personal friend and former congressional colleague" Richard L. Roudsbusch of Indiana to be the new administrator of Veterans Affairs. Ford promised to see that veterans are "not just a digit in a computer system that sometimes goofs."

He warned, however, that with America "fighting for its economic life," he would not hesitate to veto any bill, including the pending veterans education bill to control "inflationary excesses."

"I am open to conciliation and compromise on the total amount authorized so that we can protect veteran tramees against the rising cost of living," the President said.

Ford, making the first trip in his new presidency, came to Chicago to address the 75th annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the International Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

He spoke to them as a fellow veteran — having served in the Navy in World War II — pledging to work for more jobs for veterans, better hospital facilities and a humanized and better-run VA administration.

Ford reiterated his commitment to a strong national defense, warning that he would "offer no temptations" to potential adversaries who watch U.S. readiness.

He pledged that "just as America will maintain its nuclear deterrent strength," we will never fall behind in negotiations to control and hopefully reduce this threat to mankind."

Noting that "peace and security require preparedness and dedication," Ford added, "Good will must never be misconstrued as a lack of will."

It had been expected that Ford might announce here that he would sign a veterans bill that would provide a 23 percent increase in monthly payments for veterans attending school under the GI bill. The measure has been approved by Senate-House conferees and was expected to pass both houses this week.

Ford's comments here, indicated, however, that he is still looking for some anti-inflationary cuts in veterans' measures and perhaps in the huge defense budget as well.

"If we can send men thousands of miles from home to fight in rice paddies, certainly we can send them back to school and to better jobs at home," the President said.

"I am considering the veterans education bill in this light," he added. "But your government is constrained by another consideration. We are all soldiers in a war against brutal inflation."

He said he was working hard on "a nonpartisan battle plan against excessive government spending." And, "I will not hesitate to use the veto to control inflationary excesses."

Ford said his new administration was pledged to humanize the VA and improve its management.

"I want no arrogance or indifference to any individual, veteran or not," he said. "The government's machinery exists to serve people and not to frustrate or humiliate them."

There was a small welcoming crowd at O'Hare International Airport for the President's arrival. Among several hundred persons on hand were some sign carriers with placards reading, "Welcome President Ford" and "Cook County Republicans welcome President Ford."

Ford said his newly named VA administrator, a former VFW commander in chief, now deputy VA administrator, is "a man who gets things done."

He will succeed Donald Johnson.

U.S. ambassador killed in Greek Cypriot protest

By The Associated Press

The American ambassador to Cyprus, Rodger P. Davies, was shot to death today when a mob of Greek Cypriots attacked the U.S. Embassy in Nicosia to protest American policy in the Cyprus crisis.

Cypriot President Glafcos Clerides announced Davies' death over Cyprus Radio after visiting the embassy. "I denounce this terrible crime against Cyprus in the strongest terms and express my deepest sorrow and sympathy," he said.

Witnesses said at least some of the shots were fired by men known to be members of EOKA-B, the pro-Greek underground guerrilla group that helped overthrow President Makarios last month.

A Cypriot woman employee at the embassy was killed and two others working at the embassy were wounded in the attack.

Davies, 53, a veteran diplomat, had been deputy assistant secretary for Near East and Southeast Asian affairs before being assigned to Cyprus on July 10, five days before Makarios was overthrown.

Witnesses said the demonstrators fired at the embassy after U.S. Marines threw tear gas to try to disperse the mob, which moments earlier set Davies' black limousine on fire.

The limousine exploded like a bomb when flames reached the gas tank, and black billows of smoke were visible halfway across the capital.

The Turks made fresh advances south of Nicosia over the weekend, cutting one of the two major roads between the capital and the south coast and advancing toward the second highway. But a U.N. spokesman said there were no reports of fighting during the night.

President Ford said he was "shocked and deeply saddened" by Davies' death. "This tragic incident emphasizes the urgent need for the end to the violence on Cyprus and an immediate return to negotiations for a peaceful settlement," Ford said in a statement.

In Athens, Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis said the killing was "an abominable crime," and said the Greek government would respond to such acts "with unreserved severity."

In Athens' Constitution Square some 3,000-4,000 demonstrators rioted and chanted "Americans out" and "Greece save Cyprus." Seven persons were injured, police said. Extra police were assigned to protect the U.S. Embassy in Athens.

Greek Cypriots on Cyprus have become increasingly frustrated over Turkish military advances on the island since the Turks invaded it July 20. Last week a blitz-like Turkish assault left the Turks in solid control of the northern third of the island.

Just prior to learning of the mob attack on the U.S. Embassy, President Clerides held a news conference during which he declared Cyprus would not negotiate under force "in Cyprus, outside Cyprus, in this world or the next."

He avoided a direct answer when asked if he will insist on a full Turkish withdrawal before peace talks. He said talks must be held "in the spirit of negotiation and not in the spirit of an ultimatum."

Envoy new on job

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rodger P. Davies, the U.S. ambassador to Cyprus who was killed today when a Greek Cypriot mob stormed the U.S. Embassy in Nicosia, had officially taken his post on the Mediterranean island only five days before the Cyprus crisis began.

Davies, 53, presented his credentials on July 10. On July 15, the Greek-led Cypriot national guard deposed Archbishop Makarios and seized control of the Mediterranean island, triggering an invasion by Turkish forces five days later.

Davies was a 26-year veteran of the foreign service. A specialist in Middle Eastern affairs, he had last served as deputy assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern and South Asian affairs.

Davies joined the foreign service in 1946, and attended the service institute for Arabic training. His assignments included posts in Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Libya and Iraq.

Born in Berkeley, Calif., Davies attended the University of California at Berkeley.

Davies' wife had died a year ago, and he is survived by two children. Both were evacuated to Beirut, Lebanon, earlier in the Cyprus crisis.

In Washington, Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger said Turkey "has gone beyond what any of its friends or sympathizers are prepared to accept." Speaking on the CBS-TV program "Face the Nation," he said the United States would reexamine its position in the Cyprus crisis in view of the "unexpected" Turkish military advances.

Thousands of Americans of Greek descent demonstrated peacefully on Sunday, marching around the White House for four hours to protest U. S. policies on Cyprus. President Ford, who was playing golf at the time, did not see the protest.

Moving south from the Lefka-Nicosia-Famagusta line the Turks established across northern Cyprus last week, Turkish troops seized Pyri, a Greek Cypriot village 10 miles south of Nicosia on the highway from the capital to Larnaca, on the southeast coast.

From Pyri, the Turkish tanks and infantry moved west toward the highway to Limassol, on the south coast. An earlier report that the Limassol road was cut proved incorrect, but during the night more Turkish tanks and armored personnel carriers crossed the Larnaca road and headed southwest.

The Turkish forces appeared to be heading both for the large Turkish town of Louroujina, four miles away, and the large Greek Cypriot town of Dali, four miles northwest of Louroujina and only a mile from the Nicosia-Limassol highway. If the Turks cut that highway, the capital's only access to the rest of the island would be a single-lane dirt road leading south over the Troodos mountains.

Reports that the Turks were encircling Nicosia touched off a second panicked flight from the city on Sunday by

Economic agency approval near

WASHINGTON (AP) — One week after President Ford requested legislation creating an inflation-monitoring task force, Congress is nearing passage of the bill.

Both the House and Senate have set floor action on the bill for today and it is expected that congressional action will be completed during the day.

Democrats and many Republicans are skeptical whether the proposed Cost of Living Task Force, which would not have any enforcement power, could lower the nation's inflation rate.

However, in the spirit of conciliation with the new President, they say they are willing to give him the legislation he asked for in a speech to Congress last Monday.

Also today, the House resumes debate on a $20 billion, six-year mass transit bill which Ford says he wants cut sharply.

Rep. John H. Rousselot, a conservative California Republican who believes budget cuts would do more than any task force could to curtail inflation, recalled that Congress had balked at giving former President Richard M. Nixon similar authority last spring.

He then added: "Why this change now? It is because we have a new President and we are anxious to support him. But this does not make an idea any better than it was when it was rejected four months ago."

The task force has about 25 staffers and the policy would be directed by a coalition of the President's economic advisers. These would include the secretaries of treasury, agriculture, commerce and labor.

The House is expected to wrap up action on the mass transit bill, which would provide operating subsidies for the first time as well as grants for buying equipment.

Ford supports GOP congressional efforts to trim the bill to $11 billion but Democrats hope to hold the line at $15.8 billion.

During the weekend, the American Automobile Association said the bill contains a little-noticed provision which would expand the weight limits of trucks allowed on interstate highways to 90,000 pounds, something the AAA said the trucking industry has sought to get in a six-year lobbying drive.

They said it would endanger motorists, put more stress on "the nation's already critically deficient bridges and cost the states between $50 million and $100 million annually to repair truck-caused damage."

On Tuesday, the Senate will try for the third time to cut off debate on legislation creating a consumer protection agency. The two previous attempts to cut off a filibuster lost by 10 and 7 votes and the prospects for success this week are not considered good.

Week long coal shutdown begins

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Coal miners began a week long work stoppage today at mines producing more than three-quarters of the nation's coal, an action that will deplete already low stockpiles at steel mills and power plants.

Union leaders are calling it a memorial period, a device in the current United Mine Workers contract intended to allow the miners mourning periods — without pay — for those killed in mine accidents.

But this memorial period, which began at midnight Sunday, comes at a time when coal-using industries would like to be building their stockpiles in preparation for a possible strike when the UMW contract expires on Nov. 12.

U. S. Steel, the nation's largest producer of steel and a heavy coal consumer, reported last week that its stockpiles were down to 11 days' supply. Jones & Laughlin, sixth ranked, said its stockpiles were "already too low for the operation levels required by the strong steel market."

The National Coal Association's latest figures show that as of June 1, before the UMW's annual mass two-week vacation period, electric utilities had a 92-day supply. The Tennessee Valley Authority, which gets two-thirds of its coal from UMW mines, reported last week that some of its generating stations were down to as little as 12 days of coal.

The stoppage will idle some 120,000 UMW members and close an estimated 1,200 underground and surface mines in about a dozen states. It will cost the nation about nine million tons of coal, according to estimates by the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, the industry group that negotiates with the UMW, and will cost miners $25 million in lost wages.

A side issue — but easily the most volatile one — is a firm UMW drive to establish a union beachhead in eastern Kentucky with a strike against the Brookside Mining Co., a subsidiary of the Duke Power Co.

Negotiations for a contract there are deadlocked and the year-long strike has been marked by sporadic incidents of violence.

Because it would be considered an illegal secondary boycott, the union cannot openly describe the shutdown as putting pressure on the coal industry to support its drive at Brookside.

Newsgirl, mistaken for hitman, slain near Detroit

HIGHLAND PARK, Mich. (AP) — Twelve-year-old Edith Perchman was delivering the Detroit Free Press on her regular route when she approached the Rudolph Acosta residence in Highland Park.

It was about 5 a.m. Sunday and still dark. Her father, Marion, who always drove her, was waiting in his car with Edith's 11-year-old sister and one of her friends.

Edith was about to flip the newspaper onto Acosta's front porch when a shotgun blast from a window in the house sprayed her in the face.

She fell in the yard, but pulled herself up and was stumbling toward her father's car when a man appeared on the porch with a pistol and began firing.

Police say Edith was hit at least 15 times in the two shootings. But it was not immediately known how many bullet wounds she suffered after being hit by the shotgun pellets.

She died after being admitted to a local hospital.

The girl's father, who drives a delivery truck for the Free Press, told police he also was fired at as he pulled his daughter into the car from a grassy strip between the sidewalk and the curb.

Perchman was not hit, but as he sped off the car door flew open and Edith fell to the pavement. Perchman lost control and his car skidded into a nearby house.

Perchman was hospitalized in serious condition with internal injuries. Edith's sister and friend were not hurt.

Acosta, 24, who told police he mistook the girl for a "hit man," was arraigned on charges of manslaughter and freed on $2,500 bond. An examination was set for Sept. 10. Police said he surrendered without a struggle when officers arrived at his house.

Police said Acosta was not charged with murder because he did not intend to kill the girl. Detective Donald Roberts said state police had told Acosta that someone was out to kill him in connection with the drug-related death of another individual, and that Acosta apparently thought the girl was the assailant.

Police said Perchman's car was the same color as one believed driven by the real "hit man."

Some 200 angry neighbors gathered at city hall in this Detroit enclave and demanded that Acosta be jailed and charged with murder.

Sheriff still silent on shooting

WAUPACA — The county sheriff's office, awaiting a state crime laboratory report, remained silent today about its investigation of the shooting death Thursday of Mrs. Gladys Dev. 35, route 2, Marion.

Mrs. Dev died at about 9:30 a.m. Thursday after being taken from her home to the Clintonville Community Hospital by the rescue squad.

Attorney general's officers are expected to bring information to Waupaca today from the state crime laboratory. No information will be released until after the results of crime laboratory analyses are examined, according to Robert Andrasko, Waupaca County chief deputy.

The woman's widower, Robert, has said he was at work when the shooting occurred. The Clintonville Volunteer Rescue Squad was called by a daughter of Mrs. Dev.

Also at home when the shooting occurred were her three daughters, a son, and Mrs. Helen Parker, her mother.

Other immediate survivors are the widower, four sisters and a brother.

3 to be nominated to New London river panel

NEW LONDON — Three more residents, representing the chamber of commerce, Lions Club and Rotary Club, will be nominated to serve on the parks and rivers plan advisory committee when the City Council meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Aldermen two weeks ago refused to approve three nominees because they were not residents of the city. The group will work with the East Central Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission while that agency prepares a comprehensive parks and rivers plan.

Park projects at Forest Junction taking shape

FOREST JUNCTION — The volunteer fire department and Civic League are taking steps to improve Forest Memorial Park.

A new entrance from Church Street in the village has been laid out and forms have been constructed for the pouring of a concrete floor. Volunteer labor will be used to complete the erection of the building, which will be used as a kitchen next week.

The sixth annual joint picnic will be Aug. 29 at the park. A chicken barbecue is scheduled for 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The bucket brigade featuring neighboring fire departments begins at 1:30 p.m. that day.

Free kiddie rides will be provided, and hamburgers and brats will be sold all day.

Bearded ones win awards at Manawa

MANAWA — Bearded winners in a contest at the Manawa Centennial here were Ronald Vaughn, best groomed mustache, Lee Smith, best groomed beard, Willard Noyes, longest beard, Verlyn Steinbach, longest mustache, and Melvin Bonikowski, best combination beard and mustache.

Road fatalities

Five persons were killed in three area crashes late Saturday and early Sunday. Above, Sgt. Le Roy Ziegler gives a statement to Deputy Coroner Thomas Verhagen at the scene of a double fatality accident near Nichols. Below right, a worker observes the wreckage of an auto which wrapped around a telephone pole south of Clintonville. Two Clintonville men died in the crash. (Post-Crescent photos)

BY FERN SMITH
Post-Crescent staff writer

WEYAUWEGA — A meeting has been scheduled for 10 a.m. Aug. 28 at Lakeview Manor to assess its operation as a licensed, skilled care nursing home.

The meeting was set after a visit there earlier this month by a representative from the ombudsman office of Lt. Gov. Martin J. Schreiber, who then contacted Supv. Woodrow Smith, chairman of the Waupaca County Board. Attending the meeting will be the executive committee of the county board, the Lakeview Manor board of trustees, and Jerry Robinson from the ombudsman office.

The first report of the ombudsman's visit to Lakeview Manor, formerly the Waupaca County Hospital, was given Aug. 13 by Smith. He told the supervisors he received a call from the ombudsman office on Aug. 9 and was asked, "What are you going to do about the place at Weyauwega?"

Smith said the caller had received a letter of complaint about the home. The caller said it was the function of the ombudsman to investigate such complaints.

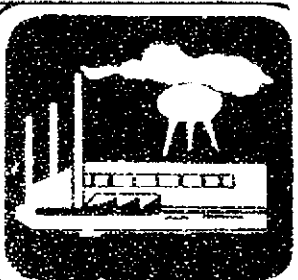

The caller then said, according to Smith, "Conditions there are pretty bad, terrible, hell hole."

Smith told the caller from the ombudsman office that Lakeview Manor was

5 persons die in weekend area crashes

The deaths early Sunday of three persons in two Outagamie County accidents raised to five the number of those killed in area crashes during the weekend.

Killed in Sunday's accidents were Thomas R. Hartlaben, 16, route 1, Shiocton; Barbara L. Peters, 23, route 1, Shiocton; and Thomas L. Glatz, 20, route 1, Black Creek.

Killed in a late Saturday crash south of Clintonville were Charles Balke, 21, and Mark Fandrey, 22, both of Clintonville.

Nine other persons died in weekend accidents around the state, raising the 1974 Wisconsin toll to 525 compared with 689 on this date one year ago.

Hartlaben was dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:45 a.m., about 1½ hours after the car in which he and four other persons were riding went out of control, crossed over the center line into a ditch, flipped twice and broke off a power pole. The accident took place on State 156 near Eskman Road in the Town of Maine.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said Hartlaben died of a broken neck and basal skull fracture.

His brother, Ronald, 14, remained in critical condition today at St. Elizabeth. He suffered a broken neck and arm injuries.

The two are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Hartlaben.

Three other persons were treated at St. Elizabeth and later released. They included the driver, Daniel C. Zelzer, 17, Nichols; hip and elbow injuries; Kenneth L. Moes, 16, Nichols; head, neck and elbow injuries; and Tracy L. Poes, 13, Navarino; neck, hip and arm injuries.

Zelzer told police the five had been at an area dance hall and were headed east on 156 toward Nichols. He said the hood of the 1968 model auto flew up, blocking his vision and causing him to lose control of the vehicle.

Zelzer told Kemps the hood's main latch was broken and that the hood was held in place only by a safety latch.

The coroner is continuing his investigation.

gation, and said he has not ruled out the possibility of calling an inquest. Funeral arrangements for Hartlaben are being handled by the Muehl Funeral Home, Black Creek.

Glatz and Mrs. Peters died after Glatz's car and a van truck driven by Mrs. Peters' husband collided at Bruggen and Grandy roads.

Both persons were pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner Thomas Verhagen. He ruled that Mrs. Peters died of severe head and chest injuries while Glatz sustained severe head injuries.

Mrs. Peters' husband, Martin, 26, was reported in serious condition today at St. Elizabeth with head cuts, chest back and hip injuries.

Police said the Peters van was northbound.

Ex-Stockbridge man slain in Valparaiso, Ind.

VALPARAISO, Ind. — A former Stockbridge man, William Wilson, was killed at his home here Friday night and his wife was seriously injured.

Several charges, including first degree murder, have been filed against Mrs. Wilson's son-in-law, Daniel S. Miller, 19.

Valparaiso police said Wilson, 59, died instantly of two gunshot wounds to the head. His wife is in the intensive care unit of a hospital here with two gunshot wounds to the back of her neck. Police believe a .32 caliber revolver figured in the shootings.

Police allege that after the shootings, Miller fled in a stolen car with a 14-year-old girl he had abducted. About an hour later, police charge, he held up a service station in nearby Lake County. He was captured after a high-speed chase, police said.

Miller, who is being held in the Lake County jail, is charged with first degree murder, auto banditry, kidnapping, rape and assault and battery with intent to kill. Charges were filed by authorities in Lake and Porter counties.

Police indicated there had been serious disagreements in the past between Miller and the Wilsons. A battery charge brought by Wilson is pending against Miller, police stated.

Miller was married to Mrs. Wilson's daughter, Wilson, and the injured woman in the murder recently.

Wilson was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wilson of Stockbridge. Funeral services for Wilson will be held Tuesday morning in Valparaiso.

Among Wilson's survivors are four sisters and two brothers living in the Fox Valley area. They include Mrs. Anthony Wynyard and Mrs. Verona Nabehagen of Kaukauna; Mrs. Gladys Verhagen of Kimberly; Mrs. Donald Kossman of Chilton; and Robert and Norbert Wilson of Stockbridge.

Nursing home under study

WEYAUWEGA — A meeting has been scheduled for 10 a.m. Aug. 28 at Lakeview Manor to assess its operation as a licensed, skilled care nursing home.

The meeting was set after a visit there earlier this month by a representative from the ombudsman office of Lt. Gov. Martin J. Schreiber, who then contacted Supv. Woodrow Smith, chairman of the Waupaca County Board. Attending the meeting will be the executive committee of the county board, the Lakeview Manor board of trustees, and Jerry Robinson from the ombudsman office.

The first report of the ombudsman's visit to Lakeview Manor, formerly the Waupaca County Hospital, was given Aug. 13 by Smith. He told the supervisors he received a call from the ombudsman office on Aug. 9 and was asked, "What are you going to do about the place at Weyauwega?"

Smith said the caller had received a letter of complaint about the home. The caller said it was the function of the ombudsman to investigate such complaints.

The caller then said, according to Smith, "Conditions there are pretty bad, terrible, hell hole."

Smith told the caller from the ombudsman office that Lakeview Manor was mudsman office that Lakeview Manor was working with the division of mental hygiene for four months. It was licensed as a skilled nursing home, it had more than doubled its staff, hired an engineer and met with the trustees.

And he tells me nothing is being done," Smith added.

We have added two registered nurses and eight nurses aides and it hasn't progressed. I don't know what is," he said.

The supervisor was critical of Schreiber and the ombudsman office. "I hope you will stand behind me," he told the

Ford nominates Rockefeller for vice president, 'teammate'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today nominated Nelson A. Rockefeller to be vice president, saying the former New York governor will "make a great teammate."

The choice is subject to congressional approval, a virtual certainty.

Rockefeller said he was deeply honored at the call to serve Ford and "through him all the people of this great country."

Ford said he was confident Rockefeller will be approved by the required majorities in the House and Senate. "I wouldn't have picked someone who wouldn't be," the President said.

Ford presented Rockefeller in a nationally televised, Oval Office ceremony. Then he took his chosen partner to the White House press room, where Rockefeller, answering questions, said he assumes Ford will be a candidate for election to the presidency in 1976.

Rockefeller, 66, said he had not discussed the political future with Ford. Asked who he thought would be on the ticket with Ford in 1976, Rockefeller replied "You're way down the road ahead of me."

Formally announcing the nomination, Ford said Rockefeller will be "a good partner for me and I think a good partner for our country and the world."

Then, in the press room, he added "I think he'll make a great teammate. I think he will be good for the country. I think he'll be good for the world and I'm looking forward to working with him."

At his brief news conference, Rockefeller, a member of one of the nation's wealthiest families, fended off questions about his personal finances, but said he will make whatever disclosures are required in the congressional confirmation process.

He refused to divulge his net worth at the news conference, bluntly telling questioners "You're not the committee of Congress."

"I will do two things," he said. "I will conform totally with whatever the law requires, and I will answer any questions members of Congress feel appropriate."

As for his vast holdings, he said he assumed they would be placed in trust.

Ford said the selection was "a tough call." Rockefeller said the President first contacted him directly Saturday — the day the White House dismissed published allegations that Rockefeller money had financed efforts to disrupt the 1972 Democratic national convention.

Rockefeller said Ford told him Monday night that he was the choice for vice president.

From the time Richard M. Nixon resigned on Aug. 9, Rockefeller had been rated a prime prospect in vice presidential speculation.

His name and that of Republican National Chairman George Bush dominated the 11 day guessing game. Ford managed to keep his secret until the formal announcement.

Bush said the choice of Rockefeller was outstanding, that "one couldn't find a man of more stature and who possesses more administrative ability."

be confirmed in 35 to 40 days rather than the 75 days it took for Ford's confirmation.

Following the question-and-answer session with reporters, Rockefeller was to fly to Maine to continue his vacation, going first to Bar Harbor and then to Seal Harbor.

Rockefeller at Ford's side in the Oval Office of the President said he came to the job in "very serious times," requiring the closest cooperation between Congress and the White House.

They also require the dedication of every American to our common national interest, Rockefeller said. He said Ford's dedication and openness already have reawakened faith and hope in America.

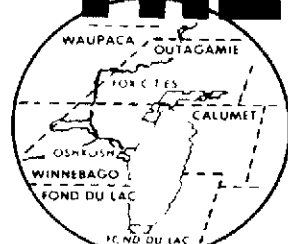

Rockefeller said Americans have the will, determination and ability to overcome the hard realities of our times.

I'm optimistic about the long term future, Rockefeller said.

With that, congressional leaders and the Cabinet assembled for the nationally televised announcement applauded the new vice president designate.

Ford said he made the choice after a great deal of soul searching, after considering the advice of members of

Ford offers leniency to war draft evaders

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's surprise offer of leniency to Vietnam era war evaders has muted congressional critics of any form of amnesty and opened a new debate on the degree of forgiveness the nation should extend.

Many congressional leaders agree with Ford that blanket immunity is not an appropriate remedy.

But many said that some form of conditional amnesty, probably alternative civilian service, is needed to end the voluntary exile of thousands of young men.

In a major shift in policy from the past two administrations, Ford told the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago on Monday that his administration proposes a policy of "earned re-entry."

"So I am throwing the weight of my presidency into the scales of justice on the side of leniency," Ford said. "I reject amnesty, and I reject revenge."

"In my judgment, these young Americans should have a second chance to contribute their fair share to the rebuilding of peace among ourselves."

Ford said he had ordered Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger to begin a case-by-case review of 50,000 men convicted, charged or sought for draft evasion or desertion.

A Justice Department spokesman said the department is "seeking a meeting as early as possible with Department of Defense and Selective Service officials" to examine ways to accomplish the objective Ford announced.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who has favored complete amnesty for those who opposed the war as a matter of conscience, called Ford's initiative "a fresh breeze from the White House."

"He's opening the door," said assistant Senate Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

"I think it's a courageous and appropriate move, reflecting the earnest desire of this President to bring the country together and heal the wounds."

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said an approach to conditional amnesty is one of the measures he has urged on the White House as a "means of loosening up the tensions in the country."

Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said "I think it was a very right thing to do. It was both humane and practical and a perfectly sound approach."

Spokesman for resisters takes dim view of offer

TORONTO Ont. (AP) — Representatives of American draft evaders and deserters living in Canada have responded coolly to President Ford's offer of "earned re-entry" for the exiles.

The President's offer was "no way to establish a reconciliation," said Gerry Condon, 27, a deserter from the Green Berets and managing editor of the war resisters' magazine Amex Canada.

"Many people want to go back very badly, including myself, but we don't want to go back under conditions like this," he said.

Ford told the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago on Monday that he would "throw the weight of my presidency into the scales of justice on the side of leniency."

In a major policy shift from the Nixon administration, Ford proposed a program of "earned re-entry" presumably some form of public service in lieu of prosecution for the estimated 50,000 exiles.

But the president stressed that he rejected blanket amnesty.

"I reject amnesty and I reject revenge," he said.

Condon said the president had taken "a very tough stand. It's just asking for another pound of flesh from people who resisted a war they felt was illegal and immoral."

He estimated 25,000 Vietnam exiles are living in Canada.

D.E. Charles Knight, 28, a member of the U.S. National Council for Universal and Unconditional Amnesty, said Ford's position was "what we refused in January, 1972."

"It's a far more sophisticated position than that held by Richard Nixon, but it is no less conservative and it won't be of interest to many war resisters in Canada," Knight said.

Rocky optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a text of the statement made by former New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller after President Ford announced his nomination as vice president today.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and leaders of the Congress, Mr. Secretary of State and members of the Cabinet and friends: Mr. President, your nomination of me to be vice president of the United States under the 25th Amendment of the Constitution makes me very humble.

If I am confirmed it will be my great honor to serve you and through you to serve all the people of this great country. As you pointed out in your moving message to the Congress, these are very serious times. They are times as you pointed out that require the closest cooperation between the Congress of the United States and the executive branch of government. They also require the dedication of every American to our common national interest.

You, Mr. President, through your dedication and your openness, have already reawakened faith and hope and under your leadership we the people and we as a nation have the will and the determination and the capability to overcome the hard realities of our time. I'm optimistic about the long-term future. Thank you.

Warrants issued in envoy slaying

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warrants were issued in Nicosia today for the arrest of three persons in connection with the slaying of the U.S. ambassador to Cyprus, Rodger P. Davies.

Davies was killed during an anti-American riot at the embassy in Nicosia on Monday, and Greek, Turkish and Cypriot leaders expressed shock and abhorrence over the slaying.

The names of the three suspects and further details of the police investigation into the riot were not disclosed in an official Greek Cypriot government statement, announcing the issue of the warrants.

U.S. sources in Nicosia said the embassy might be closed temporarily, and an official said unessential files were being burned "to make the job quicker if we decide to go."

But there was no indication from the State Department in Washington of any such action. Lindsay Grant, the embassy's second in command, was flown from a vacation in Scotland to replace Davies.

There were these other developments:

in the Cyprus situation.

—The British government in London announced it began a new initiative toward resuming Cyprus peace talks by sounding out the possibilities for compromise with Cyprus President Glafcos Clerides. It said similar diplomatic contacts were planned with Foreign Ministers George Mavros of Greece and Turan Guney of Turkey and Rauf Denktaş, the Turkish Cypriot vice president of Cyprus.

—A Greek air force source in Athens said France has flown 44 Mirage jets to Greece for the Greek air force in addition to military equipment already shipped to Greece in the past month. But a spokesman for the French Embassy in Athens denied the planes were shipped.

—The civilian government in Greece increased its authority over the military by firing the commander in chief of the armed forces and his eight top officers and replacing them with foes of the ousted military junta.

—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Turkey had expressed will.

U.S. waiting British initiative in Cyprus crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is trying to smooth its relations with Greece while awaiting an undisclosed British initiative for setting up new Cyprus peace talks.

Britain, a guarantor of the 1960 treaty establishing the island's independence, is expected to sound out the Greek and Turkish Cypriots before enlisting U.S. aid and reviving the Geneva conference.

Knowledgeable U.S. officials believe Britain is likely to try to work out some preconference agreements so that when the parties, including Greece and Turkey, return to the negotiating table

there are reasonable prospects of success. A breakdown in Geneva preceded the onslaught by Turkish forces that led to their control of about 40 per cent of Cyprus.

In a gesture to Athens, which strongly suspects Washington of having tilted toward Turkey, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told a news conference on Monday that "upon calmer reflection the responsible Greek leaders will recognize that the United States has shown deep sympathy for the Greek government."

Kissinger added "we welcome the present democratic government in Greece" and any negotiated settlement must be "consistent with the dignity and honor of all of the parties."

He said the first imperative at this point is to "get the parties to the conference table."

Kissinger spoke of a British initiative in this regard, but other officials here said the details of the British approach were not yet clear.

"It has been the subject of confidential discussions over the weekend," the secretary said.

Kissinger said he has received assurances from Premier Bulent Ecevit that Turkey is willing to negotiate a pull back from positions it holds on Cyprus and that it would reduce its forces.

"We believe it will be necessary for Turkey, as the stronger power on the ground, to display flexibility and a concern for Greek sensibilities," Kissinger said.

Chairman Benjamin S. Rosenthal of the House Europe subcommittee said he will move to suspend at $242 million in U.S. aid to Turkey despite her pledge to negotiate.

"I just want to keep the pressure on. We've been through this before," the New York Democrat said.

Rosenthal announced his intention of trying to cut off the aid during a subcommittee hearing at which the American policy on Cyprus came under heavy fire.

"I think American policy was severely tilted in favor of Turkey," said Rep. Paul S. Sarbanes, D-Md.

Testifying at the hearing, Asst. Secretary of State Arthur A. Hartman blamed the Cyprus flareup on "stupidities" of the Greek military junta for upsetting Cyprus' stability last month. He contended the ensuing Turkish military invasion could not have been stopped with anything short of U.S. armed force.

He conceded it would be hard to do this but declared the "raging inflation" demanded nothing less.

However, several senators strongly opposed the proposal, declaring it would encourage presidential impoundments and let Ford set spending priorities.

The amendment was beaten 58 to 28.

Ford spoke out on the inflation issue in a speech to the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago on Monday, declaring "I will not hesitate to use the veto to control inflationary excesses."

He referred in the speech to a bill in creating veterans' educational benefits 23 per cent, saying he approved education for veterans but then adding:

Your government is constrained by another consideration: we are all soldiers in a war against brutal inflation.

Dey death ruling due this week

WAUPACA — A ruling is expected by Thursday or Friday on last week's death of Mrs. Gladys Dey, 35, route 2, Marion, according to the Waupaca County sheriff's office.

Mrs. Dey was found in her home at 8:05 a.m. Thursday. She was taken to Clintonville Community Hospital, where she died at 9:30 a.m.

Two officers from the state justice department assisted Monday the final questioning of the dead woman's family. Her widower, Robert, three daughters, a son and her mother, Mrs. Helen Parker, Waterford.

Mr. Dey was at work and the rest of the family was asleep in the rural home at the time of the shooting, according to sheriff's department reports.

"The crime laboratory today is checking the ballistics of two guns found at the scene," Robert Andraschko, chief deputy of Waupaca County, said. "They're checking the shotgun slug removed from the victim's body and the second slug found in the wall near the bed where the victim was found."

Personal effects and other items from the bedroom have been sent to the crime laboratory in Madison.

"To complete the investigation, we are talking today with doctors at Clintonville Community Hospital and taking the pathology report," Andraschko said.

Valley draws S&L firms

Post-Crescent Madison bureau

MADISON — The inflationary pinch that has dried up the money markets of southern Wisconsin has not yet had — and possibly will not have — the same effects in the Fox River Valley.

That is the opinion of R. J. McMahon, commissioner of the savings and loan for Wisconsin, whose office has been flooded with savings and loan branch office applications for the Valley, particularly Neenah and Green Bay, in the last year.

It seems to be borne out by the economists that there is still a potential for untapped savings in those areas. McMahon said, referring to the fact that eight Valley applications have come before him in a year. "Right now Neenah and Green Bay, in particular, are showing the most dynamic growth rates in the state."

McMahon admitted though that the effects of inflation are slowly reducing the savings total in the Valley and that this fact, along with the increased number of savings and loan offices, soon should mark the end of the area's expansion in this area.

"We don't really have a track record since spring," McMahon stated, "and the present financial situation may

Chilton barn burns

A fast burning fire early Monday evening destroyed a 176 by 40 foot barn and its contents of hay and straw at the Robert Schwobe and Sons farm, route 3. Schwobe was able to save his herd of dairy cattle, but lost a new chopper attachment in the barn. Firemen from Chilton, Stockbridge and Calu-metville answered the call, and neighboring farmers hauled water from their wells in an effort to keep flames from reaching the nearby home. Schwobe said that when he returned to the barn after supper to continue blowing in grain, the south end of the structure was engulfed in flames. He gave no estimate of damage. (Connors photo)

Panel wants guidelines for shredder

BY BOB LOWE
Post-Crescent staff writer

The Outagamie County Zoning and Economic Advancement Committee Monday night grappled with the controversial issue of solid waste disposal management and found itself embroiled in an internal dispute involving politics, personalities and power plays.

The committee invited members of the highway committee to work out the administrative outlines of the new shredder operation. Both committees are obligated by resolution to work in cooperation whenever possible to establish the managerial guidelines for the countywide disposal program.

Three issues dominated the discussion at the meeting.

- The recommendation that Edward Maloney, the County Executive Alvin Woehler appointed manager of the shredder, be sent to Europe to study the operation of similar waste shredding operations there.
- The committee recommendation that Maloney's salary be increased from grade 20 ($11,078) to grade 22 ($13,407) the full range of duties that would be a part of this management position.

The committee let stand their resolutions adopted Aug. 15 to approve the trip and pay increase. Both issues may require the full county board approval after they are referred to the county executive and personnel committee, respectively, for presentation to the floor.

The politics of the dispute centered on Woehler's Aug. 1 executive order naming Maloney to the post, setting his salary and calling for the creation of a countywide council to oversee the solid waste management disposal operation.

Some committee members seem to feel that Woehler's move intruded on the committee's jurisdiction. In fact, one member said Woehler pulled a Nixon on them.

Woehler, in defending his move, stated that he didn't want to circumvent the legislative branch but acted under what he felt was an emergency situation due to his commitment to Allis-Chalmers, manufacturer of the shredder, and the residents of the county.

Supv. Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna, said that Woehler's rare executive move created much of the cloud of doubt that now hangs over the committee, but since the decision has already been made, he is willing to work within the established guidelines. He strongly advocated that Maloney make the European trip that his salary be raised as proposed and that Maloney be given a broad range of powers to oversee the entire solid waste disposal program.

But the issue of Maloney's personality also entered into the picture. While no one questioned directly his qualification, a number of members of the highway commission wondered whether he should be hired at what they described as "top salary" before he had a chance to "prove himself."

Advocating this point of view was George Kroes, chairman of the highway commission. Kroes felt that Maloney should be given a six-month trial period before raising his pay.

Reservations were also expressed about the European trip. Some highway committee members wondered whether it could easily be converted from a "mission to a junket."

But DeLaHunt said such reservations are unfounded, that he "assumed" that Maloney's trip would be made on an Allis-Chalmers regular flight to Sweden where the company has been in contact with a shredder operation.

Besides, DeLaHunt pointed out, since the shredder is completely new to the United States, it is necessary to have someone with the expertise to oversee its operation.

One of the main questions that needs to be answered, committee chairman Joseph Kasparek said, is whether the shredder is capable of handling heavy ferrous metals. On trial runs to date, the shredder has been rejecting these metals.

It would also appear that Maloney's duties are not clearly outlined. Kasparek wondered whether Maloney alone could be put in charge of the entire solid waste disposal program, including the running of the proposed landfill site at the Outagamie County Airport if it is approved by the Department of Natural Resources.

DeLaHunt countered that Maloney is being hired as a manager, not a plant operator. "He is not being paid to be in the console box, pushing buttons and watching the clock," he said. His duties should include the running of the shredder as well as the disposition of the solid waste, DeLaHunt said.

The issue of Maloney's salary will be presented to the full board by the personnel committee at its next meeting, Sept. 10.

As for Maloney's fact-finding trip to Europe, that might be left up to Woehler to decide. This is where the apparent power play comes in. DeLaHunt felt that since Woehler took the extraordinary step to grant Maloney his present position, he should be the one to pass judgment on the merits of the trip. The committee as a whole seems somewhat unclear as to their statutory authority on this matter.

County official opposes leasing part of garage

By BILL KNUTSON
Post-Crescent staff writer

The chairman of the Outagamie County Highway Committee indicated Monday that he would rather build a fire wall at the new Black Creek highway garage than enter a purchase lease agreement with a private firm that owns part of the building.

Ralph Gertsch, co-owner of Osborn Manufacturing Co., Black Creek, told the committee three weeks ago that he would work on a proposal whereby the county would sell him the garage, then he would lease it back to the county.

Supv. George Kroes of rural Kaukauna, highway panel chairman, told a reported Monday that Gertsch had not been back with his proposal.

When and if Gertsch does prepare a proposal, it probably would be discussed in closed committee session, Kroes explained, because it involves property negotiations.

Kroes revealed that he and Supv. Lawrence Brockman of Black Creek had talked with Gertsch's business partner, William DeMarcelle of Seymour, since Gertsch's highway committee appearance three weeks ago. DeMarcelle indicated a willingness to come to an agreement over the property line dispute, Kroes said.

A year ago, Kroes' committee won county board approval of a package deal whereby an old county highway garage in Black Creek was sold to Outagamie Producers Co-op, which needed to expand and a replacement garage nearby was purchased from Black Creek Industries Inc.

Some county supervisors recently learned that a 1968 survey done for Osborn Manufacturing Co. showed that the company's south lot line bisects a 13-foot-deep north wing of the highway garage. The wing houses the garage's heating plant and lavatories.

Supervisors also learned that the rest of the new garage, for which they paid $25,000, is only seven feet south of Osborn Manufacturing's line.

State building codes require that when such a structure is less than 10 feet from a lot line there must be a fire wall on that side.

Some supervisors were hopeful that the county could get enough land alongside the garage so the fire wall wouldn't be needed.

Estimates on the cost of constructing a fire wall ranged up to $16,000, but Kroes said Monday he knows it won't go that high.

The panel isn't interested in a purchase-lease agreement, Kroes said. If need be, the committee would be willing to give up the small part of the building that Gertsch claims to own, then construct the fire wall, he explained.

Kroes said he had no idea when Gertsch would return to the highway committee. He indicated the committee might soon contact the state building inspector's office to find out just what type of fire wall is needed at the garage and what other improvements, if any, are required.

Supv. Eugene Kloes of Appleton suggested the committee get prices on the required work while it is awaiting Gertsch's proposal. Gertsch had given no indication what he would be willing to pay the county or what he would charge on a lease back. However, it was learned that at one time he had offered the county $18,000 for the garage.

Corp. Counsel William Schuh said that last week he asked Frank Charlesworth, coordinator of public services, to resurvey the disputed property as soon as possible.

Clintonville eyes needs for start of Chapter 89 programs in schools

CLINTONVILLE — Special transportation and building needs for preschool program and specialists under Chapter 89 were discussed Monday by Supr. V. J. Wadleigh at a special meeting of the district board of education. Chapter 89 makes it necessary for the school district to provide for the needs of handicapped children from 3 to 21.

Wadleigh said there is a possibility of having to transport some children in wheelchairs. School Way officials, who have the school bus transportation contract, are investigating converting a contract bus and getting a lift to handle this type of transportation.

Four children are enrolled in the new preschool program. In addition, there are the other special education classes — educable and trainable at the elementary and junior high levels.

Wadleigh suggested that the board think seriously of finding new quarters for the administrative offices, and consider using the present administrative area to consolidate the various special education needs into one section.

The long-range planning committee, which expects to meet early in September, will investigate the availability of additional space.

In other action on several personnel items, the board:

- Approved payment through Cooperative Educational Service Agency No. 8 of $850 for the contract of Yvonne Koch, the summer school speech therapist. This is 70 per cent reimbursable from the state.

- Accepted the superintendent's recommendation to release Robert Panolero, junior high industrial arts teacher, from his contract as he requested and that he be assessed costs incurred in getting his replacement, as per his contract.

- Approved a contract for James Gianoli to replace Panolero at the Bachelor of Arts degree plus 20, Level 2 salary. Originally, from Milwaukee, Gianoli is a graduate of University of Wisconsin Stout.

- Mrs. Lucille Henderson, who has taught speech at the senior high school for 16 years, had notified the administration previously that she was considering early retirement if a replacement could be found for her position. Wadleigh recommended the board grant Mrs. Henderson a release from her 1974-75 contract for early retirement and that a letter be drafted to her recognizing her 16 years of teaching and her contribution to the district. The board voted in favor of taking this action.

- Accepted the superintendent's recommendation to offer a contract to Craig Martin, originally from Bloomer and a graduate of the former Eau Claire State University, to replace Mrs. Henderson in senior high school speech. He will be hired at the Bachelor of Arts degree with no experience level.

- Approved issuing a contract to Miss Carol Johnson, Clintonville, to teach at the Bear Creek elementary school in the Individually Guided Education program. She will replace Miss Rose Frank, who is going to teach first grade at Rexford School, Clintonville, replacing Mrs. Joyce Wiese. Waupaca, who resigned. Miss Johnson is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and has had 10 years of teaching experience, including schools at West Bend, Gloucester, Mass., and overseas. # Danish AFS student is eager to start Chilton High CHILTON — Henning Fjord, Jensen, 18, American Field Service (AFS) exchange student who arrived last week from Kalundborg, Denmark, is eager to start his senior year at Chilton High School.

Fjord, as friends call him, plays soccer well and hopes he can make the Tigers football team as a kicker. His kicks average between 40 and 50 yards. He is six feet, one inch tall and weighs 143 pounds.

Fjord likes other sports, particularly volleyball and tennis.

Fjord is making his home with the Edward Koehlers, who live on a farm just outside the northern city limits. His AFS brother, Dan, 17, also is a senior this year.

Kalundborg is a community of about 11,000 citizens, 60 miles west of Copenhagen and the countryside is much like that of Calumet County. Fjord said his father does welding of oil tanks used in heating and his mother is a social service assistant who aids in households where the wife is disabled or ill. He has three brothers, 16, 10 and 18 years old.

He described his favorite foods as chicken, hamburgers with french fries and fresh vegetables, with the exception of corn on the cob, which was a "first" for him here at his new home.

"I'll eat it if I have to, but it is not something I would order," he said candidly.

His future plans are somewhat undecided as he must finish one more year of school in Denmark and then go on to college, but he is considering computer science.

So far in his short stay he has helped the Koehlers pick cherries at Sturgeon Bay and enjoyed eating the red cherries. Black cherries used for wine are the only type he had eaten in Denmark, he explained.

As for girls, well, he likes them, he said. He met a South American exchange student named Maggie on the way here and hopes for a quick reunion with his friend. She is staying with a family in Neenah.

AFS brothers

Getting to know the family dog is just one of many new experiences for Henning Fjord, Jensen of Denmark, who will live with the Edward Koehler family for a year as an American Field Service exchange student. Fjord will join Dan Koehler, right, as a senior at Chilton High School this fall. (Connors photo)

Potter school gets ready for 100 pupils

POTTER — Classes for the 100 pupils enrolled in Trinity Lutheran School, Rantoul, will begin with a church service at 9 a.m. next Monday, according to Wilfred Meyer, principal.

Meyer said children may take the buses, which arrive at 7:45 a.m. the first day or come with their parents to the church. After the first day, classes will be from 7:45 a.m. to 2:45 p.m.

There will be no classes Aug. 30 to allow children to prepare exhibits for the Calumet County Fair. There will be no school on Labor Day either.

Three new teachers have been hired this year. David Lininger, a 1971 graduate of Concordia College, Seward, Neb., who attended the Lutheran Seminary in Springfield, Ill., before coming to Trinity, will teach grades 5 and 6. He is a native of Lincoln, Neb.

Ted Bode is the new grade 3 and 4 teacher. He is a 1974 graduate of Concordia at Seward, and comes from close to Hannibal, Mo. Bode is married to former Eolleen Hayes, teacher at St. Peter Lutheran, Hilbert. Mrs. Bode will continue at St. Peter.

Teaching grades 1 and 2 will be Elizabeth Crowe, a 1974 graduate of Concordia College, River Forest, Ill. She is from New York City.

Meyer will continue as principal and grade 7 and 8 teacher.

Piano lessons again will be available to the pupils from Mrs. Meyer, Lininger and Mrs. Wayne Lau.

Schools to open in Stockbridge

STOCKBRIDGE — Public schools will open Monday with classes from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There will be only one session of kindergarten, from 8:15 to 11 a.m., according to Supt. Donald Meyers.

In-service for teachers will begin at 9 a.m. Friday.

All teachers are the same as last year, with the exception of a new speech therapist, hired through Cooperative Educational Service Agency No. 10.

Courts

WAUPACA — James C. Mehlberg, 42, 330 S. Bridge St., Manawa, was given a five-day mandatory jail sentence, in County Court Branch 2 Monday upon a third conviction of driving while under the influence of an intoxicant.

He will serve the time on two week ends.

Mehlberg pleaded guilty on July 16 to the charge and was fined $250 or 30 days in the county jail. He has until Aug. 30 to pay the fine.

He was arrested on July 15 on Robert Street in Manawa.

WAUPACA — A Clintonville man, Larry R. Abrahamson, 23, 129 N. 12th St., was found guilty in County Court Branch 2 Monday of operating a motor vehicle after revocation of license, given a 90-day mandatory jail sentence for a second offense and fined $175 or 20 days in the county jail.

Abrahamson was arrested at 10:55 p.m. Sunday by county police on Ritchie Road in the Town of Royalton.

Abrahamson was also cited for driving under the influence of an intoxicant and this charge was amended to driving too fast for conditions. He was fined $60 or 10 days in the county jail. The fine must be paid by Oct. 3.

WAUPACA — Judge Nathan Wiese, County Court Branch 2, has ordered Donald Larson, Shawano Street, New London, to pay $250 of the $870 he owes in child support or spend 10 days in the county jail.

Larson is being held in the county jail until he pays the stipulated amount. He was brought into court Monday on a warrant.

WAUPACA — Michael J. Abhold, 18, Madison, is being held in the county jail until he can provide $250 cash and a $2,500 property bond.

He has been bound over to County Court Branch 1 to stand trial on a moral offense. No court date has been set.

Abhold was arraigned Aug. 9 and has been held in the county jail. He was unable to provide the initial appearance bond.

Catholic school at Stockbridge opens Monday

STOCKBRIDGE — St. Mary Catholic School will open Monday for a full day of classes.

The school will try to follow as closely as possible the calendar of Stockbridge public schools, according to principal Sister Clarina. School begins with mass at 8:15 a.m.

This year the school will have the NEWIST (Northeastern Wisconsin In-School Television) educational television programs and four sets will be used. There will be departmental teaching in grades 4 and 5 with Lydia Wolf teaching English and Janice Cook teaching science. Some departmental teachings planned in grades 7 and 8 also.

Luana Luther, a recent graduate of Marian College, Fond du Lac, is the new grade 3 teacher. Her home is in Cascade. She replaces Kathryn Pirner who retired.

All other teachers from last school year will return.

Hot lunch will continue to be provided for St. Mary pupils as well as those from Stockbridge public schools.

The price of meals remains unchanged. Children in grades 1-4 will pay 35 cents a meal; those in grades 5-8, 40 cents a meal; high school students, 45 cents a meal; and adults, 50 cents a meal.

Church service will open classes for pupils at St. Peter in Hilbert

HILBERT — St. Peter Lutheran School will open on Aug. 26 with a church service. Classes will be from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

There are no changes in the faculty. Mrs. Colleen Bode will teach grades 1 and 2, Mrs. Caroline Behnke grades 3, 5, and Principal John Dahm, grades 4 and 6.

The school will attempt to follow the calendar of the public school.

Waupaca residents will participate in ETN program

WAUPACA — Residents of Waupaca County will join the statewide Educational Telephone Network (ETN) beginning the first week of September.

Offered through the University of Wisconsin-Extension, the network will have 40 programs of study. Classes will be in the basement of the courthouse.

One of the courses offered is "Wall Street and the Small Investor," a six-session program starting Sept. 13. Deadline for registration is Sept. 6. Those interested in the course, which costs $25, should contact James A. Van Matre, Waupaca County UW Extension resource agent.

The course will be from 6-8 p.m. on consecutive Fridays. The instructor will be Robert W. Anderson, a representative of a Madison investment firm. He has been a consultant to school systems in North Carolina, Tennessee and Wisconsin.

Topics to be covered in the course include fundamentals of investing, common stocks, mutual funds, bonds, how to analyze a company, determinants of market price and the relationship between analysis of a company and the market.

Other subjects in the ETN program range from a smoking modification clinic, a string workshop and a photography class to a television criticism series and a class on the marriage contract. There also will be professional development courses for teachers, physicians, lawyers, nurses, dairymen, journalists, engineers, librarians and businessmen.

Details and enrollment forms are available at the Waupaca County Extension office.

This fall a series of microphones will replace the traditional telephone hand receiver and a new speaker system will be used. "Class participation will be easier and sound reproduction more distinct," according to Joe L. Walker, UWEX agriculture agent. "The classes are designed to give both the professional and the general public the very best in educational experiences," he said. "The system allows us to present experts from any part of Wisconsin or outside the state."

The first program, "Let's Look at Nursing Care, Series 1," will begin its 10 sessions Sept. 4. Also starting that day will be "Managing Working Capital," "Public Relations for Public Welfare Agencies" and "Public Opinion, Polls and People." Each will have four sessions.

Police & fire beat

CHILTON — Three persons were injured in a one car accident at 6:37 p.m. Monday in the Town of Rantoul.

William A. Justinger, 23, 1800 Jackson St., New Hilsen, sustained head and neck bruises. His wife, Arlene, 23, sustained head injuries and cuts to her face and right leg. The couple's 4-year old son, William Jr., sustained a broken left arm.

All three were taken to Calumet Memorial Hospital, Chilton, by hospital ambulance.

According to the Calumet County traffic report, Justinger was eastbound on Schneider Road when the accelerator of the car apparently stuck, causing the vehicle to go over the center line hitting a fence and tipping over on its top.

set policy for free milk, lunch

MARION — A policy for free meals and milk for children unable to pay the price of lunch and milk served in schools has been announced by the district. It corresponds to rules of the National School Lunch, School Breakfast and Special Milk programs.

Local school officials have adopted only size income criteria for use in determining eligibility for free meals and milk. The policy ranges from a family with an income level at or below $190 and one child to a family with an income level at or below $11,530 and 12 children.

Children from families whose income is at or below these levels are eligible for free meals and milk. In addition, children that do not meet these criteria have other unusual expenses due to medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child or disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

They may do so by filling in application forms. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Information provided on application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year.

In certain cases, foster children also are eligible for these benefits. If a family with foster children wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, the school should be contacted.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provision of the policy, Superintendent Terry Quandt, P.O. Box 236, Marion, will review applications and determine eligibility.

If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to the school clerk Rosemary Bazile, route 2, Georgetown 54466, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

All schools and the district office will have copies of the policy, which may be viewed by any interested party.

Registration scheduled at St. Martin School

CLINTONVILLE — Registration for the Clintonville Grade School pupils whose last names begin with A through K will be from 9 a.m. to noon Wednesday in the Fellowship Hall. The remainder will register from 1 to 4 p.m.

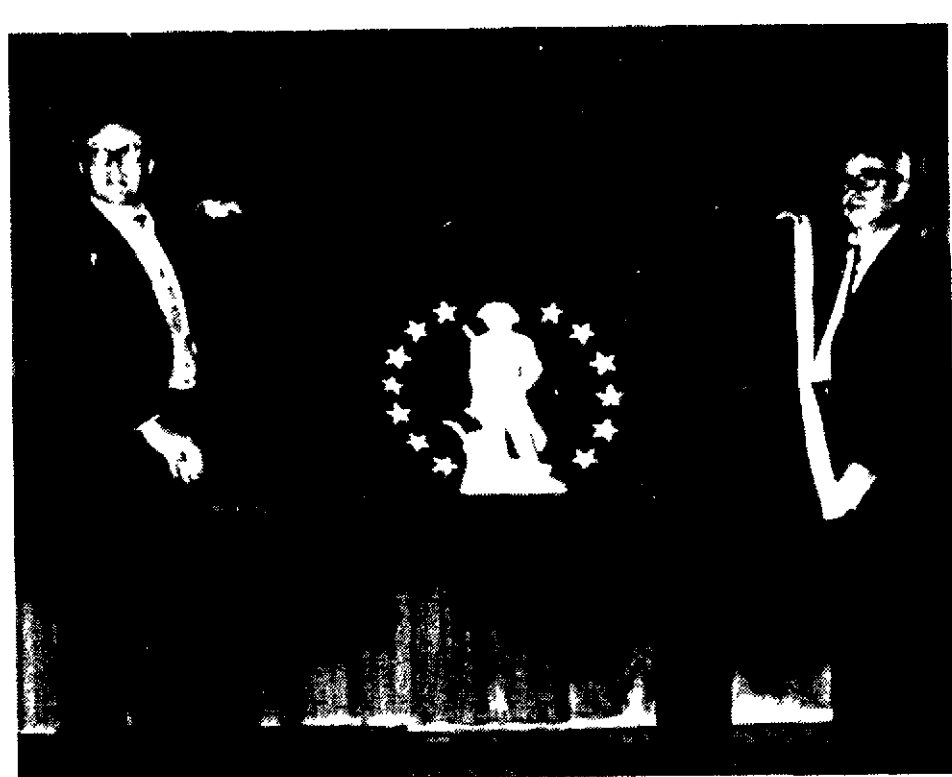

Students also will be weighed, measured and given an eye screening. School opens Aug. 28. Fees are the same as last year. The hot lunch program will begin with the opening of school and the cost will be $2.25 per week.

Weyauwega Lutheran school opens Aug. 26

WEYAUWEGA — Students who will attend St. Peter Lutheran School during the coming year will register from 9 a.m. to noon and from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday in the multipurpose room.

Book rentals will be $5 for kindergarten and $12 for all other students. Required religious books should be purchased at the same time.

Classes will begin at 8:15 a.m. Aug. 6.

Birnamwood, Hatley win in BABA division opener

Birnamwood whipped Almon 13-2 and Hatley edged Wittenberg, 8-6, Sunday in northern division play-off openers of the Badger Amateur Baseball Association (BABA).

Almon gained the right to the play-offs after eliminating Eland 3-1 Saturday in a special play-off game for fourth place. Birnamwood will take on Wittenberg Sunday in final northern division play-off action with the winner meeting the Langlade County winner on Sept. 1.

John Pieper was the winning pitcher for Birnamwood, allowing only eight hits. Lyle Kerstner was the loser. Birnamwood collected 14 hits led by Gary Draeger with three including a pair of homers. Larry Resch with two homers, Pete Krull with a pair of doubles and Ray Resch with two hits. Ed Matz and Jack Thies had two hits.

Services held today for Kathryn Donermeyer, bishop's housekeeper

BEAR CREEK — Funeral services both here and at Stevens Point were to be conducted today for Kathryn Donermeyer, 64, who had been housekeeper and receptionist for the Most Rev. John B. Grellinger, auxiliary bishop of Green Bay since 1957.

Miss Donermeyer died Saturday at Oshkosh after a short illness.

She was born April 6, 1910, at Stevens Point. She worked as a registered nurse for 25 years prior to becoming housekeeper and receptionist for Grellinger, who was to preside at both this morning's funeral mass here and this afternoon's service at Stevens Point. Burial was to be in St. Joseph Cemetery, Stevens Point.

Miss Donermeyer is survived by eight sisters.

each for Almon and Greg Olson had a homer. The winners scored seven runs in the first two innings.

Wittenberg scored two runs in the first inning but Hatley came back with three in the bottom of the first. Wittenberg scored one in the third tie but Hatley came right back with two in the fifth and two more in the sixth. Wittenberg scored three runs in the top of the seventh on a three run homer by Mike Van Order to pull within one. Stan Schulz homered for Hatley in the bottom of the seventh, ending the scoring. Elmer Allen was the winning pitcher and Dan Owen, who was relieved in the fifth by Tim Krumrie, got the loss. Hatley collected 14 hits and Wittenberg, 12.

In Langlade County action Sunday the Antigo Cardinals edged Monico in 11 innings. In action a week earlier White Lake eliminated Deerbrook. Antigo and White Lake will meet Sunday in division finals. Deerbrook goes into playoff action with a perfect 13-0 record in league play, the only undefeated team in the 38 team BABA.

Absentee ballots for Sept. 10 election available in Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Absentee ballots have arrived at the city hall office of Clerk Lloyd Eggleston. Voters wishing to vote in the Sept. 10 primary but unable to go to the polls in person may vote in absentee.

Registered voters who are sick, physically disabled or confined to a hospital or home may mail a request to Eggleston, who will deliver the ballot.

Persons who expect to be out of the city on election day may vote absentee at the clerk's office during normal office hours. This must be done prior to election day.

have a degree in education. He replaces Robert Tomczyk in the coaching position.

Approved the policy from the Paul Revere Life Insurance Co. through the Roy Spearbraker Agency, Clintonville, as the carrier for administrator disability insurance, which plan replaces the unlimited sick leave policy previously in force. The annual premium is $2,721 and covers 10 people including eight administrators, the business manager and the district's chief engineer.

The board approved the 1974-75 school food service (hot lunch) program application and agreement and the special milk program.

Attention was called to a letter from the state Teachers Retirement Bureau raising the employer contribution, effective July 1, 1974, to 7.2 per cent from the previous 6.1 per cent.

A letter was read from Vandermuss, Knox and Fuller, Green Bay, certified public accountants, relative to the annual audit of the school district's records and complimenting the district on its bookkeeping system and the fact that interest has been earned on short-term investments.

In conjunction with the above a letter was read from a local citizen asking that the board give some consideration to using a local accounting firm now that there is one in Clintonville. The suggestion will be followed up.

Discussion was held with no action taken on consideration of Wisconsin Association of School Boards special services contract, reserving consultant services for employee negotiations for 1975-76.

The board confirmed the appointment of Roger Metzger to the audit committee for three years to replace Walter Gleason, whose term expired as made by Chris Holm, chairman of the annual meeting of the district in July.

Announcement was made that the closest Department of Public Instruction school transportation committee meeting was at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Waupaca. All new bus drivers are urged to attend the meeting. There are also sessions for administrators and board members.

For their information, board members had been supplied with a copy of a letter from the Board of Education, West Allis, regarding position statement on collective bargaining presented to Wisconsin Legislative Council.

A first reading was given of a school board policy creating and authorizing continued employee coverage by hospitalization medical insurance at total cost to retiree, for those employees retiring before 65.

The board adjourned to executive session to discuss teacher personnel.

Handicap golf tourney slated at Marion course

MARION — A handicap golf tournament has been planned for Sept. 21-22 at the site of the new course on the Larry Dieck farm, route 1.

Interested people should notify Dieck of their intentions to participate by the end of August. Also needed will be four nine hole scores for establishing handicaps. These scores must be in by Sept. 15. A tournament fee of $4 will be charged.

Scandinavia, Waupaca win

Waupaca downed New London 17-4 while Scandinavia beat Symco 9-6 in opening south central division play-off action in the Badger Amateur Baseball Association. Waupaca will be host to Scandinavia Sunday in the division play-off finals.

John Holly pitched a five hitter, fanning 19 New London batters. Terry Wing was the loser. Waupaca pounded out 19 hits paced by Terry Martin with three while Bob Solberg, left Jones and Dan Peterson had two each, including a double by Jones as 15 batters hit safely. The winners scored five runs in the first inning.

Both teams collected 11 hits at Scandinavia. Dave Skowen led the winners with two hits, including a double. John Olson had two hits and Paul Nelson homered. Bruce Starchuska had three hits to lead Symco while Larry Lucht had two, including a double, and Mike Allen had two. Keith Williams, first of three, was the winning pitcher. Frank Leischow, who went 3 1/3 innings before being relieved by Lucht, was the loser. Scandinavia scored four runs in the first one in the fifth, two in the sixth and two in the seventh. Symco scored one run in the fourth, two in the sixth, two in the seventh and another in the eighth.

Things Wisconsin people maybe didn't know about themselves until now.

Row Row Row Your Boat is a cute song, but in practice a lot of hard work. That's why Koshkonong Wisconsin is the birthplace of the outboard motor.

Wisconsin drinks more brandy than any other state in the Union. And the brandy they drink most often is Coronet VSQ. Because when it comes to smoothness and lightness, there's no room for second best. And Coronet is No. 1.

Try the Milwaukee Manhattan. It's made with smooth Coronet VSQ Brandy, dry vermouth and a twist of lime. Straight up or on the rocks. It's the drink Milwaukee made famous.

Take a drive to the Four Wheel Drive Museum in Clintonville Wisconsin. It's everything you wanted to know about 4-wheel vehicles, but were afraid to ask.

Bring your camera (and your frog) to the annual Frog Jumping Contest held in Dousman. It's really a prince of a contest.

St. Mary in Hilbert opens next Monday

HILBERT — Classes at St. Mary Catholic School will open next Monday with an enrollment in the first six grades of 133.

Sister Barbara Behnske will continue as principal and grades 5 and 6 teacher. Other faculty members are Nancy Schaefer of Kaukauna, grades 4 and 5, Christine Arndt of Menasha, grades 2 and 3, and Sister Rita Ann Fish, grades 1 and 2.

Classes will be from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The school will try to follow the public school calendar when possible. There will be no school Oct. 4, however, as part of the two-day Diocesan Total Education Congress for the faculty.

In-service for the faculty will be Thursday and Friday. Sister Barbara will attend the two-day meeting for all principals in the Green Bay Diocese at Silver Lake College, Manitowish.

Added officer sought for sheriff unit in Waupaca

WAUPACA — A job description and criteria for hiring an officer to cover vacations in the sheriff's department and county traffic department were discussed last week by the county law enforcement committee.

Members agreed the new officer should have sufficient experience and training to act as an investigator, traffic officer, radio operator and jailer. He also will spend some time as an investigator for the district attorney's office.

The officer will be under the supervision of the law enforcement committee. It is the panel's plan to fill the post by Jan. 1, 1975.

Supv. John Kafka, Clintonville, was elected chairman of the committee. Supv. Anthony Resch, Weyauwega, was appointed to replace Supv. Robert Whitman, Waupaca, who resigned in June.

Legion auxiliary in Shiocton hears reports, raises monthly dues

SHIOCTON — The American Legion Auxiliary this month heard reports from a variety of committee chairmen, received numerous work and voted to raise the dues $1 per month.

Press chairman Jeanette Kennedy presented the publicity book of the past year's activities to Dorothy Curtiss, the immediate past president, as a record of her year as president.

The Harvest Festival was discussed and committees were appointed to assist with the chicken dinner the unit will serve Aug. 25. Members will be asked to assist.

It was voted to raise the dues to $4 to take care of the increase in department and national dues. The new rate goes into effect Sept. 1. All dues paid before Aug. 25 will be $3.

Volunteers to King made three trips and gave 68 hours of service. The past president will assist with the junior spring conference here in April and the county council will meet here Sept. 17. The executive board will select the meeting place. The secretary will notify all units.

Registration for Brillion students being taken

BRILLION — Persons who have moved into the school district recently are urged to register their children immediately to assure readiness for school opening on Sept. 3.

Parents who did not register their children for kindergarten on registration day last spring are asked to do so immediately.

Clintonville man BABA east-west batting champ

Clintonville's Dick Koeppen, 33, has won the individual batting championship in the eastern and western divisions of the Badger Amateur Baseball Association (BABA) with a .489 average.

The veteran outfielder of 16 BABA seasons led the batting race throughout the season but saw his lead shrink when forced to play five games in the final 10 days. Koeppen had 23 hits in 47 trips to the plate.

Ron Jesse of Shawano, who was over the 500 mark most of the season, finished in second place with a .480 batting average. Jesse finished near the top in nearly all offensive categories, riving for the lead with 24 hits, 24 runs and sharing second place with five home runs.

Six other league players also finished above the 400 mark for the season. Bill Drengler, Cecil was third with .469, followed by Pete and Steve Kristof of Leopold, who hit .444 and .421 respectively.

Others who hit the 400 mark included veteran Mark Bailey of Big Falls with a .417 mark, Dennis Dieck of Clintonville, .415, and Joe Smith of Menominee County at .400.

Thirty-seven players hit 300 or better during the season. A minimum of 30 times at bat was required to qualify among the leaders.

Eastern champion Shawano had six regulars who batted 300 or better. Western champion Bowler had five. Clintonville was next with four and Caroline, Leopold, Cecil, Menominee County and Tigerton each had three. Gresham, Big Falls and Marion had two apiece and Tilleda one.

Koeppen succeeds Gary Schlender of Tigerton who won the 1973 crown with a .553 average. Schlender was unable to compete this season because of a job transfer.

Jesse and the Kristof brothers wound up with 24 base hits. Koeppen and Bruce Brietenfeldt of Caroline had 23 and Jesse and Brietenfeldt shared the runs scored leadership with 24 apiece. Koeppen had 19. Brietenfeldt, who finished 10th in the batting race with a .377 mark, made the most appearances at the plate for the third year in a row with 61.

Brietenfeldt also had the added distinction of being only one of four players to hit safely in every game in which he played. Brietenfeldt and Pete Kristof had 13 game hitting streaks. Mike Wegner of Shawano was 11 for 11 and Dengler 9 for 9.

Steve Kristof, Jesse and Cal Ruska of Bowler each hit safely in 12 of 13 games played. Ray Murphy, Bowler, Len Herin, Cecil, Roger Griepentrog, Clintonville, and Bailey, Big Falls, went 10 for 11 and Bruce Parkovich of Clintonville was 9 for 10. Griepentrog had only one official time at bat in the game that he was blanked.

Joe Petcka of Clintonville regained slugging honors by hitting six home runs. This is the fourth time in the past five years that he has won the home run derby. Ruska won a year ago with eight. Tom Betzner of Cecil and Chuck Stoehr of Shawano each had four.

Petcka also posted the best won-lost total among pitchers with a 4-0 record. Carl Carmichael of Shawano was 3-0. Jerry Siefert, Shawano, was 5-1 and Orman Waukau of Menominee County and Ray Murphy of Bowler had 5-3 marks. This is the fifth year in a row that Waukau has either led or tied for the most victories. Carmichael's 18 strikeouts in eight innings against Tigerton was the best of the year. He relieved starter Greg Stezenski who fanned two before Carmichael took over.

Mike Thiel of Tigerton was second with 17 strikeouts. Mike Daley of Marion and Dale Ebert of Gresham each had 16. Ebert had 10 or more strikeouts in five games. Murphy had 10 or more four times. Thiel threw two of the eight shutouts in league play.

Shawano and Clintonville dominated team statistics. Clintonville led in team batting with a .295 average and in homers with 16. Shawano hit 289 as a team and led the league in runs with 135, an average of better than 10 per game. Clintonville was next with 122 runs. Caroline was a distant third with 96. Cecil hit 12 homers. Shawano 11 and Leopold 10. Tilleda was last with only 34.

Other teams and their averages included Marion, .269; Leopold, .262; Big Falls, .255; Tilleda, .251; Bowler, .250; Tigerton, .245; Caroline, .235; Menominee County, .231; Gresham, .227; and Cecil was last with .215. This was the third year in a row that Cecil was last in batting. Gresham scored the fewest runs with 50 and Cecil was next lowest with 34.

Girl taken into custody after bank robbery

OSHKOSH — A 16-year-old girl was taken into custody early this morning shortly after the Winnebago branch office of the Western State Bank had been burglarized of at least $1,600 in cash, Winnebago County sheriff's officers said.

Authorities said the girl, whose name and address have not been released, is a patient at Winnebago Mental Health Institute.

According to reports, the burglary occurred shortly after 4 a.m. at the Lakeside Branch of the bank on County Trunk A in Winnebago. Deputies said entry to the building was gained by throwing a brick through a window.

Shortly after 4 a.m. a sheriff's department squad car driving on U.S. 41 near County Trunk J in the Town of Oshkosh noticed the girl walking along the highway with money sticking out of her pockets. When asked where she obtained the money, which amounted to more than $1,600 in cash, deputies said the girl had just taken it from the bank's Winnebago branch office. A number of matchbooks bearing the bank's advertising also were found in her pockets.

Ken Butt, manager of the bank, said an audit is being conducted to determine if any additional money was taken.

The bank's alarm apparently failed to go off when the window was broken. Deputies said they first heard of the burglary when they questioned the girl.

As yet, sheriff's officers say no other suspects are being sought, although the FBI has been called in to work on the investigation.

The girl is in custody in the Winnebago County jail. Sheriff's detectives said that because of the girl's mental condition they are unsure whether she will be brought into court to face burglary charges.

bound on Grundy and the Glatz auto eastbound on Bruegger when the two vehicles collided in the unmarked intersection.

Police said Glatz apparently failed to yield right-of-way. They said the drivers' vision at the corner was impaired by brush, trees and corn in and near the ditch line.

No time for the accident was pinpointed, although authorities tentatively placed it at between 2:30 a.m. and 3:30 a.m. Peters was knocked unconscious by the impact, and he later regained consciousness. He crawled to the nearby Lawrence Bruegger residence and summoned help.

Police were notified of the crash just after 5:15 a.m. Their investigation is continuing.

Mrs. Peters was the mother of three children, none of whom were involved in the accident. Her funeral arrangements are being handled by the Knutson Funeral Home in Denmark.

Glatz was a graduate of Seymour High School. He was employed in the laundry room of St. Vincent's Hospital in Green Bay. Funeral services will be 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Black Creek. Muehl Funeral Home in Seymour is handling the arrangements.

The three deaths raised the county's traffic fatality toll for the year to 15 compared with 18 in that year in 1973.

Balke and Fandrey were killed when Balke's auto left a curve in the southbound lane of U.S. 45 and wrapped around a utility pole. The accident took place at 9:10 p.m. Saturday, but rescue workers needed nearly an hour to pry the two men from the wreckage.

Balke died of a skull fracture and Fandrey of a broken neck.

Both men were graduates of Clintonville High School. Balke served with the army in Vietnam, having been discharged this June. Fandrey was employed by a Clintonville firm.

Funeral services for Balke will be 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at St. Rose Catholic Church with burial in the St. Rose cemetery at Clintonville. Visitation will be at the Eberhardt Funeral Home, Clintonville. A prayer service has been set for 8 p.m. today.

Graveside military services will be conducted by the local American Legion post. Balke is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Balke, 129 Eighth St., eight brothers and four sisters.

Funeral services for Fandrey will be 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Rose Catholic Church with burial in St. Peter's Lutheran Cemetery, Pella Opening. Visitation will be at the Heuer-Sievers & Stenrud Funeral Home, Clintonville, with a prayer service set for 7:30 p.m. today.

Fandrey is survived by his mother, Mrs. Paul Fandrey, 57 N. Clinton Ave., a brother and two sisters.

Milton A. Stark Jr., 18, of rural Fond du Lac, was killed Sunday night when his car left a town road southwest of the city and struck a culvert.

Ronald Derus, 37, of rural Oakfield, died Sunday night when his motorcycle struck the rear of a car in Oakfield.

A Chicago woman, 58, was killed Sunday when the car she was riding in was struck broadside by another auto at an intersection in northern Sheboygan County. Her name was withheld pending notification of relatives.

Robert Bresler, 22, South San Francisco, Calif., was killed Sunday when struck by a car as he rode a bicycle on U.S. 151 near Stoughton. Authorities said Bresler had been living in Madison about a week and planned to enroll at the University of Wisconsin.

John R. Wisinger, 26, Kenosha, was killed Sunday when the car he was in struck a tree near Carthage College in Kenosha.

Daniel Lamb, 21, Burlington, was killed Saturday after the motorcycle he was riding and a car crashed head-on in Walworth County.

The Rev. Herbert Hoffman, 79, a retired Catholic priest, was fatally injured Saturday when struck by a tractor in the yard of his rural Hazel Green home. Authorities said the driver of the tractor apparently lost control when splashed by water tossed from a passing motorcycle.

Daniel Burzynski, 16, Thorp, was killed Saturday, apparently by a hit-and-run driver, as he walked along a dirt road south of Owen in Clark County. James Burzynski, 18, Eagle River, died Friday night when his car struck a utility pole off U.S. 45 north of Eagle River.

Juan M. Reyes, 73, Waukesha, died Saturday of injuries received in a hit-and-run accident on Milwaukee's north side Aug. 11.

John Carlson, 15, rural Beloit, was killed Saturday night when struck by a hit-and-run vehicle while visiting relatives in Kerrville, Tex.

supervisors. "I don't like these tactics and we want to find out what's going on," he said. "I want Rep. Francis Byers and Sen. Gerald Lorge to sit in on that meeting with us and see if we can work this out."

"We don't need any more of this kind of treatment from Madison and the people are getting sick of it, too," he said.

The Post-Crescent reached the ombudsman office on Friday to ascertain its position.

According to Jerry Robinson, "Mr. Smith did not indicate to me in our telephone conversation that our involvement was unappreciated."

He explained that any citizen can call the ombudsman and that office will respond to the complaint. This has been done in a number of instances throughout the state in the past several years.

"It is our hope that the Aug. 28 meeting will provide all of the facts necessary for the county board to make a decision as to what is in the best interest of the patients at Lakeview Manor," Robinson said.

"The well-being of the patients at Lakeview Manor is the only issue," he stated.

Lakeview Manor received a six-month license as a skilled care nursing home on Jan. 1. It holds a license as a 163-bed, skilled nursing care home until June 30, 1975. The trustees have moved to improve staff and an engineering study to improve the physical plant will be ready for presentation to the county board at its Sept. 17 meeting.

Fremont town residents to decide on hall

FREMONT — The fate and location of the town hall, due to construction of the U.S. 10 bridge here, will be placed before the residents for discussion and decision at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the town hall. A previous story in The Post-Crescent listed the wrong date.

The present town hall is located where the east approach of the bridge and the highway will join. A new hall location is mandatory. The purpose of the meeting is to determine whether the majority of residents favor a new town hall or moving the present structure.

Representatives of the state Division of Highways, Dist. 4, Wisconsin Rapids, have been invited to the meeting.

The problem to be resolved was introduced to the residents at a May 5, 1973, special meeting, which was recessed until Wednesday because factual data from the highway division had not been available at that time.

Board warns of intent to prosecute violators of dumping ordinance.

CLINTONVILLE — The board of public works has issued notice to the public that any person caught dumping rubbish, garbage, or debris on any portion of the airport, except at the authorized sanitary landfill area, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the ordinance.

The ordinance is most frequently violated at the city-owned gravel pit.

The board also warned that any person using firearms on airport grounds, except in authorized areas, will be fully prosecuted.

Hilbert board to take action on intercoms

HILBERT — The board of education will act on the elimination of intercom telephone system and several staff changes will be made when it meets at 8 p.m. today.

After consultation with electrical consultants, the administration is recommending the elimination of the intercom telephone system for the new school in favor of an intercom call-in system at a savings of $3,050. This will bring the total bid to $15,650.

Other action will involve the recommendation of librarian Mrs. Jan Wagner to allow one-half credit a year for students assisting in the library. This matter was tabled at the last meeting until more information was received from Mrs. Wagner.

Because of the reduced enrollment in kindergarten, necessitating only three sessions this year, the administration will recommend that Kathryn Hemes, who taught two sessions of kindergarten last year, teach half-time kindergarten and half-time elementary art.

A contract for Mrs. Barbara Gusek to teach remedial reading is also expected to be signed.

Mrs. Gusek received a master's degree from Northern Michigan University in 1966. She majored in elementary education with minors in sociology, mathematics, English and science. Her salary is $10,475 a year, based on the sixth step of the schedule.

The board will also act on the fuel oil bid of Standard Oil Co. for No. 2 fuel oil at 30.67 cents a gallon in 7,000-gallon truck lots. This is not a firm bid on price or volume as prices and terms of sale will be at the lawful levels in effect on date of shipment and subject to change without notice.

Action also will be taken on an additional $7 laboratory fee for the Brillion Vocational School as well as on the recommendation to purchase a bulk gasoline tank.

There will be communications from Ehler's and Associates and the Green Bay Diocesan Department of Education.

Courts

WAUPACA — Richard L. Youhn, 29, route 2, Almond, pleaded guilty Thursday in County Court Branch 2 to driving while intoxicated. He was fined $150 and ordered to attend group dynamics traffic safety school.

WAUPACA — Cited for driving 89 miles per hour, 34 m.p.h. above the legal limit, Marilyn J. Spranger, 22, route 2, Clintonville, forfeited $150 when he appeared Thursday in County Court Branch 2.

Kissinger fares well in survey

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger received a high performance rating by 79 per cent of Americans polled during the final days of the Nixon administration, a Harris survey shows.

Pollster Louis Harris said the figure compared to an 85 per cent favorable rating given Kissinger in May just after his successful Middle East cease-fire negotiations.

The newest survey released Monday was taken among 1,502 adults in late July.

Harris said 66 per cent of those responding in July thought Kissinger should stay on as secretary of state no matter who was President. Seventy per cent rejected the idea that "If President Nixon left office, Kissinger should leave with him."

Kissinger's performance aroused public concern in two areas, Harris said.

Asked if they thought Kissinger was taking "a lot of gambles and risks with world agreements that are often secret in nature," 46 per cent said yes, 29 per cent said no and 25 per cent were undecided.

The other issues involved Kissinger's role in the ordering of wiretaps on members and staff of the National Security Council. Although he was exonerated by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of charges that he did not tell the truth about the taps during his confirmation hearings, 25 per cent of those polled in July still felt he had lied. Thirty-eight per cent believed he told the truth and 37 per cent were undecided.

Warren hearing to be Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Confirmation of Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Robert W. Warren as federal judge for the state's eastern district will be subject of a public hearing by the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday.

Warren, attorney general since 1969, was nominated to the judgeship Aug. 8 in one of the last official acts of former president Nixon. The nomination is subject to U.S. Senate confirmation.

Warren, a Republican, is to be introduced to the committee by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. Neither Proxmire nor Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., has indicated they would oppose Warren.

Rep. Glenn Davis, R-Wis., had sought the judgeship, a lifetime job, for several years, but withdrew after Nelson said he would oppose his confirmation.

Rockefeller box held jewels, personal papers

PULASKI, Va. (AP) — A U.S. attorney says a safety deposit box that allegedly held documents jeopardizing former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's chances of becoming vice president contained only jewelry and personal papers. Rockefeller was named this morning as President Ford's choice for the vice presidency.

The box in a branch of the Bank of Virginia in this community of 10,000 was opened on a search warrant obtained by the office of Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

The warrant named the bank and the box holder and specified the material — documents purporting to show Rockefeller contributed funds to finance disruptions at the 1972 Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach, Fla.

The White House and Jaworski have written off the lead as a hoax.

The holder of the box here opened it last Friday for Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and Peter N. Kreindler, a lawyer on Jaworski's staff, U.S. Atty. Leigh B. Hanes Jr.

said on Monday.

Hanes said the holder of the box cooperated and opened it himself. Bank officials declined to give his name.

Hanes said information in the search warrant was sealed because it contained some information supplied to the Watergate grand jury.

Former 'plumber' aide plans study at Oxford

OXFORD, England (AP) — Former White House aide and "plumber" David R. Young plans to study American foreign policy and do research in social studies at Oxford University.

Young, who studied at Queens College, Oxford, from 1961 to 1963, has been accepted for graduate studies, a school spokesman said on Sunday.

Young, 36, pleaded innocent last fall to California state charges of burglary and conspiracy in the Ellsberg break-in and the charges were dismissed in March.

Green Bay Newspaper Co. to buy Wausau, Merrill papers

WAUSAU, Wis., (AP) — The Wausau Record-Herald and Merrill Daily Herald will be sold to Green Bay Newspaper Co., publisher of the Green Bay Press-Gazette and Sturgis, Mich., Journal.

Announcement of the pending sale was made Monday by J.C. Sturtevant, publisher of the Wausau and Merrill newspapers.

Stockholders of Record-Herald Holding Co. Inc., agreed to sell the operating assets to the Green Bay firm during a meeting Monday.

"The two papers will continue to operate in the best interests of the Wausau and Merrill areas," said Daniel C. Beisel, president of the Green Bay firm. "Wausau is a great market and the Record-Herald has the reputation of being one of the finest newspapers in the state."

Beisel said no personnel changes were planned.

A new corporation, Record-Herald, Inc., is to be organized with Sturtevant as board chairman and W. F. McCormick as president and publisher.

The board of directors, in addition to Beisel and Sturtevant, will include E. L. Everson, John I. Robishaw, treasurer, Michael B. Gage, secretary, all of the Green Bay Newspaper Co.

The Sturtevant family has operated the Record-Herald since Dec. 2, 1907, when the late J. L. Sturtevant, father of the present publisher, founded the paper.

The Record-Herald lists circulation of 23,150 and the Merrill Herald of 4,150.

Fords thank Secret Service after moving to White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford and his family have settled into the White House and spent the first evening at their new home entertaining.

The Fords hosted a private cocktail reception Monday night for 60 Secret Service men and their wives. "It was a way of saying goodbye and thank you" to the men who guarded the Ford family in their Alexandria, Va., home before they moved into the White House, said Nancy Howe, Mrs. Ford's personal secretary.

A new detail of secret service took over Monday.

The family's belongings were moved from their suburban home in a single van by the time the President and Mrs. Ford returned from a day's trip to Chicago Monday.

The only furniture moved into the White House was the Ford's double bed and a blue leather easy chair that is the President's favorite.

Other furniture and furnishings will go into storage while the Fords rent their Alexandria home during their White House occupancy, which Ford said probably will be 2½ years.

Mrs. Howe said the move went "very smoothly. Everybody is quite well settled."

One of the first to settle in was the family cat, "Shan," which curled up asleep on the presidential bed soon after arrival.

Ford picks Rockefeller

Congress and Republican leaders around the country.

"It was a tough call for a tough job," Ford said.

Ford called Rockefeller "a person whose long record of accomplishments in the government and outside is well known."

Rockefeller, 66, served 15 years as governor of New York, resigning last November to head his own commission on the problems facing America.

Rockefeller had twice run for the White House. His resignation was widely regarded as a move to position himself for a third campaign in 1976.

Before striding from the Oval Office, Rockefeller walked down the line of congressional leaders and cabinet officers who were present for Ford's announcement, shaking hands and accepting smiling congratulations.

The ceremony was brief but carefully orchestrated. Ford entering from a side door to the Oval Office desk he assumed 11 days ago upon the resignation of Richard M. Nixon.

It was only last October that Ford himself was nominated for the vice presidency by Nixon, under the then-untested procedures of the 25th Amendment to the Constitution.

Before he uttered Rockefeller's name, Ford traced the record of the former governor: service in the State Department under two presidents, in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, as governor of New York longer than any other man.

"He is known across the land as a person dedicated to the free enterprise system, a person who is recognized abroad for his talents, for his dedication to making this a peaceful world,"

Ford said.

Describing the selection process, Ford said he had considered men — he hastily added women were considered too — in and out of government.

"But after a long and very thoughtful process, I have made the choice and that choice is Nelson Rockefeller of New York State," he said.

Rockefeller had topped the vice presidential speculation from the start. There was one surprise in the proceedings: word of Ford's selection never leaked out until he announced it.

Before making his announcement, Ford met with congressional leaders and the Cabinet.

ingness to negotiate a withdrawal from part of the 40 per cent of Cyprus its troops have occupied.

—Turkish troops that pushed south of Nicosia over the weekend held their positions but made no significant advances. Little fighting was reported Monday.

—The Turks in Famagusta handed over 150 Greek Cypriots to United Nations forces. Most were women, children and elderly men who had been left in the east coast port city when most of the Greek Cypriots fled before the Turkish advance.

—A U.N. economic team said Nicosia was critically short of water, and several parts of the city were without water because of broken pumps.

Davies was killed by sniper fire during a wild, anti-American demonstration by 300 to 600 Greek Cypriots who accused the U.S. government of siding with Turkey.

At his news conference, Rockefeller seemed at pains to emphasize that he would play a distinctly subordinate role in the vice presidency.

Some had speculated that the stature and manner of a Rockefeller might cut into the Ford limelight. But Rockefeller said he came to the job cognizant of the fact that a vice president presides over the Senate and does what the President tells him to do.

"I will look forward to that opportunity of serving him in any way that can be useful to him," Rockefeller said.

Rockefeller said he had no detailed understanding with Ford as to exactly what he will be assigned to do as vice president.

"The role of a vice president totally depends on the President," Rockefeller said. "If the President wants to use him, wonderful. If he doesn't, fine."

Rockefeller said he does expect to go on the campaign circuit for Republican candidates this fall.

Rockefeller has long been identified with the more liberal wing of the Republican Party, although he has in recent years taken positions more attuned to the conservative viewpoint, particularly on problems of crime and welfare.

When he was a candidate in his own right, Rockefeller always had spurned talk of possible vice presidential nomination. But he said times have changed now, there are very difficult problems to be faced "and the solution of them is going to involve and require all of the people of this country . . .

"... I have been privileged to serve my country and the State of New York and so I am in a position of relaxed desire to be helpful to this nation in any way that I can," he said.

Democrats fail to bring off reconciliation

Tuesday, Aug. 20, 1974 A-3
The Post-Crescent, Appleton-Neenah-Menasha, Wis. restore the fragile spirit of compromise
An indication of his course came Monday when he called the walkout a publicity tactic by the black who led the move. California Assemblyman Willie Brown Jr.
"Willie Brown came here on Friday — remember that — and he told the press then he'd be walking out. He felt he had to do something. He's in political trouble in his own state," Strauss said.
The Democrats would be in dire trouble without the coalition of labor, blacks, liberals, the women's movement, the intellectual community and the various other groups which traditionally have formed the national party.

BY DON McLEOD
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After two years of trying to settle their reform controversy, Democrats are back to the same kind of hair pulling strife which tore the party apart in 1972.
Probably the last chance to salvage the party's reconciliation effort in time for the 1976 presidential year will come this December at the first mid-term Party Conference, a miniaturized version of the national convention.
It may be too late to restore unity for this year's elections in the wake of a walkout by blacks, women and white liberals from the final meeting of the Democratic Charter Commission on Sunday. They charged that party "regulars" were bent on an item-by-item overhaul of reform efforts.
The disenchanted reform wing left threatening to retaliate in the fall by withholding support from some Democratic candidates.
Although the party regulars outvoted the more avid reformers by three to one at the commission's closing session in Kansas City, the balance will be much closer at the conference in December.
Ironically, the blowup which derailed party chairman Robert S. Strauss's unity campaign was brought on by efforts to push through modifications he felt would avert just such a split.
The Strauss-backed changes were aimed at giving the reformers some of what they wanted but not enough to alienate the regulars, who are still smarting over the McGovern Commission rules that kept many of them from the 1972 convention in Miami Beach.
But once the rollback got started and the regular labor conservative bloc saw how much muscle it had, Strauss's lieutenants lost control and were unable to stop it.

the ghost of the 1972 quotas.
The black members protested when the regulars began chipping away at this article. The Kansas City commission voted to report four alternatives to the mid-term conference which must now make the painful choice.
The alternatives range from required quotas to virtually no requirement to encourage minority participation.
The more moderate members wanted to report the draft charter to the December conference as it then stood.
But the labor forces, encouraged by their strength and angered by black and liberal threats of a walkout, pressed on. First they knocked out a plank that would allow the national party to establish criteria for participation in the Democratic party.
Then they introduced an amendment that would have strengthened among other things the ban on the unit rule which allows a majority of a delegation to cast all of the group's votes.
This is what brought the walkout and with less than a quorum remaining, chairman Terry Sanford was forced to adjourn the meeting, saying the charter as it then stood would be forwarded to the December conference.
What Strauss has to do between now and December is either to take sides and let the losers take a walk or try to ### Irish children visit U.S.

There has been something of a dispute over the heart-warming visits of 120 children from Northern Ireland to the United States this summer.

Mrs. Sarah Hughes, who sent her own son from Belfast to America a year ago, says that the money spent by a Minnesota Rotary Club could better have been used to set up camps for the children away from danger in their own country.

Mrs. Hughes has a point. Undoubtedly more children in Ulster could have been given a respite from the constant fear they face in some parts of Northern Ireland. There is always the danger, too, that promotions such as the transportation of the 120 youngsters to this country wind up benefitting the givers rather than the youngsters. After all, the children must go home again and finding out how youngsters live in less terror-filled parts of the world won't necessarily help them face the problems in their own communities. This sometimes seems to be a handicap of projects in the United States that take inner core children to small towns and the country for a few weeks. The cities are just as dirty when they go back.

However, there are advantages for the Irish youngsters over and above the excitement of the transatlantic trip and the variety of special events they have enjoyed during the stay in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Religious antagonism is not the whole cause of the troubles that plague Belfast and which have led to the more than 1,000 violent deaths. But religious differences and fears have been exploited for the purpose of violence. The children have had an opportunity to enjoy a few weeks where religion no longer can be so used. We may sometimes deplore the lack of religious influence in the secular United States but there are advantages too.

Had the children been sent to camps within Northern Ireland, they most certainly would have been segregated as Roman Catholics or Protestants because they would have been in danger from the terrorists otherwise.

Americans have their own fears and dangers. But physical violence because of religion is not one of them.

Rediscovering the Indian

One of the major waves of book publishing in the United States this year offers a flood of substantial works about and by Indians and the life of the peoples we now describe, in the euphemism of our times, as "native Americans."

An illustration of the confidence of publishers about the extent and concern of their audience is the giant, four-volume history of the American Indian offered by one major publisher at the ambitious price of $110. Encompassing 3,119 pages, it surely validates the view of one literary critic who felicitously described this as "the year of the Indian." With a major emphasis upon the relationship of the native Indian to the government of the United States, it will be an indispensable reference work for historians for decades ahead.

Distinguished among the book publishers in this field is the noncommercial book press of the University of Oklahoma which has been the sponsor of the respected series of works under the title of "Civilization of the American Indian." It has added two new titles to the series this year.

But the most dramatic, and probably most marketable as well, are the numerous titles covering the military experience of the Indians as American settlers moved west with the post-Civil War army of the United States in the vanguard. That army had the implicit mission, as the scholar's consensus now asserts, of exterminating the Indians of the West.

As Robert M. Utley writes in his new study entitled "Frontier Regulars," the major mission of the post-war army in the 19th century was the extermination of the Indians. Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman, the hero of Atlanta in the siege of the victorious Union Army, assumed command of the western army regulars in 1866. His "military domain," as it is characterized, extended from the Mississippi to the Rockies, and from Texas to the Canadian border. Before the end of the century the Indian wars had ended, and the Indians had been destroyed or confined to reservations.

As one of our favorite reviewers puts it, the Utley study dares to tell the truth about those years and the tragic events they encompassed that have been glossed over by earlier historical students of the period.

"The frontier Regulars saw themselves as the advance guard of civilization, sweeping aside the savage to make way for the stockman, the miner, the farmer and the merchant," the author writes in a book that is being hailed as providing such truthful detail as "to astonish the patriot and to amaze the pious."

Seat belt nonsense

Maybe we're getting sensible again.

The House of Representatives has approved a comprehensive motor vehicle and school bus safety bill. The bill covers emergency exits from buses, floor strengths and requirements as to frames, windows, windshields and fuel systems among its regulations.

It also repeals the requirement for an interlock system in new automobiles, which Representative James Collins said, "was something left over from Chinese water torture." The interlock means that cars cannot be started unless seat belts are fastened. It also provides for that horrible buzzing.

Regulations are sometimes necessary to keep foolish people from doing themselves harm. Above all, full information about dangers — such as from the use of tobacco — should be available. Food, drug and pesticides should be carefully labeled as to their uses and contents and dangerous substances should be so noted. People who don't wear seat belts should know that statistics prove they are taking a risk.

But it is a long way from providing such information to forcing individuals to take the more prudent path by law. And the mandatory installation of buzzing and no-start systems is over and above the responsibility of government. Besides it may be counter-productive. Annoyances or even rage at the noise when a bag of groceries is put on the side seat could well inspire an automobile operator to speed and brake recklessly to relieve his fury and frustration.

Now how about published instructions on how to detach the interlock systems already installed?

State's life insurance business booming

MADISON — When the bulky annual report of the state insurance commissioner was distributed to Capitol correspondents and others a few days ago, the media as usual responded with another flurry of free publicity for one of the unique proprietary business operations of the state.

The document showed that the state life insurance fund, founded more than 60 years ago when the populist movement in politics in the Midwest and Northwest was creating, has been enlarging its clientele at an unusually strong pace. The state's life insurance operation is a tiny one, measured against commercial competition, but on the face of it more customers are being attracted.

Several reporters telephoned Stanley Du Rose, the commissioner who is the head of the fund by law, and asked about the reason.

The reason, he remarked realistically, is the gratuitous publicity promotion enjoyed by the fund several times a year when a new reporter is assigned to the statehouse and learns to his surprise that the state is in the life insurance business. Certain that he has made a unique discovery, he writes an article about the fund that is headlined again.

This unique service business of the state, competing in a market that to the naked eye has a plethora of commercial services, dates from the McGovern administration of 1911 which in many other ways reflected militantly liberal causes.

Francis McGovern is Gov. Patrick Lucey's favorite predecessor. His framed portrait hangs in a place of honor in the governor's inner office. When he was inaugurated nearly four years ago, he proclaimed McGovern as his model predecessor, which was a useful lesson in Wisconsin history to many listeners that day.

Conventional political piety has always held that it was "Old Bob" LaFollette who was the sole author of the advances and innovations and departures from tradition of the first part of this century.

Actually, the record shows, but few teachers relate and few students therefore are aware, that McGovern, although himself a product of the LaFollette victory over the regulars in Republican politics in his time, was a more prolific achiever as governor than is commonly realized.

The idea of the state offering life insurance in competition with private enterprise was more plausible then. It was a period of life insurance mismanagement and lurid scandals. The idea was that a state fund should be a yardstick for the insurance buyer. Notwithstanding, management has always been cautious. There are no sales agents. There has never been an advertising budget. The basic clientele consists of state civil servants and their friends and relatives recruited through word-of-mouth advertising.

More than six decades after its launching there are only 12,000 policies in force, which is negligible in Madison where the state is the primary employer. Assets of slightly more than $10 million, after the boomlet in sales in recent years, makes it one of the smallest insurers in the life market.

At intervals over the years there have been bills in the legislature suggesting the abolition of the life fund. Mostly they were publicity exercises for ambitious politicians. Once when there was serious support from the private insurance industry a repeal measure failed, nevertheless.

The commercial proprietors then evidently concluded that they had blundered in calling to the attention of thousands of potential clients an alternative insurance operation that few were aware existed. Others appreciated that "abolition" of such a service is not realistically attainable.

Even if sales halted tomorrow, the fund would survive for half a century, or longer, pending the death of the more recent insureds.

"HUBERT, THIS IS THE FIRST TIME I'VE SEEN YOU WITH YOUR MOUTH SHUT."

The prisoner of San Clemente

The American Bar Association has voted unanimously that no bill of immunity should be passed for the exclusive protection of Richard Nixon. One could hardly have expected anything else, save possibly, under the professionally pressing circumstances of the past few years, a motion to recommend a law limiting the number of lawyers that can be sent to jail in any single year.

Obviously the Nixon problem is not, at this stage, a lawyer's problem. And anything that approaches an attempt to codify a solution to the Nixon problem has the effect of retarding a solution to the Nixon problem. The whole idea of executive clemency is that the law should be transcended. You cannot, by logical definition, pass a law to transcend a law. The whole point of the exercise is lost. What is required is that an individual should go out on a limb and say: To suggest that "Nixon has suffered enough" is hugely to underestimate what has happened to him. His mortification is a continuing punishment. The probabilities are that on his deathbed, he will be an unhappy man. To put him behind bars, under circumstances, is not to "punish" him more, it is to achieve formalistic juridical satisfaction at the expense of acquiring for the country the reputation for a finicky vindictiveness that does us discredit.

Concerning the usual objections, a few observations:

1. It is true that Nixon's subordinates have already suffered jail, some of them; and that others are about to go to jail. These should be separated into two categories. One category is the absolutely straightforward offense of accepting bribes, cheating on one's taxes, that kind of thing. Those who did that kind of thing and are at the dock should proceed anonymously to meet their fate. Those others whose crime has been complicity in the cover-up and involvement in the Watergate break-in, should be tried, convicted (if the evidence so indicates) and given suspended 30-day sentences.

Here the lawyers might have paused to consider the awful meaning of disbarment. Surely it is proper for the legal community to punish its members under certain circumstances, and it is true, that that community's failure to punish its members when they are acting as obstructionists of the law (one thinks of the behavior of William Kunstler during the wild years) is more typical of bar associations than disbarment proceedings. But to say to such as John Ehrlichman that they are disbarred and cannot practice their profession for the rest of their lives is, well, cruel and inhuman. It is like saying to a writer who writes one libelous article that he may never again put pen to paper.

2. Why is it right to decline to prosecute Nixon, having proceeded to prosecute his subordinates? To answer that question clinically, you just have to tear yourself away from the absolutization of republican principles. It is okay to go about saying: No one is above the law. But that is only mostly true. Our presidents are expected to take certain risks, and generations of them have done so. Quod licet Iovi, non licet bovi. (What is permitted divine is not permitted swine.) The risks Richard Nixon took were for tawdry motives, and he has been punished as surely as Napoleon was punished when his empire was taken away from him. But they didn't take Napoleon out and shoot him, even though he had led, in his disastrous campaigns, hundreds of thousands of men to their deaths. We were shocked, not satisfied, at the execution of Nicholas II.

3. We are in search of the mechanics of granting effective immunity. Here Nixon could help us. First by undertaking to write a full and frank account of his role in the cover-up, and giving it to Congress. Among other things, this would deprive him of huge commercial returns he might have from a commercial publisher.

And—a gesture by Nixon—he might announce that it is his intention not to stray physically from the premises of San Clemente for one year. Those Secret Service men would then, in effect, not only be there to prevent outsiders from going in, but insiders from going out. I cannot believe that, if at this point Leon Jaworski announced that he did not intend to prosecute Nixon, there would be a murmur of protest, except from the fever swamps of vindictiveness.

But as I say, at this point, we need a gesture from Nixon.

100 YEARS AGO

Appleton Crescent, Aug. 8, 1874.

BAD BUSINESS—We heard that on Sunday last, a crowd of people took a steamboat excursion from Oshkosh to Menasha and there had a picnic dinner, that in the party were many roughs and rowdies, that this class behaved so unruly that a serious row developed between them and Menashites, the latter hurling stones, and the former replying with a few revolver shots.

Several persons were seriously injured. It was a very disgraceful affair, and demonstrates that Sunday after noon excursions, or pic-nics, or visits, should never be held except when liquor is positively excluded from the grounds.

25 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Aug. 16, 1949.

Andrew Parnell was general chairman of the state convention in Appleton of the Wisconsin Elks Association.

Keith Luesch, Clintonville golfer, won the championship of the North Central Golf Association that season. The tournament was held on the Clintonville course. Dick Johnson, Waupaca, was defending champion.

Don Davis was first place winner in the Outdoor Print contest held by the Winnebago Camera Club. Others on the order of their wins were Ralph Eickert, Peter Jung and Harold Day.

10 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Aug. 18, 1964.

Peter Dohr, son of Judge and Mrs. Raymond P. Dohr, Appleton, and newly graduated from the University of Wisconsin Law School, was to serve as law clerk in the office of Justice Nathan S. Heffernan, new member of the Wisconsin State Supreme Court.

Russell Williams, Oshkosh attorney, was elected governor of the Wisconsin Upper Michigan District of Kiwanis International.

Six Appleton upperclasswomen at the University of Wisconsin-Madison were named student guides during the University Orientation week. They were Barbara Hertel, Judith Ann Jenkins, Ede M. Kellogg, Susan Knoke, Key Menning and Lorraine Vinger.
